Vasil C. Graville 'Amvet of the Year'

Vasil C. Graville, Madison, was chosen "Amvet of the Year" for 1975 and presented a plaque at the Amvet Post 204 meeting in Madison Thursday.

Charge two in Sauget

Lloyd Nagle, 21, of 2125 Lincoln Ave., and John Overturn, 21, of Madison, have been charged by Sauget police with two counts of burglary each in connection with a burglary at Jim's Pub in Sauget and an adjoining mobile home Jan. 3. Their bond was set at $10,000 each. Nagle was arrested in Granite City Jan. 5 after his auto allegedly pulled in front of a police car. He was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way, not having his car registration and having fictitious license plates. County officials charged Overturn. Both were taken to Sauget and have been held in the St. Clair County Jail at Belleville.

Unemployment main issue, McPike says

Jim McPike, Alton, Democratic candidate for state representative in the 56th legislative district, said this week that officeholders and candidates for public office must address themselves to important issues facing the people of Illinois.

"The most pressing problem facing us today is unemployment," McPike said. "While economists and government statisticians complain about the accuracy of job figures, over eight million Americans search for jobs," he said.

"While the government worries about inflation and corporate profit, 500,000 men and women in Illinois are suffering the very real pains of a depression," McPike added. McPike said that "we cannot close our eyes and pretend unemployment will disappear. Positive steps must be taken to get our economy moving."

McPike continued, "I propose WPA type programs to put people back to work, one-time tax rebates to employers for hiring workers within 30 days, and immediate government recognition of unemployment as public enemy No. 1."

He concluded that "a dynamic economy at full employment is one of the greatest safeguards of democracy."

State police disclaim part in ad sales

The Illinois State Police reported this week that an organization, the Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 41, is involved in the publication of a quarterly magazine entitled "The Trooper."

Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, commander of the State Police District which is headquartered at Maryville and which includes Bond, Clinton, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Madison, Monroe, Montgomery, and St. Clair Counties, said that the Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 41, currently has representatives soliciting for advertising space from businesses in Illinois.

Captain Bertagnoli said that while state troopers comprise the membership of Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 41, the operation is not in any way related to the Illinois State Police.

"We have long had a policy forbidding the solicitation of funds from the public by Illinois State Troopers," said Bertagnoli. "The Illinois State Police does not encourage businesses to participate in any advertising or other fund raising efforts by organizations."

Rose resigns

John Rose, 3921e Village Lane, administrative assistant to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler since Dec. 1, 1974, will leave Illinois after tomorrow to become a planner in the Missouri Office of Administration, Division of Budget and Planning. He will begin his duties for Missouri Governor Kit Bond Monday.

The award is made by Amvet Post 204 every year to a member, selected by a special committee, who has rendered service to the organization "above and beyond the call of duty."

Graville, commonly called "The Old Road Runner" by his fellow comrades because he is constantly on the run, currently is commander of Post 204.

Commander Graville, after thanking the group for the honor, reminded them that Sunday, Jan. 25, will be the annual pinocchio tournament, beginning at 2 p.m., with John Kubbons in charge.

He also said that on Saturday, Feb. 28, the post will hold another "Beef and Keef" dinner with William Papa and Thomas Brunie in charge. Graville emphasized that members must sign up in advance to participate in the dinner.

Stanley Skubish and John Kozack announced that the annual Amvet golf tournament will be held at the Arlington Golf Club on Sunday, April 25.

The Madison post will host the Amvet 5th Division meeting beginning at 2 p.m. on Sunday, March 7, and that Sunday, Feb. 1, beginning at 8 a.m., will be "clean up" day at the post home, according to Graville.

The commander thanked the Ladies Social Club of the post for distributing food baskets at Christmas time.

New members introduced Thursday were Warren Gaul, Kenneth McMullen, his father, Henry McMullen, and Thomas Paikus.

Membership Chairman Joseph Papa asked members to pay their 1975 dues before the division meeting March 7, so that the post can report a 100 per cent renewal.

Mrs. Closson dies at home

Mrs. Geraldine (Wofford) Closson, 49, of 2044 Hayes St., Charleston, Ill., formerly of Madison, died at 4:45 p.m., Tuesday at her home following an illness of one year.

Mrs. Closson was born and reared in Madison until 1946 when she and her family moved to Charleston.

Survivors include her husband, Harley Closson; two sons, James Closson serving with the U. S. Navy at Great Lakes, Ill., and Larry Closson of Charleston; two sisters, Mrs. Beatrice McGee of Collinsville and Mrs. Veda Eller of Madison; a brother, Earl Wofford of Granite City; three grandchildren; and nieces and nephews in the Quad-City area.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

March of Dimes road block is planned Saturday

A road block will be set up from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue to collect donations for the March of Dimes campaign, it was announced by Mrs. Elvera Stagner, Madison chairman.

Mrs. Stagner reports members of the Madison Junior Service Club will be participating at the road block and will also collect at the corner of Schermer's Market, 1125 Madison Avenue.

BAC classes still open at Madison

The Madison Extension Center of Belleville Area College will continue to register students for general studies courses through Thursday, Jan. 22, according to Charles Steptoe, Madison BAC coordinator.

Classes at the Madison, Venice and Granite City BAC centers will start Monday.

Persons wishing to attend any of the 43 General Studies courses at the Madison Center may register between the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday at the Madison Senior High School, Sixth and Farrish streets.

Child care services for youngsters between the ages of 4 and 9 years will be available during the class sessions at Madison, Steptoe said.

PROGRAM ON HYPNOSIS
The Student Activities Committee will present Larry Garrett, Mr. Hypnosis, on Thursday, Jan. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the theater at Belleville Area College. He has appeared on over 80 radio and TV programs, teaches hypnosis at Wright College and works in conjunction with physicians in the Chicago area in therapeutic hypnosis.

Seek Miss GC candidates

Granite City Jaycees will sponsor the Miss Granite City Pageant on Friday evening, April 16, and are seeking local young women as candidates, Mike Bledsoe, Jaycee president announced today.

Owen Ross, a past Jaycee president and chairman of the 1975 pageant, will serve in the same capacity this year, Bledsoe said.

Ross called the pageant committee's first formal meeting Monday night at the Jaycee Clubhouse, 1855 Poplar St., and reported the auditorium at Granite City High School South has been secured for the traditional contest.

Prospective candidates are required to be single and between the ages of 18 and 28 years. Girls interested in becoming a contestant are invited to contact Ross, at 877-2396, for further information.

Family members and organizations also are being encouraged to suggest possible candidates, Ross advised.

Winners of the Miss Granite City Pageant will receive personal gifts and an all-expense-paid trip to Aurora, site of the 1976 Miss Illinois Pageant, scheduled to take place July 19 to July 24.

The reigning Miss Granite City is Melanie Asadorian. Pageant committee members attending this week's meeting were Guy Cooper, Bill Weigle, John Jones, Frank Woods, Dave Gannon, Don Vaughn, Ed Gannon and Jerry Mann.

What is good about America?

By JOHN PINKERMAN

Many Americans have wrung their hands in recent years over what they have considered the failures of their country. Vietnam, Watergate, the presidency of Richard Nixon. This has been an understandable exercise in personal and public conscience.

However, as we move into the nation's 200th birthday, the time would seem to be right to reflect on what is good about America and what good the nation may have accomplished in current and recent times. In that context, the words of a man prominent in public life might be appropriate at this particular time.

Rudolph Chizek dies at 63

Rudolph "Rudy" Chizek, 63, of 2225 Cottage Ave., became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 11 a.m., Wednesday.

A lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, he served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Mr. Chizek was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Catherine "Kitty" Chizek, three sisters, Mrs. Gabrielle Betinec of Chicago, Mrs. Peter (Olga) Schuette of Brees, Ill., and Miss Marian Chizek of Madison.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

extricably linked. In this spirit, the United States promoted the economic and political recovery of Western Europe and Japan. We pioneered in arms control so that the specter of global catastrophe might never become a reality. We and our partners built a cooperative global economic system so that prosperity could be the common heritage of all mankind.

"We have mediated conflicts and helped settle problems from the Middle East to Berlin."

"At the beginning of this decade we faced a number of urgent tasks."

"I. We were bogged down in a war (Vietnam) that we could not win and seemingly could not end."

"2. For 20 years we had isolated ourselves from China—in other words, from one quarter of the human race."

"3. Our relations with the Soviet Union were characterized by constant tension and confrontation on the access routes to Berlin, in the Middle East and in the Caribbean."

"4. Diplomatic relations with most Arab states were broken and progress toward peace in the Middle East was stalemated."

"5. The new strength and vitality of Europe and Japan required major adjustments in the practices and responsibilities of the previous two decades."

"We have come a long way in the first half of this decade. ... We have ended our isolation from China. In U.S.-Soviet relations, in place of continual crises there are continuing negotiations—in arms control, economic relations and international issues. These negotiations give both sides a stake in peace and have lessened the chances that great-power confrontations will lead to nuclear Armageddon."

"In the Middle East we have started to pay and some just stubborn, said Richard Cosby, attorney general's head of the environmental control division."

Another $106,000 in penalties are being assessed. More have been declared uncollectible or have been vacated by court order.

Cosby said because of a recent reorganization of his office, the backlog in unpaid fines will be eliminated by March.

The Springfield office is understaffed and overworked, he said, and let many unpaid downstate fines languish while the attorneys worked on new cases.

In recent days, however, Chicago attorneys have taken over some of the workload and gone to court to force payment.

The polluters who don't pay, Cosby said, "are usually those without money." He assumes that's the reason two brothers fined $25 each in 1972 have yet to pay.

Only one man ever has been sent to jail, Cosby said, and that was when a judge ordered him to appear in court.

A local sheriff picked him up the night before and locked him up for the night.

Larger collectors generally pay on time, Cosby said, since the fines are more of a bother than a financial hardship.

The exception appears to be the Sears Roebuck and Co., which was fined when air-borne and illegal asbestos happened to fall on a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency official walking past the Sears Tower construction site.

Cosby said the delay in paying the fine apparently was a slip-up in communications between the Sears attorney and the company.

The largest fine the Board ever levied was against Granite City Steel. The $150,000 penalty was paid to the University of Illinois for an environmental scholarship fund.

That's the only scholarship fund ever established with pollution fines, Cosby said, because other state universities complained about the money going only to the U of I.

All other fines are paid into the state's general revenue fund, which pays for the day-to-day operations of government. In the event a polluter causes a fish kill, he is fined for the value of the fish and the money is deposited in the Fish and Game Fund, which has received more than $51,000 in such penalties since 1971.

Fines vary with the make-up of the board, noted PCB chairman Jacob Dumelle.

"Two years ago, the board was a little on the low fine side, from my perspective," he said. "The new board seems to be going the other way."

Part of the increase in the amount of the penalties is due to inflation, Dumelle added.

"What would have rated a $1,000 fine in 1970 should be $1,500 now," he said.

The fines, Dumelle explained, are not supposed to be punitive, but act as a deterrent to potential polluters and show the guilty polluter the Board means business.

Polluter fines top $100,000

SPRINGFIELD —

Crime doesn't pay, they say, but then, neither do some criminal polluters.

Since the Illinois Pollution Control Board began slapping fines on polluters in mid-1970, more than $1.5 million in penalties have been levied.

But the attorney general's office, the Board's collection agency has more than $113,000 in delinquent fines, some dating back to early 1971.

Most of these unpaid fines belong to small polluters, some unable to pay and some just stubborn, said Richard Cosby, attorney general's head of the environmental control division.

Another $106,000 in penalties are being assessed. More have been declared uncollectible or have been vacated by court order.

Cosby said because of a recent reorganization of his office, the backlog in unpaid fines will be eliminated by March.

Urges amendment to end 'abuses' in legislature

Joanne Alter, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Illinois lieutenant governor, on Tuesday criticized her opponent, Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, for not taking a stand on reforming abuses in the Illinois legislature.

On a one-day statewide trip, Mrs. Alter announced her strong support for cleaning up such abuses through the Illinois Political Honesty Initiative. "This constitutional amendment will end forever the disgraceful practices of some of our state legislators who have indulged in double-dipping and blatant conflicts of interest. It will also end the waste of paying their total salaries in advance."

Mrs. Alter made her statement at several airport news conferences throughout the state. She visited Chicago, Rockford, Rock Island, Peoria, Springfield, East St. Louis and Champaign.

Bids opened for Madison paving job

C. D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City was the apparent low bidder on a State Department of Transportation project for resurfacing Collinsville Avenue from Madison Avenue to McCambridge Avenue in Madison, including storm sewers, curbs, gutters and sidewalks.

The firm bid $34,256 for the construction work. The bid was included in apparent low bids totaling $2,852,329 opened by the DOT at Springfield yesterday. Others included a bid of $167,668 by R. Dron Electrical Co. of Granite City for modernization of traffic signals at various intersections on State Street and Martin Luther King Drive in East St. Louis.

Fusco Fabricators of Dixon, Ill., bid $1,119,000 for steelplate beam guardrails and ramp traffic control signals along Interstate 70 from St. Clair Avenue in East St. Louis to Troy.

When contacted the following day, Bell said the weather was too cold and told the worker not to report until notified, the board was told.

"We demand to know why we are off work and for how long," the worker said.

Bell told the Press-Record he has been using his foreman and mechanic for duties inside the highway department garage, and has told "about seven" employees not to report for work because the ground is frozen.

"You can't clear ditches or do much else when the ground is frozen," he said.

Asked whether Manpower grant employees also have been told not to report for work, Bell said he has only one Manpower worker and this individual has been ill and on leave for some time.

One highway department worker contended there are six full-time employees and two Manpower grant employees, including one on accident leave.

Bell said he will recall the workers if the weather becomes warmer. "I have the work, if the weather would let us do it," he told the Press-Record.

He admitted some highway accounts are low on money and will remain low or depleted until March 1, when the new fiscal year begins, but said the weather is the only factor keeping him from calling the men back to work.

Bell said he resented the issue being brought before the Town Board, commenting, "The board has no say over it whatsoever."

The highway workers said they have contacted their union and are waiting for a meeting with Bell and a request that he meet with Bell and attempt to reach an understanding.

Maryville PTA to hear TV education

Gerald Hutton from KETC-TV Channel 9, the public broadcasting station, will be guest speaker at Maryville School PTA meeting at 7 p.m. Monday.

Hutton will speak on television education. All parents are being urged to attend and participate in a discussion following his presentation, PTA officers said.

Plans for the general meeting Monday were finalized this week at an executive planning session at the school. Michel O'Shea, vice president, was in charge.

One of the costliest aspects of these legislative abuses cited for reform is advance pay. Mrs. Alter said, "It is estimated that this advance pay arrangement costs the state at least $25,000 in lost interest each legislative session."

She said she's against legislators being able to draw their salary from a year to two years in advance. "Who has ever heard of a factory worker or sales clerk getting an entire year's salary in advance?"

"But in Springfield a legislator can draw one or even two years' salary in advance," Mrs. Alter said. "I think taxpayers are entitled to know where Neil Hartigan stands on this issue, as well as the issue of double-dipping and conflicts of interest."

Mrs. Alter noted that at no time during Hartigan's term as Mayor Daley's administrative assistant or Illinois lieutenant governor has he attempted to use the prestige of his offices to correct legislative abuses.

"For too long," said Mrs. Alter, "the people of this state have helplessly watched their elected representative continue these abuses. This year, for the first time in Illinois history, the voters have an opportunity to reform their legislature."

The process for reforming the legislature through a citizen initiative was created by the 1970 Constitutional Convention, although these changes are limited solely to the procedures and structure of the legislature.

Another abuse Mrs. Alter would like to see stopped is double-dipping. She said there's no reason that some legislators should be on a second public payroll in addition to their $20,000 annual legislative salary.

"Double-dipping is a flagrant method of raiding the public treasury for political payoffs. It is primarily a practice of the Chicago machine for rewarding loyalty," Mrs. Alter said.

She also lashed out at legislators who have conflicts of interest, and she called on Neil Hartigan to say how he feels about this abuse.

"The business of conflicts of interest is mind-boggling. Under the Political Honesty Initiative, we could achieve a constitutional reform which would make it illegal for a legislator with a personal financial stake in a bill to vote on the bill."

"A legislator with a personal stake in a bill would also have to disclose his conflict of interest. I wonder if Mr. Hartigan agrees. Surely as a public official and a former director of a savings and loan in Chicago, Mr. Hartigan must understand the dangers of conflicts of interest in the legislature."

Mrs. Alter said the Political Honesty Initiative will be an integral part of her campaign. To emphasize her support, she pledged her office would make petitions available to those interested in signing. She said anyone who wants a petition or is eager to learn more about the initiative is welcome to contact her headquarters. The address is Citizens for Alter, Room 202 East Jackson, Chicago, Ill., 60604.

Mrs. Alter concluded her statement saying, "These reforms can be accomplished. We need 375,000 names on petitions in order to get these amendments on the ballot. I urge all Illinois voters to join me in this effort."

Mrs. Alter, 46, is the mother of four children who range in age from 21 to 13. Her husband Jim is a Chicago businessman.

Long active in Illinois Democratic politics, Mrs. Alter has served on several governmental boards, and founded and co-convoked of the 1971 Illinois Democratic Women's Caucus.

In her current campaign for lieutenant governor, she has received the endorsement of the Independent Voters of Illinois (IVI) and the Evanston Democratic Party.

He proposed extending collective bargaining rights to all public employees, and urged a constitutional amendment to permit merit selection of judges.

Gov. Walker said his budget message to the General Assembly yesterday predicted a June 30 general balance of $100 million and called for inappropriate services without a tax increase.

He urged emphasis on personal safety and open government, with tighter ethics laws. His talk was heard in silence.

Many already signed for July 3 parade

The old saying "Everyone loves a parade" is proving true as many organizations already have signed up to participate in the Quad-City Bicentennial parade on Saturday, July 3.

"We are issuing an open invitation for everyone to participate and I sincerely hope that all Quad-City organizations will be represented in the parade," Donald Adams, chairman of the Bicentennial Parade Committee said.

A parade float kit and information are available from Richard Chosich at 876-6487.

Members of the Parade Committee, in addition to Adams, are C. R. Green and Mrs. Winnie Sasyk of Madison, Mrs. Margaret Lee and William E. Griggs of Venice, Donald Patrick and Mrs. Mary Warren of Pontoon Beach and Thomas Hundley and Kaymar Burton, both of Granite City.

Joins Air Force

Jeff Wittig, son of H. Earl Wittig, 2315 Emert Ave., enlisted in the United States Air Force Tuesday, according to Staff Sgt. Michael C. Kimberlin, local recruiter.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Alvan Wittig flew to Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, for six weeks of basic training. The 1972 graduate of Granite City South High School has accepted a job as an Air Traffic Control Specialist.

After basic training, he will attend the Keesler Air Force Base Technical Training Center in Biloxi, Miss., for 30 weeks. He will learn the job of working in the control tower and the operation of radar scopes for information to pilots in bad weather conditions.

South volleyball girls in district semifinals

Top-seeded Granite City High School South is two games away from capturing the girls' volleyball district title at Dupu. Coach Wilma Schulze's South High Girls entered the meet with a 6-2 record, drew a first-round bye as competition began Monday, and then upended East St. Louis Lincoln Tuesday 20-12 and 20-4.

GCHS South will meet Collinsville at 7 o'clock tonight in semifinal competition. East St. Louis Lincoln and GCHS North opened the tournament Monday, the Lincoln squad prevailing 20-18 and 20-13, to eliminate the North High girls from the tournament. North now has a 3-1 season record.

North High players who participated this season in the volleyball program were Kim Turner, Vickie Cottrell, Diane Shrum, Cindy Starr, Mary Thomas, Chris Werthe, Pam Church, Tammy Ambuehl, Schellby Connor, Terri Bloomquist, Tina Taylor, Jane Marshall, Margie Verschul, Lisa Wright and Mary Bequette.

In a second opening-round contest Monday, East St. Louis Senior High defeated Madison 20-9 and 20-14, resulting in Coach Lavenia Long's Madison High girls being eliminated from further competition with an 0-5 mark.

Participants this season in Madison's program were Robin Dutko, Regina London, Alecia Jones, Debra Shearry, Lucretia Garrett, Rachell Taylor and Sheila Woodson.

Collinsville advanced into tonight's semifinal contest against South High by winning Tuesday over East St. Louis Assumption, 20-12 and 20-18.

The winner of today's GCHS South-Collinsville contest will play for the tournament title at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Players participating for South High are Tammie Depew, Debbie Barnes, Danna Depew, Paula Wise, Robin Deterding, Pam Meszaros, Theresa Hayes, Mary Livingston, Donna Macios, Marsha Diak, Carla Knezevich and Delores Dochwat.

The district champion will play in sectional competition Tuesday, Jan. 20, at Mount Olive.

The sectional titlist will advance to super-sectional play at Bellevue West Tuesday, Jan. 27, with the victor there competing in state finals Jan. 30-31 at Illinois State University at Normal.

Team effort emphasized by junior high mat teams

Although junior high school wrestling involves individual combat against each school's opposing wrestler, team work remains the key to tournament victories, as demonstrated during the weekend at Prather Junior High.

Team points are generated by individual wrestlers' pins, decisions and ties. Other than the weight class champions, listed Monday, those who finished well in the competition include: Pat Whelan (75 pounds) of Grigsby third; Paul Willis (82) of Coolidge second; Jeff Tinsley (90) of Prather second; and Tom Busch of Grigsby third.

Phil Beljanski (98) of Coolidge second and Rick Unger of Grigsby third. Victor Peralez (105) of Prather second; Brad Peterson (119) of Coolidge second and Brian McCullough of Grigsby third.

Mike Konzen (126) of Coolidge second; Rich Jones (135) of Coolidge second; Bob Barton (144) of Coolidge second. Tim Wyrostek (170) of Coolidge second and Tom Nance of Grigsby third.

Spirits starting to draw crowds

Coming off the greatest weekend in their 1 1/2 year history, the high-flying Spirits of St. Louis have set their sights on this week on fourth place, the All Star game and still more of the same excitement that created near bedlam at the Arena for the last three games.

After three days off to catch their breaths, the Spirits return to the Arena floor tonight at 8 for another battle against the defending American Basketball Association champion Kentucky Colonels in a game rescheduled from Feb. 8.

Tickets for the Feb. 8 game can be used for tonight's contest. The Kentucky game will be the last home game until Jan. 23, when Indiana comes to the Arena at 8 p.m.

Between those games, the Spirits play three times on the road—at San Antonio Saturday at Kentucky on Tuesday, Jan. 20, and at Virginia on Thursday, Jan. 22.

Kentucky and Indiana are the teams immediately ahead of the sixth-place Spirits, but just 1 1/2 games in front now following three straight victories by the Spirits and five in the last six games.

The Spirits' surge has produced some incredible drama that has sent the three largest crowds of the season for the last three games into near hysteria.

First was a mind-blowing comeback against Denver Dec. 30 when the Spirits outscored the first-place Nuggets 84 in the final 30 seconds, including two baskets in the last eight seconds, for a 106-104 victory before 9,141 fans.

Then, after overcoming a 16-point deficit at Indiana for a 114-112 overtime win over the Pacers, the Spirits gave area basketball fans one of the most exciting weekends in memory.

It began Saturday night against the New York Nets and Julius Erving when they left the largest crowd of the season, 10,201, completely strung out with a double-overtime, 141-130 victory. Dr. J, with 49 points, and Marvin Barnes, with 38, put on a show that will long be remembered. Adding to the entertainment was a celebrity game at halftime.

Coming right back the next night, Sunday, the Spirits went to the final seconds again before overtaking Kentucky 113-111 before the third largest crowd of the season and the largest for a Sunday night, 6,860.

The three home crowds raised the attendance average more than 900 a game to 3,238. The victories brought the Spirits within two games of 500 at 19-21.

And the performances of Barnes and Ron Boone made them virtually shoe-ins for positions on the All Star team that will play the first-place team in Denver on Jan. 27.

Barnes, averaging 28 points and 12.5 rebounds during the last 14 games, has raised his scoring to 23.9 points per outing with 11.6 rebounds a game while shooting 51.7 per cent from the field.

Venice, Marissa in tourney tilt tonight

Defending state Class A basketball champion Venice High School will shoot for its second straight tournament championship this season when the Red Devils take on Marissa at 8:30 tonight in a semifinal contest of the 12th annual Sparta Mid-Winter Classic.

As the tournament's top-seeded team, Venice drew a first-round bye and enters today's game with a 9-1 record, which includes seven straight victories and the annual Freeburg-Columbia Christmas tournament title.

Venice's only loss thus far was to East St. Louis Lincoln, 67-66, in the third game of the 1975-76 season.

Marissa, a first-round 68-62 victor Tuesday over Freeburg at Sparta, has a 7-4 record. Marissa would have clashed with Venice in the Freeburg tourney had it not been for a quarantined loss there.

A victory tonight would advance Venice into the tournament's championship contest Saturday at 9 p.m.; a loss tonight would place the Red Devils in competition for third place Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Host Sparta, with a 9-5 record, defeats Waterloo, 7-4, in another semifinal game tomorrow at 8:30 p.m., with the victor then playing the winner of tonight's Venice-Marissa contest in the championship game.

Sparta reached semifinal competition by knocking off Okaville Monday 61-60 in overtime. Waterloo advanced on a 51-47 win Tuesday over Campbell Hill (Trico).

A consolation bracket contest tonight, at 7 o'clock, between Okaville and Campbell Hill, will precede the Venice-Marissa game.

Freeburg will meet the victor of today's consolation bracket game for consolation honors at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

The Red Devils have garnered in 10 outings 750 points; including 694 from the floor and 96 at the free throw line, to opposing schools' 556 points.

Jaffee Woolford, seeing action for the first season as a Red Devil player after transferring from Lovejoy High School, heads the Red Devils' scoring with 192 points.

Veteran Red Devil Reggie Gardner has 181 points, James Turner 124, James Crowder 100, Ricky Salmond 60, Ronald Salmond 42 and Larriek Arnold 22.

Anthony Wise has tallied eight Venice points, Charles Cotton and Tim Walker seven, Brian Malis six and Venice Gowan, one point.

Miller again heads league; 2 GC teams

During an organizational meeting of the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League this week, Bob Troy's Moonlight Roll Rink, Granite City Ollie Miller was elected second straight term as league president.

Dan Sheehan was named vice-president, Earl Schurman was elected secretary and Henry Hauser was chosen as treasurer.

John Konkovich was named to head the league's board of arbitrators.

Miller announced that Troy has formally withdrawn its participation from the league, and that in the coming season the league will be represented by two baseball teams — Mercer's and a newly-formed team representing the Bob Thomas Mortuary, coached by Adrian Rains of Granite City.

Mercer this season will be coached by either Wendell Corey or Larry Corey.

Other league members are Highland-Pierron, East Alton Vaux, Panama and Fairfax of East Alton.

Miller said league action is scheduled to start Sunday, May 9, and that the league is planning a 45-game season, including 15 doubleheaders.

A second organizational meeting is to be held at the Troy rink at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 8.

GC meets first-place Alton ice hockey team

Player-coach Gary Mainer's Granite City club will attempt to hand the Alton Flames their first loss over in Madison-St. Clair County Junior Ice Hockey League (age 19 and under) action this weekend.

The two clubs will meet on the ice at Wilson Park rink at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Alton leads the league with a 9-0 mark and has a three-year league record of 51-0-1.

Granite City holds down second position in the standings at 7-2. O'Fallon is third at 6-5, Wood River and Collinsville have 2-7 records and Bellevue is 1-8.

Alton and Granite City played to a thrill-packed finish here last month, with the Flames edging the local squad 5-1.

Collinsville and O'Fallon start this weekend's action at 10:30 p.m. tomorrow, and Bellevue and Wood River collide at 10 p.m. Saturday. All contests are held at Wilson Park.

Twelve compete in Pana contest

Twelve Quad-City area boys and girls, ages 8-13, will step to the free-throw line at Pana High School at 10 a.m., Saturday during the third annual National Elks Lodge district "hoop shoot" contest. Winners Saturday will advance into regional competition Feb. 28 at Iowa City, Iowa.

The 12 local youths enter the district meet as a girl and a boy champion and a girl and boy runnerup named in each of three age groups (8-9, 10-11 and 12-13) in local competition here last month sponsored by Elks Lodge 1063.

Competing also at Pana will be representatives from Belleville, Carlinville, Pana, Fairview Heights, Litchfield, and others.

Top bowlers in 16th Jaycee sweepstakes

Winners in the Granite City Jaycees 16th annual "bowling sweepstakes" were announced this week by Ed Gammon and Frank Woods, project co-chairmen.

Trophies and checks were presented to the winners and runners-up in ceremonies at the Jaycee Clubhouse, 1855 Poplar St.

In the men's division, handicapped finishers were: Joe Avedesian, first, Donald Ray, second; and Joe Nemeth and Rich Rae, third (tie). High single scratch score was achieved by Norv Baker, and Bob Remke scored the high three scratch.

Women's division finishers were: Louise Cable, first; Sharon Birschual, second; and Modora Shaw of the Senior Citizens League, third. Dorothy Fuller won the high single scratch trophy and Norma Kossider the high three scratch.

Bill Bauza and Nancy Wigger received consolation awards as "last" place bowlers.

The event took place at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl and Bowland, with 1,500 league bowlers participating.

Proceeds from the sweepstakes are used by the young men's service club to fund charitable projects, including gift baskets and a children's shopping trip at Christmastime.

Channel 9 to resume Zoom series

The popular children's television series "Zoom," produced entirely from ideas sent in from kids across the country, returns to KETC-TV Channel 9 at 5 p.m. Thursdays.

In February, "Zoom" will be telecast each weekday at 5 p.m. "Zoom" is the only nationally telecast series to be produced entirely from the suggestions of 7-to-12 year-olds. The jokes, songs, games, plays and riddles are performed by a cast of Zoomers, who are ordinary kids from the Boston area with no professional training. Since the series first went on the air in 1971, over 1,000,000 pieces of mail have been received by the producers. In 1973, "Zoom" won an Emmy-award for outstanding achievement in children's programming.

Certain "Zoom" programs are captioned for the hearing-impaired.

An Illustrated "Zoom" gamebook is available to Channel 9 members for $3.50 from: Channel 9, 6996 Millbrook Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., 63130.

STEAL STEREO ITEMS

Meehan, Bunker Hill, and Gena Goss, Villa Ridge. Standing are: Ina Anderson of Granite City, coach; Sharon Frey, Edwardsville, co-captain; Cherry Sharp, Granite City; Jo Ann Weinroster, St. Louis; Laura Jo Brooks, Glen Carbon; Kathy Going, Addleville; and Cheri Fuchs of Granite City, assistant coach.

Women cagers open SIUE home schedule

The women's basketball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, coached by Ina Anderson of Granite City, will open its home schedule of the 1975-76 season with an 8 p.m. match against Maryville College tomorrow at the Edwardsville High School gym.

The squad will be going into the game with a 3-2 record and a second place finish in the tournament at Vincennes Junior College in Indiana. Vincennes won the regional tournament for junior colleges last year and defeated the Cougars of SIUE by only five points in overtime in the final game of the tournament there on Dec. 6 and 7.

The Cougars will be led by co-captains Jan Green of East Alton, Sharon Frey of Edwardsville and Jo Brooks of Glen Carbon. The three were starters on last year's team which finished the season with a 5-7 record.

Others returning from last year's squad include Cherry Sharp of Granite City; Debbie Meehan, Bunker Hill; Jane Bertoglio, Gillespie; and Jerri Wilson of Alton.

In addition, the Cougars have two transfers on this year's squad. They are Jo Ann Weinroster of St. Louis, with two years of experience at Vincennes Junior College, and Gena Goss from Villa Ridge.

With freshmen Jayne O'Laughlin from Edwardsville, and Kathy Going, Addleville, the 1975-76 Cougar squad totals 11 players who "are going to be tough this year," according to the head coach.

"We have a very good and well-balanced team," said Coach Anderson. "We've played two of the better teams already, and although we lost, they were close games."

The women's squad will have a very big weekend during the SIUE Invitational, Feb. 6 and 7.

Feb. 6, the Cougars will play Quincy College, an unusually good team. Then on Feb. 7, they will meet Danville Junior College at 12:30 p.m. This will be the second meeting of the two teams this season.

At 8:00 p.m. Feb. 7, they will meet George Williams College from the Chicago area. "One of the very best small college teams in the state," according to Coach Anderson.

Auto racing banquet Jan. 24

Auto racing drivers who competed during the past season at Tri-City Speedway are among those who will be recognized for their achievements during 1975 when the St. Louis Auto Racing Fan Club honors 18 area and national champions, representing every major category of racing, Saturday, Jan. 24, at the Red Carpet Inn, Bridgeton, Mo., during the club's ninth annual "Banquet of Champions."

Special achievement and appreciation awards also will be presented at the banquet to area motorsport personalities who have excelled this past year. Awards include the coveted Dale Mueller Memorial News Media Award and the Curt Lehman Memorial Sportsmanship Award.

At last year's banquet, Press-Record Sports Writer Ken Thompson was the recipient of the news media award, and Wayne Holtmann, then president of Southwestern Auto Racing Association at Highland, was presented the sportsmanship award.

Donald Davidson, well-known U. S. Auto Club historian and author, will serve as master-of-ceremonies and guest speaker. Davidson, born in England, is known world-wide as a "walking encyclopedia" on motorsports and has served for the past several years as a commentator during radio broadcasts of Indianapolis 500-mile championship races.

Area champions to be honored include father and son stock car titlists at Tri-City Speedway, Russ and Mike Wallace. The elder Wallace competed this season in late model stock car competition, and Mike Wallace in the sportsman stock car division from the Chicago area. "One of the best small college teams in the state," according to Coach Anderson.

Also, Jim Halbrook, I-55 Drag Raceway; Bill Myers, St. Charles Speedway, late model stock cars, and Bobby Binzoff, St. Charles Speedway, sportsman stock cars. In addition to champion awards, seven special achievement awards will also be presented.

Recipients are: Frankie Garrett and Johnny Ranek, Southern Illinois Quarter Midget Association; Len Gilteneier, U. S. Auto Club, stock car division; Larry Griffith, U. S. Auto Club, dirt track division; Walter Knepper, U. S. Auto Club, sprint car division; Arnold Knepper, U. S. Auto Club, dirt car division and John O'Steen, International Motorsport Association.

Recipients of the Dale Mueller Media and Curt Lehman Sportsmanship Awards will not be announced until the night of the banquet.

This year's award presentations also will include the first annual Victory Lane Award of Excellence, given to a motorsports participant who has performed outstandingly during the season in his or her particular field of endeavor.

William "Bill" Guth of Granite City, elected this month to a second straight term as president of the fan club, announces tickets still are available for the banquet.

Tickets cost $12.50 per person and include the purchase to a buffet dinner, music and dancing.

Persons wishing to attend are asked to send a check or money order and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Guth at 2170 Northland Drive, Granite City. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Guth at 931-4611.

Mat Cougars tops in U. S.

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling team is ranked as the nation's top NCAA Division II squad in the latest poll of the Amateur Wrestling News, official publication of the National Wrestling Coaches Association.

The rankings, which appear twice a year, in January and February, were compiled by the magazine's editors and a committee of wrestling coaches in mid-December.

The Cougars have a 3-2 dual meet record, having defeated Southwest Missouri State University 90-2, the University of Nebraska-Omaha (ranked ninth in the poll) 29-9 and MacMurray College, 43-1.

SIUE lost to Slippery Rock State College 19-17 and the University of Northern Iowa (defending National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II national champion and rated third in the poll), 27-18.

SIUE finished second in the nation last year in the Division II championships.

The rankings: 1. SIUE; 2. University of Tennessee-Chattanooga; 3. University of Northern Iowa; 4. California-Bakersfield; 5. Mankato State; 6. North Dakota State; 7. Western State College; 8. East Stroudsburg State College; 9. University of Nebraska-Omaha; 10. South Dakota.

The injury-ridden SIUE team travels to Warrensburg, Mo., Friday for a 6 p.m. double-date event with Central Oklahoma and Central Missouri State.

The Cougars have four questionable starters, including their number one grappler, 134-pound Dave Robinson, who has a back injury. He leads the team with a 16-0 record.

Other questionable wrestlers include Greg Tuck, a 142-pounder with a 5-1 record, suffering from a knee injury; 158-pound Dave Byrne, who has a 1-1 mark and is down with the flu; and 177-pound Jim McCoy, who has a 6-6 record and a knee injury.

Another Cougar standout, 190-pound Frank Savagnone, had the flu and ran a 105-degree temperature during the weekend. But the next day he was on the mats for the double meet with Slippery Rock and MacMurray College. His opponents wished he had stayed in bed.

Savagnone decided Slippery Rock's Mike Bovich 8-0, and then set a school record by pinning MacMurray's Lionel McAllister in a lightning-quick four seconds. Savagnone, a two-time All-American, has a 16-2 record.

With Tuck, McCoy, Byrne and Robinson out of the lineup, the Cougars didn't fare as well as Coach Larry Kristoff had hoped. Although SIUE destroyed MacMurray 43-1 (MacMurray was penalized two team points for misconduct), the Cougars lost by two team points to Slippery Rock. SIUE led going into the final match, but Slippery Rock's Chuck Tursky defeated Charles Scott 5-1 in the heavyweight contest.

Bowlers to seek national honors

League bowlers at the St. Louis Area Support Center, U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center, Granite City, will compete Jan. 26 - Feb. 1 in the third annual Midas bowling championship.

Based on a pins-over-average scoring system, the top five league bowlers at the center will have their totals compared with other center winners across the country.

Five national champions will win all-expense-paid trips to the $100,000 Midas Open in Windsor Locks, Conn., Feb. 25-28, for themselves and a guest of their choice.

The five will bowl for prize money in the Pro-Am with leading stars like Earl Anthony, Dick Weber and Nelson Burton Jr. They will receive trophies and will have on-camera seats for the nationally televised final round Feb. 28.

Last year, 3.5 million league bowlers in 1,500 bowling centers participated in the tournament.

Wide price range in racing bikes

Racing bicycles range in price from $135 to $700 and tires range from $15 to $45 each, according to Mark Yehling, operator of a local bicycle shop.

Yehling, along with David Land and John Werner, two cyclists who race and work on bikes for Yehling, were the guest speakers at the Thursday noon meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club in the YMCA.

It was announced by David Brooks, club president, that there will be a zone meeting at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant on Tuesday, Jan. 27.

The club voted to donate $50 to a new theater group being formed by high school students that will perform plays to entertain senior citizens and shut-ins.

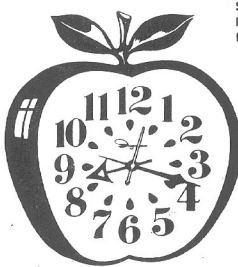

Members of the club were each given oranges from the Texas grove of Optimist Otto Romann.

Warriors impress before losing to E. St. Louis five Granite City High School South was accomplishing its mission throughout most of the first half against East St. Louis Senior High here Tuesday night, tying the Flyer Cagers 12-12 at the conclusion of the first period and trailing the visitors by a basket with two minutes remaining before halftime. South eventually lost 59-46 after second and third-quarter deficits of 26-22 and 37-31.

When the East St. Louis coach realized his sophomore players were barely holding their own against the Warriors, he inserted his varsity starters. The added heights enabled the Flyers to control the rebounding and maintain a narrow lead.

"East St. Louis is foul prone," said South High mentor Bryan Wilkinson. "That's why the Flyers nearly always start a game with sophomores and substitute later with varsity players. That gives them a strong advantage late in a contest."

Wilkinson believes South could have won the contest had the Warriors been more accurate from the free throw line. "We connected with only three of 10 foul shots in the second half," he noted.

South trailed by only six points going into the final period of play, but the Flyers poured in 22 points. South, led by Terry Angle's four baskets and a free throw, garnered 15 points in the final quarter.

Angle was one of four players active in the opening period to keep South within striking range. He and Jim Nolan had four points each, and Frank Holmes and Mike McRaven two each.

The Warriors recovered 31 missed shots off the boards, with 6-4 junior John Slay pulling down 14 rebounds.

But South only hit on 19 of 52 shots from the floor in the game and eight charity tosses.

East St. Louis scored on 24 of 62 shots from the field and hit 11 free throws.

The visitors committed the most fouls, 19-17, but had the fewest turnovers, 24-28. East St. Louis recovered 40 rebounds.

Flyer Anthony Williams paced his team's scoring with 16 points, one more than Angle, who led South's players in scoring.

Nolan had 10 points, Slay and McRaven six each, Frank Holmes five, and Rick Fancher and Eldon Warfield, two each.

The win evened the Flyers' record at 5-5. South has a 3-10 mark.

Niebur seeking tournament title

Over ten hours of wrestling action will be on tap for fans at Macomb Saturday as Western Illinois University plays host in the second-ever Leatherneck Invitational.

A field of as many as 80 wrestlers representing eight Midwestern schools will enter the fray on the Western Hall's main floor beginning at 10 a.m. with first-round wrestlingbacks to get under way at noon.

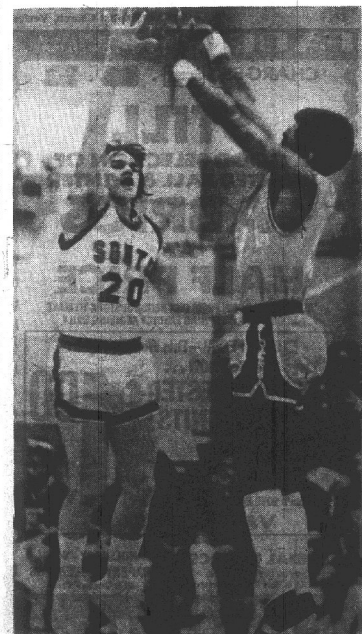

After a one-hour break, semifinal action will begin at 2 p.m., and second-round wrestlingbacks at 3. Third-place honors will be decided beginning at 6:30 p.m., with finals at 7:30.

Contingents from Ball State, Indiana State, University of Illinois, Northern Illinois, South Dakota State, University of Wisconsin-Platteville, University of Wisconsin-Whitewater and the host school will take part.

"It will be a tough tournament," warns third-year coach Mitsuo Nakai, whose squad enters with a 3-1 dual meet mark. "It's the kind of competition that can sharply prepare us for the nationals in March."

The host Leathernecks enter the skirmish, according to Nakai, with four bonafide championship contenders. The Western charge will be led by 126-pound sophomore John Niebur (Granite City South), junior Vito Andriola (Northlake-West Leyden), 134 senior Tom Arlis (Glenbard-Montini) at 150 and sophomore Rich Lafnitzegger (Glenview-Northbrook) at 167.

Arlis leads the brigade with a 9-1 record. Both Lafnitzegger and Andriola enter at 8-2, while Niebur owns a 6-2 mark.

road or begin legal proceedings to vacate it.

At one time, Estes told the Press-Record he intended to contact the highway department's attorney to determine what had to be done to close the road. But another time Estes told the same reporter he would reopen the road after he had an opportunity to repair it.

He said his workers were busy at that time preparing equipment for snow removal and he did not know when they would have time to repair the roadbed.

Miller was not available to ask whether the motor fuel taxes to Chouteau Township will be released immediately or whether he will wait until the road is repaired before releasing the funds.

Franko Lane is located between Old Alton Road and Illinois Route 3, north of Interstate 270.

The withholding of the motor fuel tax funds increased the financial difficulty in the township's highway department, which has had trouble paying its bills in recent years.

Estes asked the town board Tuesday night for permission to sell a $20,000 tax anticipation warrant, to be paid back by next year's tax collections. The department already has a $10,000 tax anticipation warrant outstanding and several bills due—including about $5,000 for insurance and workmen's compensation.

The warrants must be paid off when new taxes are received, in about 10 months. Nearly all taxes have been received from this year's tax collections.

Harold Thick dies at home

Bell in new appeal for rate hike

Telephone customers who use the service more should pay more for it, Illinois Bell said Tuesday in urging approval of its request for higher rates.

Illinois Bell Attorney Thomas R. Phillips told the Illinois Commerce Commission that over 30 per cent of the company's proposed rate increases are on services the use of which customers can control.

He said many customers would not be affected by many of the company's proposals. "It is only fair and equitable," Phillips said, "that those who use telephone service more often, and who use more of it should pay for its use."

Phillips noted that the consumer price index increased 39 per cent between 1964 and 1974. Over the same period, he said, Illinois Bell's rates increased only 16 per cent. "Even if our proposed increases are approved," Phillips said, "Illinois Bell's rates will be less than one-third higher than they were 12 years ago."

Ten months of public hearings have been held on Illinois Bell's rate case, filed last March 7. Sixty public hearings were held on the case, covering more than 10,000 pages of testimony and exhibits. The ICC must reach its decision by Feb. 4.

Phillips said that the company's rate of return at the end of 1975 was under 7.5 per cent—well below the 11.5 per cent rate found "fair and reasonable" by the ICC two years ago.

Without an adequate return Illinois Bell cannot attract or fair terms the large amounts of capital needed," Phillips said, "nor retain competent employees, nor operate its business in a manner that will continue to provide high quality, reliable telephone service when and where demanded, without delay, and at reasonable rates."

Joseph Woods dies at 65

Joseph Woods, 65, of 1121 Logan St., Venice, an employee of Granite City Steel, died Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He was a World War II veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Bessie L. Woods; a son, Joseph Woods Jr., Carson, Mich.; two sisters, Margaret Woods of Lansing, Mich., and Pearl Moore of Oceanside, Calif.; four stepsons, Jerry Williams of Oakland, Calif., Charles Collins, Eddie and John Williams, all of Madison. Five stepdaughters, Willie B. Williams, Julia Williams, Irene Alfred, Doris Ann Williams, all of Madison, and Dorothy Robinson of Oakland, Calif.; four granddaughters; 18 step-grandchildren and two step-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the New Salem Baptist Church, Venice.

nativity was North Carolina.

Peter Barco, the father of our subject, emigrated from North Carolina to Tennessee at an early day and, after a residence of five years in the latter state, removed to the new state of Illinois, settling first in Sangamon County.

There he remained until June 1832, when he removed to the American Bottom, in Madison County, taking up his residence four miles west of Collinsville.

His trip across the country from Tennessee was made in one of the ordinary horse carts of that period, the several members of the family taking and walking through the long and dreary distance.

"Speaking of our senior citizens, I think we should have a very active senior citizen program going."

"We need a lot of thanks to Rotarian Clarence Green, who did much to help start the program and to keep it going. They meet here every Thursday and are always active doing something."

"This past year, we have adopted a number of housing codes. We have been catching a little heat over this one, but the majority of the people realize the need for better housing."

"We have taken down some old buildings. Any other town needs strong codes that everybody must abide by if we are to keep the city a fit place to live."

"We aren't looking for people to build palaces, but we do want clean, safe housing for all or citizens."

"We hope to upgrade recreation for our younger citizens in the near future."

"Our tennis courts will soon be ready and we hope to expand the use of the building here. We want to have more playgrounds in the West Madison area, also. And as soon as the new middle school is built, there will be available land."

"We also want to put in recreation grounds with equipment in the Grenzer and Garache Homes area by this time next year."

"Our next major project I hope to see finished during my first year of this term is to tear down the alleyway putting a 10- to 12-foot strip down the middle, and improve our garbage pick-up system."

"We have been studying a new trash pickup system, using special 90-gallon trash containers."

"Using these containers, one man with a truck can service 1,200 families. This would enable us to offer trash pickup twice a week rather than once a week."

"We also, in a very few weeks, will be working with the Update Corporation to revamp our storefronts, and make plans for malls and shopping center areas. This will be a real boost to business and it is becoming more and more of a reality."

"If they develop it into something, it makes our land a lot more valuable around it."

Asked if he intends to seek another elective term, the mayor said, "Well, I can't say yes or no at this time. My wife will have a lot to say about it. I intend to make up my mind about running by July 1."

"One thing I want to add is that we have not only dedicated city employees working for the betterment of the people, we have a fine City Council serving the people."

Asked by a Rotarian about the Rotarian Wayne Scannell reminded the club that a benefit sale is still in progress. He will call a meeting of the sales captains next week.

Attorney Norman Kinder, an independent Democratic candidate for judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, was a guest at the meeting.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis recommended that the school board turn down the grant offer and the board Tuesday night unanimously agreed with Davis.

by the community. As a result of the error in the survey method, Rea concluded, "There is no way in which we can legally claim these funds or operate a program in compliance with the appropriate regulations."

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis recommended that the school board turn down the grant offer and the board Tuesday night unanimously agreed with Davis.

this county, Mr. Barco built him a rude cabin, with no other than Mother Earth for a floor, while the only windows were those furnished by the cracks between the logs.

It was, to be sure, a mere hovel compared to the roofs which shelter his children today; but it was as good as that of his neighbor, as good as his means would warrant. And, what was better, he felt that it was his own—that he was its sovereign.

His "lowly thatched roof" was scarcely completed before the death messenger summoned his spirit to "that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." He died in June 1833.

Mrs. Barco survived her husband's death several years, and died in 1856. She lived to see four of her five children comfortably settled in life—only two of whom are now living.

Peter Barco, Junior, the subject of this sketch, had comparatively limited advantages for mental improvement. The principal part of his culture he has received from his wives since his marriage, and from a source gathered the elements of a business education which has enabled him to succeed in the undertakings of his life.

His younger days, up to the years of maturity, were spent at home in aiding his widowed mother in raising the helpless family which had been confided to her care, and of which Peter formed a part.

Mr. Barco, in this, the house of prosperity, looks back with a tinge of sadness upon those years of suffering and hardships through which he and his brothers and sisters passed.

As the silken chain of memory carries him to his Christian mother's lowly hearth, his heart is cheered with the consoling reflection that he did his duty to her in those days of sore trial; and in the sunset of his life, smoothed, with the hand of sincere affection, her pathway to "that undiscovered land, from whose bourne no traveler returns."

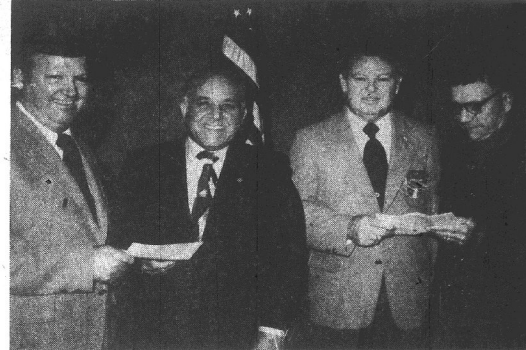

At the age of twenty-three, Mr. Barco was married to Miss Elizabeth I., daughter of James and Cynthia (Gilgison) Hadley, the former a native of Kentucky, and the latter of Indiana.

By this union, Mr. and Mrs. Barco had a family of two children—a son and daughter, now married. Mrs. Barco survived her marriage but four years, and died in December 1831.

Mr. Barco again married in July 1832 to Miss Amelia, daughter of Moses and Sarah Finley, of Greene County, Ill. As the result of this union, they have had born to them a family of two children, daughters, who reside at home with their parents.

Mrs. Barco died in March 1834, and Mr. Barco again remarried in October of the same year, to Miss Sarah Zumbro, a native of Virginia. Mr. Barco is an uncompromising Republican, and during the war for the perpetuity of the Union, was heartily with the country.

He and his wife are active, working members of the Methodist Church, and so live

ELK MEMBERS HONORED for their contributions of $100 each to the Elks National Foundation, which provides scholarship funds for school children. that their light shines resplendently.

Mr. Barco commenced life directly for himself, as a farmer, at the age of twenty-three years.

He settled on a rented tract of land in Section 9, Town 3, Range 9, and has gradually increased his possessions until he now owns two hundred and fifty acres of as fine land as there is in the valley of the Mississippi.

It is a fact worthy of mention in this connection, that the first land purchased by Mr. Barco was obtained for $8 per acre, and the last he purchased cost him $100 per acre.

He removed to the farm on which he is now living in March 1839. It is situated in Section 18, Township 3, Range 9. Mr. Barco has witnessed many changes wrought since his first settlement in the Bottom, and has marveled at the unprecedented progress which each year develops.

By his energy and industry, he has kept pace with the age, as his surroundings fully attest. His farm is finely improved, and his home one of the most inviting retreats on the American Bottom.

CHICKEN FIGHTING at an Explorer swim party Saturday at the YMCA was a popular pastime for the Explorers attending. The championship match, which ended in a draw, was between the team of Joe Bargiel, squad leader in Post 10-4 of Madison, being carried by Granite City Police Officer Glenn Wright, advisor to Post 10-33, on the right against Scott Matyas, on the left, second vice-president of Post 255 of Pontoon Beach, being carried by John Bowman, first vice-president of Post 255.

Bicentennial deadline set

Cong. Melvin Price, has advised all area communities that a March 31 deadline has been imposed on applications for designation as official Bicentennial communities.

The deadline was announced by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, the nation's official Bicentennial organization, and applies to all communities, colleges and universities which plan to make application for authorization to become a Bicentennial community.

Thus far, the ARBA has informed Rep. Price, 17 area communities have been made official Bicentennial towns in addition to Scott Air Force Base, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and State Community College.

Nationwide, 7,500 communities with three-fourths of the country's population thus far have been included.

Rep. Price also announced that the Mermaid House Hotel in Lebanon had been entered in the National Register of Historic Places. The hotel, one of the other historic sites throughout the country which have been selected as significant to U. S. cultural and historical development.

Two new publications to assist residents in planning for the Bicentennial year are available from Cong. Price's Washington office.

"Questions and Answers about the Bicentennial," published by the ARBA, answers the questions most frequently asked regarding national and local celebrations. The Department of the Interior has issued a brochure explaining the Golden Eagle and Golden Age Passports.

The Golden Eagle Passport is an annual entrance permit to national parks and recreation areas which charge entrance fees. The Golden Age Passport provides free lifetime entrance to these areas for all persons over 62 and 50 per cent discounts on user fees in these areas.

The brochures may be obtained by writing to Cong. Price at 2468 Rayburn Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

MICHAEL ECONOMY JR. and NAME TWIN DAUGHTERS Mr. and Mrs. Michael Economy Jr., 1130 Reynolds St., Madison, are announcing the birth of twin daughters on Jan. 8 at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The new arrivals have been named Mikla Kathleen, who weighed five pounds, and Michelle Ann, five pounds, 13 ounces. They have a 3-year-old sister, Mellina Irene.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Economy Sr. of Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Waggoner of Granite City.

Great-grandparents include Mrs. Katherine McFadden of California; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Economy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, all of Madison.

COLORADO ASSIGNMENT. Airman James L. Kafka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kafka, 1532 Rodger Ave., Granite City, Ill., has been selected for technical training in the U.S. Air Force supply field at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo. The airman completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., where he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Airman Kafka is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South.

CAR IS STOLEN The 1974 Oldsmobile two-door auto of Edward Tomlin, 2901 Harding Ave., was stolen from the parking lot of the Venture store, 5401 Collinsville Road, during the weekend. The car is white with a white vinyl top and is valued at $4,850.

Slide program on East-West

A 20-minute slide show by East-West Gateway Coordinating Council is ready for presentation to interested groups in this area.

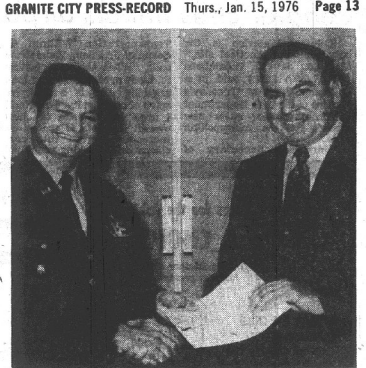

The program tells the agency's purposes and roles, its formation and make-up, why it exists, how it operates and who it affects.

Specific interests of the agency such as port development, mass transit, air and water quality, and local governmental assistance — are mentioned.

As the overall planning agency for the St. Louis bi-state region, the Gateway Council Thinks the lives of all residents in the region, a spokesman said. As the council of governments, it works to provide people in the area with a way of working together to solve common problems and meet common needs.

Groups wishing more information on the agency's workings may call the public information department of Gateway Council. A staff member will be available to show the presentation to the group and to answer questions from the audience.

Illinois residents are to call 274-2750.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE award is presented to William O. Cauble, 2820 E. 24th St., for his work as chief of the Procurement and Supply Division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The presentation is made by Colonel Thorwald R. Peterson, district engineer. The award signifies work performance exceeding normal requirements that is worthy of special commendation.

Farm Bureau to meet Saturday

The 57th annual meeting of the Madison County Farm Bureau will be held Saturday in the Farm Bureau Auditorium, 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

The meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. and is scheduled to adjourn at 2:15 p.m.

Bureau members will act on committee reports, ratify activities of the board of directors and elect seven directors to three year terms for Hamel, Helvetia, Jarvis, Lee, Marine, Moro and Nameoki-Venice townships.

Nominating committees in those townships are scheduled to elect as directors Leroy Brase, Hamel; Waldo Keilbach, Helvetia; Larry Schaefer, Jarvis; Othmar Geiger, Lee; Delmar Grotenfeldt, Marine; Vernon Becker, Moro, and Richard Bauer, Nameoki-Venice.

Reports are to be given by Mrs. Charles Losh of the Women's Committee, John Relke of the Young Farmer's Committee, Robert Koeller of the Legislative Committee, Donald G. McGinnis on insurance and Frank Thomas on organization.

Mrs. Sue Goers will be the speaker.

DRIVER RECOVERING Samuel Kratzer Jr., 34 Wood River, was discharged Monday from Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, recuperating from injuries suffered Friday when his car went through barricades at the south end of FA Route 131 at Niedringhaus Avenue and struck a crane. He had to be removed from his car by a Granite City Fire Department rescue squad.

Women veterans must file for claims by July 1

Women veterans who attended school under the GI Bill between June 1, 1966, and October 24, 1972, are being reminded that they have less than six months to file claims for a special Veterans Administration payment equalizing benefits with male veterans who were married while in training.

VA officials explained the deadline for filing at the VA regional offices is July 1, 1976. The retroactive payment to an individual may be as much as $1,000, in some cases.

Proof of marriage while in training must be furnished in connection with the claim. The amount to be paid in a lump sum is about $30 per month for each month a woman veteran was in training under the GI Bill while she had a husband.

Women who trained after Oct. 24, 1972, have already been paid on the same basis as their male counterparts. The law does not allow the additional amount for women who trained under the other World War II and Korean Conflict GI Bills.

Women veterans who proved to VA while they were in training that their husbands were permanently disabled and incapable of self-support have already been paid the additional amount.

Pontoon youth faces charge

Richard Bilderback, 18, of 3927 Lake St., Pontoon Beach, was released on $102 cash bond at 12:25 p.m. Saturday after being charged with criminal damage to property belonging to Chief of Police Roswell Bennett Jr. of Pontoon Beach.

Police, while on patrol, noticed the rear door of an empty house at 4061 Pontoon Road, belonging to Bennett, had been forced open. They allegedly found Bilderback and two teenage girls, 15 and 16, inside with an open wine bottle.

The three were taken to police headquarters and Chief Bennett and the parents of the two girls were called.

Bennett signed the complaint against Bilderback and the girls were released to their parents on notice to appear before juvenile authorities.

Bilderback reportedly told police he and the girls were at an amusement parlor where someone told him about the wine and that he found the door already broken open.

Senator cites Illinois airport action, funding

"Columbia-Waterloo is the only available practical site," State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene (Dem., 56th Dist.) said in a statement filed at Tuesday's hearing of the U. S. Department of Transportation on a new airport for the metropolitan area.

Addressing Secretary of Transportation William T. Coleman Jr., Sen. Vadalabene said, "What the metropolitan St. Louis area needs more than anything else is a cohesive spirit of community. Therefore, I urge you to take the best possible interest of the entire metropolitan area into consideration in making your final decision.

"As state senator from the 56th District, which comprises the northern segment of the eastern side of the metropolitan area, I think I am in an especially qualified position to speak on behalf of the Columbia-Waterloo site.

"Although I am a devoted citizen of Illinois, I think I can pass on certain problems on the basis of the record of relative performance, as opposed to hysterical talk.

"Further, from the standpoint of pure convenience, for much of my district Lambert is as close—and at some points, closer—than the Illinois site.

"The practical facts are these. As we examine future transportation policy for the entire area, we have to accept the fact that any site will be more accessible to some parts of the area than others.

"Illinois, I am proud to say, has faced up to harder facts.

"It has backed up its arguments with substantial financial commitments, careful planning, and the development of an organizational structure that would serve the interests of the entire area.

"If I were to cite the record of Missouri in these practical elements of the situation, I would have to paint a sorry picture indeed.

"St. Louis County recently rejected a crucial bond issue. The state of Missouri has come up with a munificent total of

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Jan. 15, 1976 Page 14

$25,000 for its investment in Lambert. All kinds of studies have been made, designed to buy time rather than face the truth.

"Illinois, on the other hand, has put its money where its mouth is. We have committed $15 million in available bond funds.

"In this current fiscal year, we have appropriated $8.4 million to begin land acquisition. We know a new airport is needed and we are ready to pay our share.

"Under legislation which I sponsored, we have created the St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority to qualify the Columbia-Waterloo site. It has been funded to the tune of $3 million.

"The Authority has the power to issue revenue bonds. It has focused on studying the feasibility of a financial program. It has developed a good one.

"At present," Vadalabene concluded, "the situation boils down to this: 'It is decided that a new airport is needed—and the most persuasive opinion is affirmative—then Columbia-Waterloo is quite simply the only available practical site.'

"A great new airport can meet the needs of the airline investors can be protected; environmental concerns can be protected. Illinois has the will and the way. Can anyone else honestly make that claim?"

I CORINTHIANS 13:3... "and though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not love, it profiteth me nothing."

There is a great need within the ranks of our churches today. It is not a need for more members, nor is it a need for larger sanctuaries, nor even for surplus finances. There is a great need for LOVE. Genuine love which is a true token of discipleship. Jesus tells us in John 13:35, "For by this shall all men know you are my disciples, if you have LOVE one for another." Remember always that: GOD IS LOVE.

The one factor in our World today which will break down the walls of denominationalism and bring us all together in the unity of faith is LOVE.

No matter how many good works we do, if not done in love it profits us nothing.

Love someone today!

Tight job market theme of new program at YMCA

The Job Game, a new audio cassette program that takes six hours to complete, is planned at the YMCA, Harold Rudolph, executive director of the Y, has announced.

"The program is a six-hour course on tape cassettes and workbooks designed to teach individuals and small groups how to cope with today's tight job market," Rudolph said.

The "Y" will offer the course beginning on Thursday, Jan. 22, from 7 to 9 p.m. and continue for two additional Thursday evenings.

The program is designed for persons in three classes: 1, unemployed persons looking for a job; 2, young people just starting their careers; and 3, persons seeking a more satisfying and rewarding job. The program unit was purchased for the YMCA by the Granite City Rotary Club. The "Y" has met with school officials and persons from other youth agencies to make the "Job Game" available for their use.

Areas covered in the program include work which brings a person pleasure, the secret of the job masters, the job universe, secrets of the hidden job market, resume writing, getting the interview, controlling the interview, and using want ads and other resources to get the job.

There is a program fee to take the course. There also are chased for the YMCA by the Granite City Rotary Club. The "Y" has met with school officials and persons from other youth agencies to make the "Job Game" available for their use.

scholarships available for persons who cannot afford the fee. The workbooks which are kept by each person after the workshop are $4 each. Quad-Cityans may call the "Y", 676-7200, for more information.

New foundation to fight eye disease

The Greater St. Louis Chapter of the Retinitis Pigmentosa (RP) Foundation has been formed and John E. Herrin, a Granite City businessman, has been elected treasurer.

Irwin M. Fishman, St. Louis, is president. RP is the name applied to a group of hereditary diseases that affect the retina, the film-like tissue in the back of the eye, causing the retina to slowly degenerate and lose its ability to transmit pictures to the brain, according to Herrin.

The first symptom often is night blindness, followed by narrowing of side vision until the victim has what is called "tunnel vision." In most cases RP leads to total blindness. The RP Foundation now has 33 chapters in 25 states with several more being formed. The Greater St. Louis Chapter covers a radius of 150 miles of Usher's Syndrome.

RP most commonly strikes children and young adults. Symptoms have been known to appear in children as young as 1 or 2 years of age, which can result in severe loss of vision early in life; but retinal degenerative disease are possible at any age.

The RP Foundation now has 33 chapters in 25 states with several more being formed. The Greater St. Louis Chapter covers a radius of 150 miles of St. Louis with an estimated 1,000 RP victims in the area. The objectives of the chapter and national organizations are to find the cause, treatment and cure for RP and allied diseases through laboratory research, to prevent RP, generate public awareness and develop a national registry of RP victims.

Persons wishing more information concerning RP may telephone Herrin at 676-5453 or Fishman at 314-567-1640.

Girls' sports coordinators named for both high schools

The Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night named Dorothy Mitchell as girls' physical education and sports coordinator at Granite City High School South, and Terry Papa to the same position at GCHS North. Both are extracurricular assignments and are in addition to regular teaching duties.

The positions are new and were created due to increasing interest in women's sports in the high schools.

Mrs. Evelyn Federa was selected by the board to fill a new position as counselor at Grigsby Junior High School. She is the wife of Joseph Federa, director of athletics for the school district.

Board members emphasized that Mrs. Federa, a former and counselor in the district, is the best qualified of several who applied for the position.

The board also hired five teachers and 10 cafeteria workers and granted extracurricular assignments to three other women.

Sharon Bloodworth and Leola Obermoller were selected as girls' track advisers for GCHS North and Ruth Noeth was selected as a girls' track adviser for GCHS South.

Teachers hired through the end of this school year were: Jeannette Baldwin, 7 Lily Court, Ponton Beach, to teach upper primary at Marshall School; Karen E. Cline, 3801 Lake Drive, Ponton Beach, to replace a half-day teacher and teach full time in the middle primary level at Marshall School.

Also, Lana Rogier, 2585 Lynch Ave., to teach lower primary at Stalling School; James Greenwald, 2727 Grand Ave., to teach health at GCHS North, and Elaine Parish, 76 Maureen Court, to teach middle primary at Webster School.

Permanent cafeteria workers hired, starting Jan. 30, were Betty Forshee, Viola Boston, Verda Hicks, Angela Buehler, Lillian McKinley, Dorothy Schardan, Earleen Hayes and Jackie Bulla.

Also hired for cafeteria work until the end of this school year was Alfreda Pindergrass.

Gerald Brown, administrative assistant personnel for the school district, told the board that cafeteria workers normally are hired one or two at a time, as needed, but that the number of hot meals being served in the schools has increased at an unexpected rapid rate.

"I don't understand it, but the plate counts have just increased unbelievably," Brown commented.

The board accepted two resignations from Judy Payne, a half-day middle primary teacher at Marshall School, and Beverly Schutzenhofer, a secretary at GCHS South. The retirement of John Daughity, a custodian at McKinley School, also was accepted, effective Jan. 31.

Leaves of absence were granted to Harriet Ward, a middle intermediate teacher at Maryville School; Darla Galbreath, a lower primary teacher at Washington School; and Doris Clinard, a secretary in the board office.

Appeals board hearings set

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two hearings in Quad-City area townships Wednesday, Jan. 28.

The first will be at 10:30 a.m. at 6303 Collinsville Road, Nameoki Township, where MacLair Asphalt Co. and James R. Spagna are requesting a tract of land be rezoned from R-3 single family residential to M-3 heavy manufacturing. The change would permit the continued operation of the MacLair Asphalt's facility at that location.

The second hearing is set for 10:45 a.m. Jan. 28, at the Pentecostal Assembly of Jesus Christ on Highway 162, across from Stallings Elementary School, where the Rev. Frank Gabriel is requesting a special use permit to place a 14 by 70 foot mobile home to be used as a parsonage. The property is in an agricultural district of Nameoki Township.

LOST CAR IN GARAGE

Items worth about $521 were stolen from the car of Paul Skinner, 2427 E. 25th St., parked in his garage, he reported at 1 p.m. Tuesday. A northeast garage window was pushed in to gain entry. The car was believed opened by using a coat hanger to unlock it. Taken were a citizens' band radio, two boxes of tools and an electric drill.

PROVOST GUARD OFFICERS of Ainsel Temple are installed for the 1976 year in ceremonies held at the Granite City Moose Lodge. Installing officers were Noble Jack Dempsey, high priest and prophet, and Dick Ervay, Oriental guide. The ceremony was preceded by a buffet dinner prepared by Women of the Moose and

ARREST AT SCHOOL

A 15-year-old boy was stopped by campus monitors at Granite City High School South at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday and the monitors alleged finding marijuana and pills in his possession. Police were called and alleged finding five grams of marijuana, including six rolled marijuana cigarettes, and nine green pills. The juvenile was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis.

Chouteau receives U.S. sharing funds

A revenue sharing grant of $7,790 has been received by Chouteau Township and a certificate of deposit has been purchased for that amount, Mrs. Patricia Polley, Chouteau township clerk, told the Town Board of Auditors during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The money is to be used to help finance the construction of a new combined township hall and community center building near the present township garage. Community Development Program funds also will be used to help finance the construction.

Mrs. Polley said the township also has received more than $600 this month in interest on previous revenue sharing certificates of deposit as well as about $200 in interest on surplus general assistance funds.

The board authorized Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks to attend the Township Officials of Illinois, Supervisors' Division, meeting Jan. 30 at Mount Vernon, with expenses paid.

May sue to recover items used by EOC

Mayor Mike Sasyk, with the approval of the Madison County Council, instructed the city attorney Tuesday evening to file suit against the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) to recover equipment allegedly belonging to the city and removed from the West Madison Recreation Center when the EOC moved from there.

"We leased the EOC part of the building, rent free for one year, and then for $300 a month the following year, with the agreement that any equipment they put in would remain in lieu of the free rent," Sasyk told the council.

"They moved out and took a stove, sink and a refrigerator out of the building and left us with an empty room," Sasyk said.

"We entered the lease in good faith and they did not even give us 30 days notice that they were moving out," Sasyk said.

Edward P. Schenk, executive director of the EOC said that he wrote the mayor a letter Monday in which he said he felt some arrangement could be worked out without legal action.

Schenk indicated the lease did not refer to portable equipment and that the EOC considered the sink, stove and refrigerator as portable.

Propose mental health 'line'

A public meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. today in the County Board room of the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville on a proposal to establish a not-for-profit corporation to offer aid on the telephone to persons with emotional or mental upsets.

The program was started by a group of people who felt drastic cuts in mental health clinic budgets in Madison County have caused the clinics to reduce services, leaving many persons without the needed help.

Cities and townships are being requested to donate $75 each to the proposed corporation to help pay the telephone bill for the first six months.

It is estimated that with toll-free telephones, a qualified doctor to answer questions and several workers, the program will cost about $2,550 to operate for the first six months.

Funds from other sources also are being sought.

The request for funds was considered by the Chouteau Township Board of Auditors Tuesday night, but was tabled pending the outcome of tonight's meeting and future organizational efforts.

Golden Agers enroll five

Guests attending the potluck dinner meeting of the Golden Age Circle Club on Tuesday, held at Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Hall, included Louis Whitsett, Dan Partney, Norman Kinder and William Johnson.

President Mrs. Ruby Corbett offered the opening meditations and introduced the guests and new members. Those welcomed into the club were Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Cox, Rhea Grove, Theresa Walkenbach and Myrtle Bruns.

Several games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Corbett, Georgia Butler, Art Rankin, Leona Parente, Mildred Rees, Pearl Griffin and Nettie Conner.

The next meeting will be at 1 p.m. Jan. 27. Hostesses were Caroline Lux, Alma Stubbfield, Georgia Butler, Arthur and Violet Lindner.

Rites for mother of GC residents

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at a funeral home in Dover, Tenn., for Mrs. Cora Bell Stack, 83, of Bumpus Mill, Tenn., mother of Granite City residents.

She died Sunday, Jan. 11, at a nursing home in Clarksville, Tenn. Mrs. Stack had resided in this area for five years.

Her husband, William, died in 1958. Survivors include two sons, Will Newman Stack and Henry Ford Stack, both of Granite City; six daughters, Mrs. Bessie Knight, Mrs. Evelyn Pace and Mrs. Helen Meredith, all of Granite City, Mrs. Eleanor Sowell and Mrs. Lillie Pace of Kentucky, and Mrs. Louise Sowell of Tennessee; 37 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Fugh Flat Cemetery, Trigg County, Ky.

Pollution bars major Lambert expansion; buy new site or it won't be available — Saunders

Testimony Tuesday before Secretary of Transportation T. Coleman Jr. by Arven H. Saunders, executive director, St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.

Mr. Secretary, a decision on the narrow issue before you today—whether to approve our application for site approval and land acquisition funds—will have a broad impact on the region's aviation future and its economic and social well-being.

On economic issues, I first want to discuss Peat Marwick's basic conclusion that delaying construction of a new airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., would result in substantially lower economic costs. Our consultants have concluded that PM is just plain wrong on this score.

From an analytical viewpoint, PM erred by including costs for major improvements at Lambert Airport which would not be undertaken if transfer were to occur around 1985.

Similarly, PM provided a questionable residual credit favoring later transfer, but refused to give a more reliable credit for reuse of Lambert which would have favored early transfer.

Further, they distorted their analysis by selectively valuing the noise and other environmental costs of continued use of Lambert.

It is apparent that PM also substantially overstated capital and operational costs for Columbia-Waterloo and understated costs for remaining at Lambert—thus favoring later transfer.

Here are a couple of examples. Columbia-Waterloo construction costs were overstated because they were based on a larger than necessary terminal and an unnecessary third runway.

Airfield delay costs were also overstated because PM assumed that airplanes would taxi around this unnecessary third runway.

As another example, Lambert-related highway capital costs were drastically understated because they were based on traffic forecasts for 1985 and 2000 which, in many instances, are already being exceeded today.

The net result is that PM erroneously indicated that a late transfer from one airport to another is less costly. This is just not the case. Our analysis shows that an early transfer is more economical, and will result in lower costs for both the government and the airlines.

I will turn now to financial matters because, present value analyses aside, the airlines must ultimately finance delay and capital costs out of current operations.

Because of Peat Marwick's misleading findings and the current economic condition of airlines, I would not be surprised at all today if the airlines were to take a strong stand here against an early transfer.

However, the fact is that the conclusions with respect to the airline costs are wrong. Our analysis shows that, if transfer occurs around 1985 or so, the near-term airline costs will be less than the near-term costs related to a late transfer.

Further, during the 1981-85 period, airline costs for an early transfer versus a late transfer would be approximately equal.

Of crucial long-term importance are the comparative post-1990 costs.

If transfer occurs at an early year, the long-range costs will be substantially less than those related to a late transfer following a major, costly expansion of Lambert.

If such an expansion of Lambert could be financed, Lambert would still be inadequate but the option of a new airport would likely be foreclosed for financial reasons.

Of course, the reason is simple—if there were a major expansion at Lambert and then a transfer to a new airport, the airlines would essentially be paying for two airports, but using and earning a return on only one.

The implication of this for the region is devastating—it would be saddled with an inadequate airport for the next half century.

However, the option of a new airport would also be foreclosed for other reasons if our application is turned down. It has taken over five years just to get to this hearing today.

If you hand down a negative decision, this process would have to start all over again once Lambert's inadequacy is correctly recognized.

By then, the Authority will likely be out of existence. And, even if it were not, the land is acquired now the option would be foreclosed by incompatible local and regional development. And there is no feasible alternative site in Missouri.

Turning now to environmental issues, an expansion of Lambert would subject approximately 110,000 people, mostly lower-income people, to very harmful noise levels—and many more to less severe noise impacts—even assuming that retrofit of engines is successfully completed.

This fact alone is enough to prevent approval of the Lambert alternative.

The issue paper does not identify air pollution at Lambert as a problem. This is flatly wrong.

PM failed to even consider the air quality impact of hydrocarbons and nitrogen oxides—which Argonne Lab says cause the most serious problems—and, instead, considered only carbon monoxide—the pollutant which Argonne says is the least likely of the three to pose problems.

Using PM's own figures, our consultants found Lambert to be six to eight times more polluting than Waterloo based on emission densities.

Furthermore, PM's analysis of carbon monoxide is subject to question.

And PM ignored Parsons' conclusion that standards for carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons in the Lambert vicinity are presently being exceeded and that Lambert's contribution is and will continue to be significant and severe.

Under the circumstances, it is impossible to conceive that a long-term expansion of Lambert could ever be approved.

On technical issues, I think it is quite clear there is a severe and inherent capacity limitation at Lambert.

This view is supported by delay costs and times and other technical analyses.

Further, there are questions as to the technical feasibility of the proposed Lambert improvements.

It would be entirely imprudent to rely on undeveloped, doubtful future technology, especially when there is a viable alternative.

General aviation cannot feasibly be reduced and we believe the number of total operations will likely increase faster than PM projects due to increased travel, improved economic conditions and decisions to buy medium-sized rather than large aircraft.

Finally, even if increased traffic does not occur, our analysis shows that delays at Lambert will be worse than those at O'Hare, and the growth of general aviation will be stifled.

Lambert is a very, very limited airport which cannot satisfy the region's needs—and wishing to the contrary will not change the facts.

In conclusion, I know it is difficult to assess the differences in the many studies.

We firmly believe the analyses of our consultants are conservative and reliable.

We are disturbed that the Department of Transportation has based some of its preliminary findings on parts of the PM report which we believe are erroneous and, if uncorrected, could possibly wrongfully influence your decision.

However, taking everything into account, we believe your decision should be the same even if the PM report were the sole source material.

A new airport is required to secure the region's aviation future, and approval of our application is in the interest of air travelers, the airlines, the region and the nation.

Lambert cannot be expanded consistently with environmental laws and, even if it could, Lambert would not satisfy the reasonable foreseeable aviation needs of the region.

The necessary transfer to a new airport can be made most economically around 1985.

If transfer is delayed beyond that time—and a major, unwise and too costly expansion of Lambert were undertaken—it is unlikely the airlines would ever be able to finance a new airport.

Even if they or somebody else could provide financing—or if unwise expansion of Lambert were not undertaken—unless the new site is acquired now, the option of a new airport would be foreclosed.

In such event, the airlines would unfortunately be required to curtail their service to St. Louis, and the entire St. Louis region and the national aviation system would be the losers.

Let us consider for a moment the risks of an affirmative decision.

Approval of the site and also land acquisition funds is risky. The ADAP Act permits acquisition of land now, and so does Illinois law.

Financing for reasonable improvements at Lambert can feasibly be assumed by us along with the costs of a new airport.

In other words, if financing for Lambert were not available, it would be because the transportation improvements are too costly and unwise considering Lambert's inherent limitations and limited life—not because of the region or acquisition of the Columbia-Waterloo site.

The only real question is a matter of timing. A new airport is needed; the question is when.

Acquisition of land, now, preserves the option of a new airport so that planning can proceed and transfer can be made at the optimum time.

We believe this time is approximately 1985.

Construction itself could not begin until around 1980 at the earliest.

If for any unforeseen reason it later proves necessary to defer or prevent construction, the land would still be a valuable asset, and no economic loss would have occurred.

On the other hand, what are the risks of a negative decision? Mr. Secretary, if you make a negative decision and it turns out wrong, the region will have inadequate aviation facilities, the option for a new airport will be lost, and the resulting damage to the region's aviation and economic future will not be recovered in our lifetime, if ever.

Peter KostECKi elected Police Club president

Madison Patrolman Peter Robert KostECKi was elected president of Madison Police Unit 110 at a meeting of the club Monday evening.

Other officers elected were Patrolman Marvin O'Wick, vice president; Patrolman Charles Bricker, secretary-treasurer, and Sgt. Norris Horton, sergeant-at-arms.

Officer William Steiner is the group's retiring president.

KostECKi joined the Madison Police department as a probationary patrolman on Dec. 1, 1974, and was taken off probationary status by the Madison City Council at its meeting Tuesday evening, after serving his probationary period of one year in a satisfactory manner.

At the council meeting, Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz said, "I think the council should go on record complimenting Officer KostECKi for his quick action and thinking Friday morning at 3:30 a.m. when the fire at 913 Greenwood threatened the lives of eight children and their parents at 913 Greenwood St."

"This officer's actions may very well have saved the lives of these people."

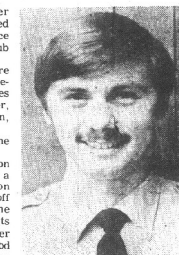

The council concurred with Alderman Grzywacz's comments.

As a youth, KostECKi attended St. Mary's grade school and graduated from Madison High School in 1969.

He then entered Ranken Technical School in St. Louis where he studied auto mechanics.

KostECKi currently is attending Belleville Area College where he is working toward an associate's degree in law enforcement.

"I was very pleased when my fellow officers elected me president of our police club Monday and I also was very pleased when the City Council voted to take me off probationary status. I would like to thank both groups very much," KostECKi said.

PETER KOSTECKI

"I like police work and enjoy serving people of the community. I grew up in Madison. I like Madison and intend to do the best job I can as both president of our club and as a police officer."

KostECKi is a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, the Madison Lions Club, and the committee of Explorer Post 104 which is sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110.

Services today for Feliciano Carrera

Feliciano Carrera, 52, of Cahokia, a brother of Mrs. Kathy Bowen of Granite City, died Tuesday at Centerville Township Hospital.

Other survivors include his wife, Mrs. Jeanette Carrera; four sons; two daughters; three brothers and eight other sisters.

He was employed at Superior Forging Co., St. Louis.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. today, at Holy Family Catholic Church, Cahokia.

Alpha Eta meets in Collinsville

Lucille Stevenson presented a program, "Emerging Awareness Overview - Let's Take a Peek," at a weekend meeting of the Alpha Eta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society held at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

Assisting with the presentation were music chairman Elsie Maylath of Granite City and Ila Lowery.

Mrs. Agnes Fryntko of Granite City, president, conducted a board meeting prior to the luncheon and afternoon business session. Jennie Raffaele gave the past president's topic.

Hostesses for the meeting were Marlene Barach and Darlene Smith.

Ruth Carr, Mrs. Fryntko and Betty J. Drayer were honored for their participation on society's state committees.

Assisting the hosts were Pattie Gragg and Susan Gragg, aunts of the honoree, and her grandmother, Mrs. Ida Gragg.

Games were played during the afternoon and prizes were awarded to the winners.

Guests attending included Darlene Winkle, Tricia Justice, Mark and David Chapman, Angela and Nathan Szymek, Crissy, Tommy and Becky San Soucie, Jamie DeRuntz, Tricia and David Harris and Beth and Angela Frixell, and Mesdames Kathy Winkle, Vickie Justice, Norma Szymek, Pat San Soucie, Barbara SanSoucie and Cheryl DeRuntz.

During the evening, the hosts gave another party for relatives of the guest of honor. Those present were maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Gragg; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nenninger Sr.; a great aunt, Miss Betty Heller; Pattie, Richard and Susan Gragg and George Jackson.

Patchworkers 4-H Club meets

New Year's resolutions were repeated by members of the Patchworkers 4-H Club in answer to roll call at a meeting conducted in the cafeteria at St. Elizabeth School.

Debbie Burnett, president, opened the session with Joan Krystopa leading the 4-H pledge and Karen Toussaint reciting the pledge of allegiance.

A craft night on quilting set for 7 p.m. today, was announced by Wendy McIlroy.

Demonstrations were given by Melissa Overath, whose topic was "mannersisms," Karen Toussaint, "Three Bean Salad" and Mary Loftus, who spoke on "Colors."

Refreshments were served by Anne Fuller, Karen Toussaint and Donna and Dee Wilmsmeyer. A games session followed.

Adults attending were Mrs. Martha McIlroy, leader, and Mesdames Sharon Loftus, Rose Krystopa, Janet Wilmsmeyer and Jeanne Fuller, mothers of members.

Hockey Blues at St. Clair Square

Six members of the St. Louis Blues Hockey Club will appear in a special program at St. Clair Shopping Center in Fairview Heights from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Announcer Dan Kelly, widely known as the "voice of the Blues," Ernie Hayes, organist, and trainer Tommy Woodcock will be on hand to talk to the public about the team, together with Blues players Claude LaRose, Bob MacMillan and Floyd Thompson.

The hockey players will present free autographed photos to the public and invite those present to register for gifts to be distributed during their appearance.

Blues members will greet visitors on the lower level of the shopping mall, at the rear of the center court area. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to attend. St. Clair Square is located on Route 159 in Fairview Heights at the intersection of Interstate 64 and Highway 50.

Schools closed

All Madison and Venice public schools were closed today in observance of the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Luther King. Classes will resume at the normal time tomorrow.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Darleen Rivera was honored on her 16th birthday at a training union fellowship at the Pontoon Baptist Church Sunday evening. Games were played and refreshments, including a birthday cake, were served to Mrs. Marian McClain and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Flowers and daughters Susan and Laura Lee and granddaughter Tammy. Mrs. Maxine Green and grandson Scotty Watson, Paul Stajduhar, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Martin, Harold McBride and daughter Donna, Charles and JoAnn Sturdivant.

Maria White, Phyllis Adams, David Senior, Debbie Harvey, Keith Anderson, Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Craycraft, Rev. and Mrs. Pat Fife and daughters Patricia and Gretchen, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harvey and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Mary Lee Kiel and children, Mrs. Diane Sexton and son Brett, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gault and daughter Roxanne, Tina Stillman, Becky Nolan and Joan Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lindsay.

Jim Green and Janet Brown of Peoria spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Green.

Jay Green of Murphysboro spent the weekend with his cousin Tommy Green of East 25th Street.

VISIT IN SIKESTON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Borth and daughter Amy and Miss Rita Collins spent the weekend with Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Hart and children Pam and Perry in Sikeston, Mo., and also visited relatives in Doniphan.

Rev. and Mrs. Rudolph Hickerson had as guests last week their son, Ronnie, of Fort Rucker, Ala., their granddaughter, Raquel, of Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Rev. and Mrs. Chester Krieger and children Mark and Julie of LeMay, Mo.

The Women's Missionary Society met at the Cedar View General Baptist Church last week with the president, Mrs. Gladys Crump, in charge. The devotion was given by Mrs. Betty Smith entitled Bicenennial theme, 200 years of freedom based on Psalms 119:45.

The lesson was given by Brenda York on freedom and revelation in beginning the new year. A thank you letter was read from the Rev. Don Clark for offerings sent in his name to the General Baptist Faith Orphanage.

A thank you note from Chaplain Rev. Michael Taitane of the U. S. Army in Duluth, Minn., for gifts received, also was read. Plans were made to visit the Cahokia society in February. Refreshments were served to those mentioned by Mrs. Jennie Hickerson and Mrs. Betty Smith, Mrs. Loretta Polley and Mrs. Pat Dickerson.

A baptismal service was held at the Cedar View General Baptist Church Sunday evening with the pastor officiating. Candidates for baptism were Tim Dickerson, Robin Munoz and Ron Medlin.

The Acteens of the Pontoon Baptist Church met during the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin, with their leader, Mrs. Bea Harvey. Girls attending were JoAnn Sturdivant, Darleen Rivera, Donna McBride, Carolyn LeGate, Laura Lee Flowers. Following the program, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Chapter HT to attend brunch

Plans were completed by members of Chapter HT of the PEO Sisterhood to attend a Founders' Day brunch, hosted by the Metro-East Roundtable on Jan. 20 at the Presbyterian Church in East St. Louis. She served a dessert luncheon to 15 members.

It was announced Chapter HT will be in charge of the program on Founders' Day, together with Chapter IX of Collinsville. In conjunction with the Bicentennial Year and the PEO Heritage theme, Mrs. Charles Kohl selected a study of the PEO history as her program subject.

SIUE offers 'smorgasbord of talent'

In celebration of the 10th year anniversary of the local university and the nation's 200th birthday, the University Information Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is offering a "Smorgasbord of Talent" to the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The brochure, "Smorgasbord of Talent," is available to clubs and civic organizations; church committees, senior citizen clubs, homecoming, parade, county fair and reunion program planning committees as well as communities planning Bicentennial events.

There is no charge for the brochure, according to Annette Mulvaney Graeb, director of the University Information Center. The talent offerings in the brochure are especially suitable for both elementary and secondary school assemblies or classroom presentations, Mrs. Graeb said.

Many of the presentations are available to the organizations free. Other programs require honoraria.

SIUE is offering a "biggest-ever" university speakers bureau this year, Mrs. Graeb said, with an extensive subject listing incorporating over 200 resource people from the University speaking on much larger number of diversified subjects. In the field of dentistry alone, there are 19 resource people available to clubs to speak on six different areas involving the human teeth.

All the current issues confronting the American public today are represented by the speakers, Mrs. Graeb said. Subject matter includes: the job market, the economy, drug use and abuse, inflation, labor relations, religion, all phases of the educational process from early childhood to the education of senior citizens, women, history, travel, research and juvenile delinquency.

A special programs feature is also included in the brochure. There are musical ensembles, entertainment troupes, tours, films, demonstrations and other activities to complement any community program. Available on-campus activities and services are also listed.

Free University tours are given continuously by specially-trained University Ambassadors. Tours of general campus attractions are available as well as specialized tours. Two weeks' advance notice is suggested. During the Bicentennial year, tours will visit the Freedom Shrine on campus.

A historical log cabin dating from 1840 has been reconstructed on the SIUE Campus and can be visited by special interest groups. This cabin was rebuilt by SIUE students and originally stood in Belleville.

Assistance with craft programs, craft fairs and craft demonstrations is available through the University Center Craft Shop. At minimal fees, the shop offers on-campus workshops in photography, ceramics, weaving, batik, crochet, macramé, basketry, oil painting, watercolor, drawing and jewelry-making. Instructors are also willing to teach mini-workshops at club meetings and at other community gatherings.

An anthropology teaching museum is located on campus, displaying artifacts relating to local archaeology, human evolution and cultural variations throughout the world.

The Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at

SIUE provides color guards for community events and to march in parades, and the cadets are available as blood donors whenever necessary.

An international community of almost 200 foreign students at SIUE is available for programs emphasizing the students' native countries. Representing 30 countries, the international students have excellent presentations showing various aspects of their cultural heritages and are willing to present them to community clubs and organizations. Astronomy viewing sessions are held on the Edwardsville campus every Thursday night, weather permitting. Sessions are free and open to the public. Telescopes and binoculars are provided at the sessions. For groups of more than 15 people, arrangements may be made for special viewing sessions.

Many travel slide presentations are available to groups wishing to learn more about other countries and their cultures. Some of the color slide shows allow club members to visit such faraway places as "Bolivia—Life on the Top of the World," "Classical Greece," "Moscow and Leningrad in the Spring," "Iceland—Land of Fire and Ice," "A Tour Through Britain," "Africa: Today and Tomorrow," and the "Byways of Mexico." Closer to home armchair tours include "The Arizona Desert," "Grand Canyon—Hiking and River Running," visiting "The Mormons in Illinois," and other slide presentations.

SIUE has five promotional films available for showing to special interest groups.

They include an 18-minute film on the SIUE campus presenting University life from the student point of view; an informational film describing the School of Business and its on-campus and off-campus programs; a 20-minute look at the elementary education program at SIUE, contrasting the exciting innovations in modern education with a nostalgic look at turn-of-the-century teaching; and a historical film on the birth of the Mississippi River Festival.

A 20-minute film depicting the founding of the School of Dental Medicine and progress of the first graduating class will be available within the next few months.

A "Smorgasbord of Talent" brochure may be obtained at the University Information Center, or by mailing a request to Box 15A, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Edwardsville, Illinois 62026.

Nameoki flood problems part of county study

Areas of major drainage problems in Nameoki Township have been outlined by Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell and are being sent to Madison County to be included in a flood hazard insurance study.

Paul Hawkins, the county's chief building and zoning official, requested the list from Whitsell to be included on an "interim boundary map" being prepared for the federal flood insurance program.

Whitsell responded with data on the major flooding areas in Nameoki Township, the list of which was presented to the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors at the board's regular meeting Monday night.

The major flooding area is Dobrey Slough where a poor outlet allows water to build up near homes and feeds a high water table, Hawkins was told.

The Long Lake area is another bothered by a poor and blocked outlet. Elm Slough has an insufficient outlet and the County Ditch and Cahokia Canal overflow onto Route 162. The Cahokia Canal and Canteen Creek also meet and overflow, Whitsell said.

The Bishop Slough and Parkview Estates area also has problems since there is no drainage pattern to remove water, he added.

Mitchell Ditch is inadequate for the flow it has to carry and the final problem area is along Route 111 where water flows from Interstate 270 and the County and Mitchell ditches, according to the supervisor.

Madison churches plan open house programs

The Madison Ministerial Council has announced it will sponsor a week of open houses Jan. 19-24. At that time, the public is invited to worship with a variety of denominations in the way that the host church usually worships.

The following churches and pastors will participate:

Monday, Jan. 19, 7 p.m., United Methodist, 5th and Ewing, J. Michael Smith, pastor.

Tuesday, Jan. 20, 7 p.m., Russian Eastern Orthodox, 5th and Ewing, Vladimir Lecko, priest.

Wednesday, Jan. 21, 7 p.m., Mount Nebo Baptist, 800 Jefferson St., Jerome Jackson, pastor.

Thursday, Jan. 22, 7 p.m., African Methodist Episcopal, 1035 Market St., Ellis Seals, pastor.

Mary's Roman Catholic, 10th and Alton, Ralph Scherrer, O.P.M.

Each Pastor will conduct the service as he normally does. Ministers will be available at each church entrance to help guests feel at ease, according to Rev. J. M. Smith, council president.

The week of services is in observance of the week of Christian Prayer and Unity.

Varied injuries, mostly minor, at university

Every "community" has its share of personal accidents and the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is no exception. Along with the usual ways in which people and things collide, some of the injuries on the 14,000-person commuter campus have come about in unusual circumstances.

A report from the safety coordinator's office notes that one of the classroom-related accidents in 1975 occurred when a student doing warm-up exercises for a dance class strained a knee muscle. And some students attending SIUE met trouble while communing with nature.

One student was stung by a bee while working at the Mississippi River Festival last summer. Another ambitious student fell out of a tree while picking peaches, bruising a shoulder and arm.

A faculty member was bitten on the thumb by a mouse in the biology laboratory. The "most unusual" accident reported to the coordinator's office occurred in the University Center recreation area. A student, playing pool, dropped a pool cue on his foot, bruising a big toe.

$425 IS STOLEN

A wallet containing $425 and several credit cards was reported stolen from a table at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road, at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, LaDonna R. Rumm, South Roxana, the owner, reported.

Freedom Fair '76 is theme

The 1976 Illinois State Fair will be "Freedom Fair '76," State Fair Director Paul King has announced.

Mrs. Lucille Albers of Rural Route One, San Jose, Ill., submitted the suggestion for the state fair name and theme and was named winner of a "name the fair" contest by the State Fair Board.

Mrs. Albers will be honored at ceremonies during the opening state fair grandstand show. She will receive two season passes to the fair, which runs from Aug. 12 through Aug. 20. She also will receive two reviewing stand tickets to each Freedom Fair '76 grandstand show and free season parking at the Springfield fairgrounds.

Seven other persons who were picked as finalists in the contest will be awarded season passes and parking permits.

Mrs. Albers attends the Illinois State Fair every year, she says. Her daughter has shown livestock at county fairs but is too young to have been a state fair exhibitor.

King, in congratulating Mrs. Albers for her winning entry in the fair name contest, said the theme "best typifies the intended spirit of the 1976 fair."

March against birth defects starts

Local March of Dimes leaders today announced the start of the annual Mothers Porchlight March this week in Granite City.

Kathy and Tommie Lane, chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Mothers March in Granite City, said volunteers will be making door-to-door solicitations beginning today and will continue to call at homes in their own neighborhoods throughout the remainder of January.

The period of house-to-house calls has been expanded from the usual two-day campaign due to inclement weather in previous years forcing extension of the drive into February, the chairman explained. The porchlight march generally is conducted on the last weekend in January.

Volunteers still are needed to help in the annual drive to raise funds to fight birth defects through research, education and treatment and services to birth defect victims, the Lanes advised.

Boy and Girl Scouts, church groups and civic and social clubs are being encouraged to offer their services in making this year's drive a successful community project, Mrs. Lane said.

A goal of $10,000 has been set for the Granite City area, according to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis A. (Wilma) Herring, general chairman of the 1976 campaign.

The drive, leaders also announced the appointment of F. J.

"Chuck" Pitman, vice president and cashier of Granite City First National Bank, as business chairman, and Valerie Evenden of the Granite City Press-Record as public relations officer.

Persons wishing to volunteer their services to help in the drive are invited to call Mrs. Lane at 877-3146, or Mrs. Herring at 877-0284.

Canisters for March of Dimes contributions have been delivered by Herring to local business firms, and envelopes in which youngsters insert dimes were distributed to grade schools and junior high schools, Mrs. Herring said.

Letters seeking financial assistance have been mailed to local, community leaders and businesses, the chairman added.

To augment the educational aspects of the campaign, a film furnished by the National March of Dimes Foundation will be presented this evening to Boy Scouts at Mitchell School, Mrs. Herring reported.

Further contributions are anticipated from the annual "Walk-A-Thon" scheduled in May, when high school students direct a community-wide "walk" to aid the fight against birth defects.

At least 250,000 babies are born with significant defects in the United States each year, Mrs. Herring said. The figure represents 700 a day, or one every two minutes.

Birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life after heart disease. Birth defects claim 560,000 lives each year — 60,000 children and adults, plus an estimated 500,000 babies who died before birth as a result of defects.

By conservative estimate, some 15 million Americans have one or more birth defects which affect their daily lives. About 1,375,000 of them are preschool children. More children are hospitalized for birth defects than for all infectious diseases combined, the chairman noted.

At least half of all mental retardation is caused by defective prenatal development, with nearly three persons in the U. S. mentally retarded because of birth defects.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes has established a network of Birth Defects Centers in hospitals throughout the country, where they emphasize early diagnosis and evaluation, and provide comprehensive care.

The centers are the hub of a new national effort to make early diagnosis, give prompt and total care and make rehabilitation available to every birth defects patient who needs it, Mrs. Herring said.

Restoration Society to meet

Mrs. Georgia Engelke will be the featured speaker at the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society meeting on Friday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA, according to the president, Jack French.

Mrs. Engelke will speak on Granite City's early history, with a special emphasis on the downtown area. A retired schoolteacher, she is a direct descendant of a family who were among the first settlers in this area. Her lifelong interest in the history of this region led to a series of articles in the Press-Record.

The January meeting also will include discussion and planning of several upcoming activities of the organization.

A social gathering will take place after the meeting at a member's home. The public is invited to attend and participate in the meeting, the president added.

MRS. GEORGIA ENGELKE
Guest Speaker

Bethel Temple marks 5th year

Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church, 2400 E. 25th St., will celebrate its fifth anniversary Sunday at three separate sessions, featuring a guest minister and two gospel singing groups, according to the pastor, the Rev. Ralph McKinney.

Worship services will begin at 10 a.m. Sunday, followed by 2 p.m. services, with the Rev. G.

M. O'Guin as guest speaker, and concluding with evening services at 7:30.

Presenting special gospel songs will be The Chaparral Singers from Collinsville and The Gospel Cavaliers of St. Louis.

The Rev. McKinney invited the public to join the congregation in marking the anniversary observance.

Newcomers Club seeks members

The Granite City Newcomers Club elected officers at a meeting held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Judy Baker, 3259 Edgewood Ave.

Mrs. Louise Ware presented the slate of nominees. Included were: Mrs. Arla Ault, who was elected president; Mrs. Baker, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Ann Rawlings, secretary and Mrs. Pat Massey, treasurer.

Mrs. Baker reviewed the history of the organization which began in 1968. Designed for women who are newcomers to the area for the purpose of social activities, the club also plans projects for both the members and their families.

The group hosts bowling teams, bridge and pinocle sessions and seasonal activities.

Anyone new to this area, who is interested in becoming a member, is invited to call 876-4374, or 931-6190 for more information, Mrs. Baker added.

The group hosts bowling teams, bridge and pinocle sessions and seasonal activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Naney, 2535 Buenger Blvd., entertained guests at two parties this week in honor of their first birthday son, Jason Alan Naney.

Clowns and circus motif provided the decorations at a children's afternoon party. Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners followed by the guest of honor opening his gifts.

Those present were Ryan Pekarik, Eric, Jason, Cyndy Brown, Sarah Jane Kraus, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pekarik, Mrs. Frances Brown and Mrs. Polly Kraus.

Attending the evening's festivities were grandparents of the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. George Naney, and also Linda Naney.

Organ Society meets with Mrs. Stearns

The Metro-East Organ Society, a newly organized music club, met last week in the home of Mrs. Carolyn Stearns, 1 Terrace Lane.

After the business discussions, Fred Johnson gave a lesson and pointers on organ playing, followed by each member performing according to his instructions.

Refreshments were served by the hostess after the session.

Mrs. Stearns announced the next meeting for Feb. 2. Anyone interested in attending the session is invited to call 944-4944 or 931-4949 for more information.

Marshall PTA to view drug film

A film on "Drug Abuse" will be shown by Officer Friendly Glenn Wright of the Granite City police department, at the Marshall School PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was announced by Mrs. Nancy Wickham, president.

Parents are being urged to attend and view the film, which is also shown to the sixth grade students, she said.

Also to be discussed will be the annual school carnival as February as the PTA's next fund raising project, Mrs. Wickham added.

CB club plans future events

A January bowling party, a "sweetheart" dance in February and a Las Vegas night in March were topics of discussion at a meeting of the Channel Tamers CB Club.

Members gathered at the Collinsville Moose Club during the weekend for the planning session.

It was reported a card of thanks was received from the Mooseheart Children's Home for candy sent by the group at Christmas.

Several new members were welcomed during the social hour.

Retired Federal Employees convene

Chapter 1067 of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees heard a legislative report on pending bills of special interest to the members given by Walter Franklin at its meeting Monday in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

President Ed Erney led the group in the pledge to the flag and Mrs. Tharrah Erney offered prayer following the luncheon.

A sunshine committee report was submitted by the chairman Dorothy Cuyar, and Helen Martin presented a year-end financial report.

A prize was awarded to Mary Briedenbach.

After the business discussions, games were played. The next meeting will be Feb. 10.

SISTER MARY THOMAS, president of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City. She and Sister Mary Ann, an instructor at the Mount Providence School for Boys, have been elected to second terms as consultants to the provincial superior of the St. Louis Province, Sisters of Divine Providence.

SISTER BERNADETTE, principal of St. Mary's and St. Mark's School, Madison-Venice. She and Sister Dorothy, an instructor at Mount Providence School for Boys, are newly-elected consultants to the St. Louis provincial superior of the Sisters of Divine Providence.

PROVINCIAL SUPERIOR for a second five-year term is Sister Mary Paul. The election affects the 1976-1980 period. Those elected as consultants to the provincial superior are Sisters Mary Ann, Mary Thomas, Bernadette and Dorothy.

Economic forms available

Forms for Economic Interest statements which must be filed by candidates for all offices in the March 16 primary elections as well as by elected and appointed officials are available at the office of County Clerk Evelyn Bowles at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

The forms must be filed with her office not later than April 30, Miss Bowles said.

Miss Bowles explained that economic interest statements must be filed annually by all elected and appointed officials and by all employees of school districts whose salaries exceed $20,000 annually.

In addition, she said, the statements must be filed by all candidates seeking nomination or election in regularly stated elections.

Since candidates in the approaching March 16 elections filed their petitions of candidacy during the filing period in December 1975, which required economic interest statements at that time, they now must file a new statement form for the 1976 year, Miss Bowles said.

The requirement is set by state statute, along with the April 20 deadline date, Miss Bowles said.

"Every time Sam gets a bike trail for Madison County, he has to vote for an eight-lane highway for Chicago," Glenn T. Wilson said Monday night at the January meeting of the Republican Citizens' Council of Madison County.

"One thing you should be worried about," Wilson told the assembled Republicans in Highland, "is the possibility of a state tax increase. And the trouble with Vadalabene, and Democrats like him, is that he's too good. He's too good at spending tax money; your tax money."

"Sam's always boasting about the goodies that he's getting for this area," Wilson alleged. "State construction projects that'll supposedly boost this area's economy, or at least give a few extra jobs to the workers in the construction unions."

"The trouble with this," Wilson went on, "is that to get goodies, he has to vote for goodies for other politicians in the other areas of the state, especially Mayor Daley's big voting bloc."

"We need someone up in Springfield who won't vote as if Madison County were the 51st Ward of Chicago. We need someone who recognizes that we can't afford more and more of everything, especially now that economic growth has been held back by the energy crisis," he said.

"We need more Republicans at every level of government, state, federal and local. We need elected officials who won't spend us into bankruptcy, and who will take a stand against the all-too-prevalent corruption in Illinois. We need candidates who are willing to volunteer for uphill fights, especially for county offices right now," Wilson continued, referring to the dearth of Republican candidates for Madison county elective posts. "And we need volunteer workers to help them."

Professor Wilson also distributed handouts on his views on the issues, and on state government spending priorities.

The Republican meeting was held at Michael's Restaurant, 415 Broadway, Highland. Other Republican candidates for state and local offices within Madison County also attended and gave five-minute speeches.

Dredging begun after barges are grounded

Two barge tows ran aground on sand bars at the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal early this week and several other tows reported scraping bottom, causing the U.S. Corps of Engineers to begin dredging operations Tuesday.

A Corps spokesman said the dredge Kennedy was brought in to open a channel at the south end of the canal Tuesday and dredged more than 24 hours, attempting to keep the canal open.

The lower end of the Chain of Rocks Canal was one of several sites being watched by the Corps, the spokesman said.

Another large buildup of sand was located by the St. Louis Terminal area and a section just south of the Alton Locks was responsible for at least three groundings in the last seven days.

The spokesman explained the low level of the river is a contributing factor to the barges running aground, but ice buildups on the bottom of the barges is another factor.

He said towboat captains were being warned this week of many areas in which they should use caution, due to shallow conditions.

"Barges are getting through," he emphasized. He added conditions improve southbound where the Ohio River merges with the Mississippi. Cairo is within a few feet of flood stage, he noted.

Carl Randt, manager of the Tri-City Regional Port District, said yesterday that sand has closed all St. Louis Terminal operations and all fertilizer unloading operations are being carried on at the Tri-City facilities.

"We are working like mad here, trying to get it all loaded," Randt said. Another barge of fertilizer and one of copper concentrate are expected here tomorrow.

The River level is expected to rise slightly during the weekend, but drop again Monday. No major relief is expected until much of the ice in the river and its tributaries melts, officials said.

Membership drive by church group

A program in the latest techniques of hair care and styling with blow dryers and curling irons was presented by Ron Shaver, assisted by Jim Chomko, at a meeting Tuesday night of the St. Margaret Mary Ladies Club.

The guest speakers, who are associated with the Razor's Edge, gave a demonstration. Mrs. Pat Muhlil served as the model.

After the presentation the club president, Mrs. Angie Shilt, awarded a $10 gift certificate from the Razor's Edge to Mrs. Linda Reish, who enrolled the most new members during the session.

Mrs. Shilt presided at the business meeting which was highlighted by a discussion on a membership drive to recruit

Thorngate studies house plants

Red, white and blue decorations set the Bicentennial theme for a meeting of the Thorngate Garden Club hosted by the club president, Mrs. Clara Schilling, in her home on Tuesday.

A dessert luncheon preceded the business discussions and the hostesses used Bicentennial coins in little red, white and blue net packets, as favors.

Prayer was offered by the club Chaplain, Mrs. Marilyn Deatherage, and roll call responses were given by naming a blooming house plant.

The favorite reading for the day was entitled "Seed Catalog," presented by Mrs. Wanda Kinsaid. Members voted to retain the current officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Helen Polley gave a colorful and interesting program on "House Plants and Flowers" by using the flowers for each month arranged in birthstone-colored baskets and vases displayed on a backer's rack. As her presentation progressed on a monthly basis, the members whose birthday fell in that particular month received the floral arrangement.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Deatherage.

Others present were Miss Jean Bethel, Mesdames Lillian Delp, Betty King, June Lux, Beulah Miller, Frances Polley, Pat Polley and Pearl Young.

Film tonight at Mitchell PTA

A film and video tapes taken of former kindergarten classes at Mitchell School will provide part of the program at 7:30 tonight at the monthly PTA meeting, according to the president, Mrs. Viva Elliott.

First grade students of Mrs. Vicki Sine also will perform at the meeting.

Mrs. Elliott said the meeting will be held in the kindergarten room instead of the gym and will be followed by refreshments, served by the sixth grade room mothers.

A skating party for all Mitchell School pupils will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Jan. 22 at the Stardust Rink in Pontoon Beach. Cost of the tickets is 50 cents.

Mrs. Coolidge club hostess

Mrs. Beale Coolidge, 2119 State St., was hostess to 17 members of Chapter KU, PEO Sisterhood at its monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. Jerry Waller gave a report on the Lulu Corkhill Williams fund, announcing the fund was originated in 1924 as an Illinois project of the PEO.

During the meeting, Mrs. Dale Roa said she and her husband visited Glen Rice during the holidays at his home in San Diego, Calif. Mr. Rice is a former coach in the local school district. His wife, Elizabeth, recently died.

A dessert course was served by the hostess after the meeting.

House to study at the United Nations

David "Mike" House, 18, a June graduate of Granite City High School South, and son of Mr. and Mrs. David (Kathleen) House, 2924 Iowa St., has been selected to participate in a seminar "United Nations in Action."

House, a sophomore political science major at MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill., achieved his sophomore standing through the College Level Examination program.

The seminar is a four-hour accredited course under the direction of Dr. Leonard Kramer, director of the Association of Colleges and Universities for International and Intercultural Studies.

The seminar will be held at the United Nations in New York City for the purpose of learning about the world organization through on-the-scene observations and study.

DAVID M. HOUSE

The seminar will include attending meetings at the UN, highlighting of world issues and analyses by personnel from various UN agencies.

Name treasurer for Reagan committee

Edmund B. Thornton, chairman and chief executive officer of the Ottawa Silica Co., has been appointed treasurer for the Illinois Citizens for Reagan Committee, according to an announcement by State Rep. Donald L. Totten, director of the Reagan campaign in Illinois.

According to Totten, Thornton also will be the 15th Congressional District coordinator for the committee; he will be responsible for all Reagan campaign activities in the 15th District, including the screening and selection of candidates for delegate to the 1976 Republican National Convention.

"We are pleased that Ed Thornton has agreed to take on two demanding jobs in this campaign," Totten said. "His distinguished record in business and his long service to the Republican Party and the community is well known. I know the campaign will benefit from his counsel and the opportunity to work actively on behalf of Ronald Reagan in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination." Thornton stated, "Governor Reagan has demonstrated that he has the qualities of leadership, and the administrative capabilities needed to be our party's and the nation's chief executive."

13 new hydrants in Long Lake district

The East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. has notified the Long Lake Fire Protection District that 13 new fire hydrants, requested by the fire district, have been installed and two private fire hydrants have been added to those paid for by the fire district.

The new hydrants were requested by the Long Lake Fire Protection District after receiving a grant from Nantux Township of $10,000 in federal revenue sharing money.

Locations of the new hydrants are: Pine and Holly; the 2800 block of Angela Drive; Stratford and Mockingbird; Stratford and Village; Route 162 and Harrison; Tulip and Lily; Westmoreland and Wilshire; Bluebird and Stratford; Village and William; John Court; Walter and Bern; Robert and Vine; Lake Drive and Route 162 and on Route 162 at Box 67.

Car crashes and burns

Robert Nichols, 23, of Rural Route One, Box 1265, Granite City, was injured when a pickup truck struck a guardrail and burst into flames on the old Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge at 4:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Nichols said he was driving on the bridge when he noticed debris on the roadway and swerved to miss it. His car went out of control, struck the guardrail and began to burn. Deputies patrolling Chouteau Island saw the flames and drove to the car. Finding no one nearby, they assumed the driver might be in the car and they used fire extinguishers to attempt to put out the fire.

Being unsuccessful, they called the Mitchell Fire Department to the scene. While waiting for firemen to arrive, Nichols walked up to deputies and said he had been alone in the car and had gone to get help after the car caught on fire.

Firemen extinguished the blaze and Nichols was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for injuries to his forehead. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Harold Davis, president of the fire trustees, said the district will study the financial picture and request additional revenue sharing funds before deciding whether to have additional hydrants installed.

George Street dies at age 70

George Street, 70, of 1904 Third St., a lifelong resident of Madison, died at 6 p.m. Monday at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been hospitalized for 12 days.

He was employed as a laborer for 25 years prior to his retirement.

Surviving is a stepister Mrs. Mildred James of St. Louis.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Appeals board ok's mobile home permits

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has endorsed two requests from residents of Chouteau Township for special use permits to place mobile homes on their lots.

The recommendations will be considered by the Madison County Board at its regular meeting Jan. 21.

There were no objections present at on-site public hearings on the requests, the board noted in announcing its endorsements.

Recommended for approval is a request from Anna King for a permit to place a 14 by 60 foot mobile home on Lake Drive in the Long Lake Park Subdivision north of Pontoon Beach, in an R-3 single family residential district.

Her home on that lot was destroyed by fire and will be replaced by the mobile home. The property is on Lake Drive, the fourth house north of Morrison Road and on the east side of the road.

The recommendation is to grant the permit for up to five years and for the sole occupancy of Anna King.

Also recommended for approval is the request of Kenneth and Edna White to place a 12 by 60 foot mobile home at 5014 Lakeview Drive, in an R-3 district.

Their home, which was near the King home, also was destroyed by fire and the mobile home would be used to replace the house.

The board recommends the permit be granted for up to five years and for the sole occupancy of the White family.

Emerson PTA explores child's learning ability

The learning abilities of a younger child and the physical and moral development of all children in general were subjects explored Tuesday night at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at Emerson School.

Mrs. Helene Kettelhut, program chairman, introduced the guest speakers, Mrs. Jean Forrest, Emerson kindergarten teacher, and Harold Rudolph, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA.

Mrs. Forrest, who has taught kindergarten through third grade levels, discussed the two stages of learning ability of children, "classifying them between 6 and 7 years and from 7 to 11 years."

She reviewed the habits of the younger pupils, their play preferences, acceptance of authority, knowledge of words, respect among their peers and the forming of "cliques."

Rudolph distributed charts, which focused on the moral and physical development of children and various age levels, and guidelines for parents to use in relationship to their own child.

The Y executive stressed the need for parents to "communicate love and affection to a child to ensure good growth and development."

The meeting opened with the PTA Prayer by Mrs. Pat Strause and the pledge of allegiance was repeated in unison.

Mrs. Sheila MacLaughlin, president, conducted the business session, with reports presented by Mrs. Carol Funkhouser, secretary, and Mrs. Lillie Paul, treasurer.

Mrs. Stella Davenport's upper primary class was awarded the $10 cash gift for having the highest percentage of parents present at the meeting.

The Granite City Area PTA Council will meet Jan. 26, Mrs. MacLaughlin said. She also reported the council's annual awards banquet, honoring "outstanding" PTA members, will take place Feb. 26.

Plans for the Emerson School carnival will be formulated at a room mothers meeting scheduled Friday, it was announced.

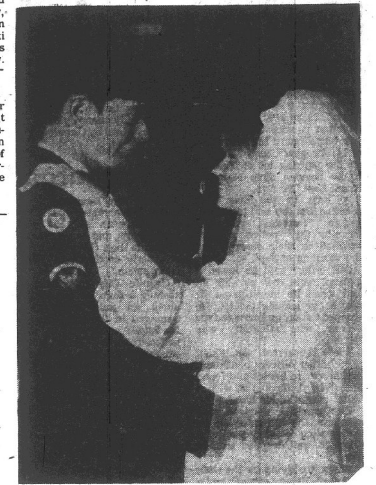

Mrs. MacLaughlin said many parents attending this week's meeting offered favorable comments about the "very informative and interesting program."

STEAL AUTOMOBILE
The light blue 1966 Ford Mustang of Craig Kalogersky, 217 Kerr St., Venice, was stolen from a parking lot at Namecki and Pontoon Roads, it was reported at 8:10 p.m. Monday.

After a question and answer period involving the guest speakers and audience, refreshments were served by room mothers from the classrooms of Mrs. Ruth Wojcik, Mrs. Marjorie Schmidt and Mrs. Joyce Lignoul.

Bicentennial worship continues

The third in a series of Bicentennial worship services to be given this Sunday at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Namecki Road, will focus on Martha and Thomas Jefferson, it was announced today.

Presented at both the 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services, the program will feature Miss Janice Hamilton and the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner portraying Martha and Thomas Jefferson in a special Bicentennial narrative.

The narrative will be in the form of letters which the Jeffersons may have written during the summer when the Declaration of Independence was drafted by Jefferson and his committee.

The Rev. Eschenbrenner will deliver the sermon Sunday, based upon "Mankind, Equality, Justice and Responsibility," concepts that Jefferson believed to be necessary for a free society.

"Land of Hope and Glory," a special Bicentennial anthem, will be presented at both worship services by the Chancel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Irene Barrick, organist and choir director.

Each Sunday throughout the Bicentennial Year, St. John Church will spotlight a famous American, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams will be featured Sunday, Jan. 25, the Rev. Dr. Paul R. Surbey, pastor, said.

Madison club plans installation

The Madison Ladies Democrat Club made plans to install new officers in March, and agreed that members must pay their dues prior to the meeting, at a business session held last week at the Sportsman's Club.

The pledge of allegiance was repeated in unison and the chaplain, Elizabeth Wisnick, offered prayer for deceased members of the club and those who are now in hospitals and nursing homes.

Mrs. Mary Rogenski, president, announced the February hostesses will be Catherine Hakkarinen and LaVerne Harris.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Sue Miller, Minnie Brown and Joann Wilkins.

Others present were Mesdames Winnie Sasyk, Georgia Graham, Rose Rodgers, Maxine Costoff, Vera Sikora, Lee Krpan, Kathy Curtman, Frances Trots, Julia Goclan, Blondie Dillon, Catherine Hakkarinen, LaVerne Harris, Hazel Swiger, Christine Green and a new member, Lucille Curtman.

Nelson trial near end

Attorneys were to present closing arguments to the jury this morning and deliberations were expected to begin today in the murder trial of Jerry Lee Nelson, 29, of 3120 Jili Ave.

Nelson is accused of fatally shooting Edward L. Osborn, 29, of 14 Veronica Court, Mitchell, on the parking lot of Tri-City Radio Service, 3130 Nameoki Road, Sept. 25, 1975.

A jury in the case was selected Monday and testimony began Tuesday. Several Granite City police officers testified on their observations the morning of Sept. 25.

One officer said he heard a gunshot from that parking lot and when he investigated he saw a car leaving the lot. He stopped the car and arrested the driver, who allegedly was Nelson.

While the arrest was taking place, other officers checked a parked car in the lot and found Mr. Osborn, dead and with a bullet wound to his head.

The murder weapon was recovered on the sidewalk by the parking lot where officers allege it was dropped from a car.

Others testifying for the state included a deputy coroner and a ballistics expert from the state crime laboratory.

The state concluded its presentation yesterday morning and the defense required only yesterday afternoon for its witnesses.

Six persons testified in Nelson's behalf, including Nelson.

The defendant testified he and Mr. Osborn had talked earlier the morning of the shooting in Charlie's Restaurant and Lounge near where the shooting occurred and Mr. Osborn had indicated he was carrying a gun, Nelson testified.

Nelson said he called his sister, Beverly Nelson, asking her to bring him a gun, in case he should have to defend himself.

Beverly Nelson testified to bringing her brother a gun, which the state alleged was the murder weapon.

Nelson attempted to outline a relationship between Mr. Osborn and the late Leo Cosgrove, who was murdered in a Madison tavern in 1972, but repeated objections by the state were sustained by Circuit Judge

William L. Beatty, who is hearing the case. Defense attorneys William E. Brandt and Robert P. Hanenney also called Granite City police detectives Anthony Eck and William Harris to the stand, questioning them about Mr. Osborn's character. Many objections were sustained. Mrs. Mary Ann Cosgrove, widow of Leo Cosgrove, was the only other witness called by the defense.

No evidence was allowed by the judge concerning Mr. Osborn's possible relationship to the Cosgrove murder. Nelson was allowed to say that he knew Mr. Osborn and that he heard of Mr. Cosgrove's shooting the day it occurred.

The jury was to hear the closing arguments this morning and was expected to adjourn for deliberations later today.

Man charged in car theft

Robert Earl Davidson, 27, St. Louis, was arrested at 14th and State Streets at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday and was charged with auto theft (by possession), disorderly conduct and fleeing from police.

Granite City officers were seeking a man for questioning about an auto trunk being damaged in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue and Madison police reported seeing a car which matched the description of one seen leaving that location.

Police chased the car to where it was stopped and the driver, allegedly Davidson, was arrested.

The witness said he saw a man crouching near an auto in a parking lot at 2205 Madison Avenue and said the man fled south on Madison Avenue when seen.

Another man nearby fled to an auto parked behind 2201 Madison Ave. and drove south. A description of that car was broadcast to area police units, resulting in the stopping of Davidson's car.

Officers searched the downtown Granite City area for about 30 minutes after the incident, seeing a man several times matching the description of the man who fled on foot, but still are searching for that man, believed to be from St. Louis.

The witness said he was wearing a long coat. When officers checked the car by which he was crouching, they found pry marks on the trunk and found the lock had been almost pried off. The car belongs to Roy Shelton, East Alton.

Police checked the registration of the car in which Davidson allegedly was arrested and found it had been reported stolen from John Austin, St. Louis, in St. Louis.

Two new tires and rims were in the trunk and officers were checking today to attempt to determine the ownership of the tires.

Victim charges son in burglary

Glen Dixon, 40, of 12454 Iowa St., Madison, has been charged with the burglary Monday evening of the home of his father, Hubert Dixon, 1112 Greenwood St., in which a 6500 color television was stolen.

Madison police said they went to the son's apartment and asked if he could enter. The younger Dixon allowed the police inside and the stolen television was in plain view, police alleged.

Dixon was taken to Madison County Jail Tuesday pending court action.

Rev. Maxton home burglarized

Mrs. Ila Maxton, wife of the Rev. David Maxton, 30 Oaklawn Drive, drove her auto into the garage of their home at 9:40 p.m. Wednesday and noticed the rear garage door and the door from the garage to the kitchen were open.

She said she heard a loud noise in the house and saw a neighbor's house for help. She and a neighbor then entered the house and found it had been burglarized. There was no one inside, they reported.

Police were summoned and noticed a bedroom window was broken but entry had not been gained there. A bathroom window was removed and entry was believed gained by crawling through.

The bedroom was ransacked. Stolen were a $250 television set, two radios and other items.

Officers found several foreign coins on the bathroom floor which authorities said may have been dropped by the burglars.

Ransack house

A vacant house at 38 Wilson Park Lane, owned by the Federal Housing Administration, was broken into and ransacked, it was reported at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

There were indications an attempt to start a fire in a bedroom was unsuccessful.

Five windows were broken and several closet and room doors were taken off their hinges and stacked in a hallway.

Entry was believed gained by forcing open a window to the kitchen.

Health board moves to secure federal funding

The newly created Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency (HSA) is seeking approval "in principle" its grant application, which must be submitted for federal approval by Monday, at a meeting last night at the Downtown St. Louis Ramada Inn.

Conditional approval was voted with certain aspects of the application to be reconsidered, specifically the bylaws and budget, according to Ted Ellerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, who was appointed to the agency's 60-member board earlier this week.

Also at last night's meeting were Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Eugene Hudson, Granite City Steel supervisor of employe benefits, both of whom were named with Ellerman among the Illinois representatives to the board.

Election of a 25-member executive board and selection of officers, two items of business scheduled for action last night, were not accomplished.

The group named a 10-member nominating committee, consisting of five members from Illinois and five from Missouri, to select a slate of officers for presentation at the board's next meeting on Feb. 11.

James R. Hell of Alton, an attorney and member of the County Board, was chosen committee representative for Madison County.

Two St. Clair County members of the board of directors and one each from Clinton and Monroe counties in Illinois also were named.

Sister Mary Roch, president of St. John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis, was elected temporary chairman at last night's meeting.

Formation of the Health Systems Agency (HSA) is required by the National Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974.

Operating on a proposed maximum budget of $100,000 in the first year, HSA will make decisions on health and hospital planning and federal financing for the bi-state regional area, including the city of St. Louis, the four Illinois counties and St. Charles, Franklin, Jefferson and St. Louis counties in Missouri.

When formalized, the agency will be eligible for almost $3 million a year for resource development and will hold thousands of dollars in federal money spent annually on health and hospitals in an area of 2,300,000 people.

HSA will replace such agencies as the Alliance for Regional Community Health (ARCH), the Bi-State Regional Medical Program and Health Delivery Systems, Inc. In accordance with federal criteria, the HSA board of directors must have a balanced membership between health care providers, consumers, blacks and whites, men and women and the geographic areas it serves.

Board members also must reflect community representatives with no affiliation, business and professional people, labor representatives, educators and major purchasers of health care, such as Monsanto, Granite City Steel, McDonnell Douglas and Chrysler Corp.

About 27 board members were drawn from the categories of health care providers, including physicians, nurses, dentists, medical school representatives and health care insurers.

The Veterans Administration has one membership on the board of directors and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council appointed 12 elected officials, including Mayor Sasyk.

At last night's meeting, the group agreed to a resolution offered by St. Louis Comptroller John F. Bass, a member of the board of directors, which will give elected officials 20 per cent representation on the 25-member executive board. The action ended a 90-minute debate on the issue.

Primary discussions focused on the proposed bylaws and items contained in the tentative budget.

Although a maximum of 50 cents per capita is allowed for planning, HEW officials speculate that no more than 25 cents will be available in the first year, amounting to approximately $50,000.

News notes

Smog-producing ozone enters this metropolitan area from distant points, air monitors show. St. Louis is among 30 cities—with high ozone readings—ordered to develop auto traffic control plans.

Chief federal mediator W. J. Usery Jr. may succeed John T. Dunlop, who resigned as U. S. Labor Department secretary.

Federal health officials say President Gerald Ford in his annual budget message next week will propose turning over to the states control of $10 billion in health programs, including $3 billion in Medicaid. Democratic legislators will oppose it.

Illinois traffic deaths rose from 1,862 in 1974 to 2,062 in 1975, including 166 in December compared to 134 in December 1974).

Secretary of State Michael Howlett, seeking the Democratic nomination as governor, is being backed by Congressman Paul Simon, who lost the 1972 gubernatorial nomination to Gov. Daniel Walker.

The Illinois Senate Committee on Fiscal Accountability, asked to study the state government's financial crisis, said Wednesday its report will be delayed because administration officials are not cooperating in disclosing fiscal data.

The chairman and three other officials of Gulf Oil Corp. were forced to resign yesterday. They were criticized by board members for a large political fund that included an illegal gift from the 1972 Presidential campaign.

Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia, latest Democratic Presidential candidate, will address the Illinois party's annual Roosevelt dinner Jan. 30 in Springfield.

Cong. Paul Simon (Ill. 24th Dist.) said this week he hopes Bicentennial observances will include significant acts, such as giving all Americans access to college or intensifying efforts to eradicate hunger.

A revised Engineer Corps environmental statement on the proposed Alton locks and dam replacement says it would stimulate economic and population growth but also would affect rail transportation, disturb some wildlife habitats and increase possible freight spills.

Greenwald signs with Philadelphia

James J. Greenwald, 23, a former star outfielder on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball team, has been signed by the Philadelphia Phillies scout, Gus Poulos. Poulos is the Phillies' chief scout in Florida and Georgia.

A right-handed power hitter for the Cougars for three seasons, Greenwald is a native and resident of Granite City.

He attended the Phillies' annual open tryout camp held Dec. 27 through Jan. 3 in Clearwater, Fla. He was signed this week and will report to the Phillies' farm team camp at Clearwater March 15.

It will be Greenwald's second shot at a pro career. In 1974, following his graduation at SIUUE, the rugged outfielder signed with the Minnesota Twins farm system and was assigned to a rookie league team in Elizabethtown, Tenn., a member of the Appalachian League.

Following an injury, he was released by the Twins. Last year (1975), he played for the Mercurys (Granite City) of the Illinois Inter-City League.

As his rightfielder, he hit .385, including seven homers, and drove in 40 runs, tops for RBIs in the league.

This year, he has been substitute teaching in Granite City School District grade schools.

Said Greenwald, "I'm really happy to get this second chance to make it in professional baseball. It's a great sport."

The third annual GCHS North sophomore wrestling tournament will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Steeler gymnasium, with eight participating high schools seeking the tournament crown.

The entries are six Illinois schools — Belleville East and West, Collinsville, Cahokia, host North High and GCHS South — and two Missouri schools, Riverview Gardens and McClure High.

Cahokia is a new entry, replacing St. Louis Ritenour, which placed fifth in last year's tourney.

South High's Warriors captured the most wins in last year's tournament, placing second to Riverview Gardens in the 1974 tournament.

Host North High finished fourth in 1974 and sixth in 1975.

The tournament begins Saturday with first-round action at 11 a.m., and concludes with championship bouts at 3 p.m.

Tickets can be purchased at the door at a cost of $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Cougars score 112

Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio members of the NCAA Midwest regional post-season basketball tournament committee had to be impressed with the manner in which the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville cagers demolished Oakland City College of Indiana Monday night.

Playing at the St. Louis Arena, Coach Jim Dudley's SIUE Cougars zoomed out to a 53-26 first-half lead over Oakland City and then poured it in to win, 112 to 63, as both the Cougars' offense and defense clicked. The victory raised SIUE's record to 4-8 and dropped the Oaks to 3-10.

Dudley's Dandies were plagued by the SIUE junior college transfers, Mike Miller from Peoria and Bobby Herod, connecting on seven of 10 field goal efforts in the Cougars' torrid first half, were the main architects of SIUE's victory. Each ended with 23 points.

The hard-driving, accurate-shooting Herod hit 11 of 16 from the field, while Miller — mostly on driving layups — made good on 10 of 14 field goal attempts.

Two other SIUE sharpshooters, senior John Strubberg and freshman Illinois all-star, Keil Peebles — contributed to the victory.

Strubberg, whose six-eight baskets early in the second half killed off any hopes that the Oaks might have had, ended with a nine-for-15 effort from the floor and 18 points; Peebles, five-for-10 from the field and a terrific nine-for-nine from the charity line, added 19 points to the Cougars' total.

Leading SIUE rebounding was Pete Catchings with 11. Three other Cougars had 10 or more: Jim Allen, Strubberg and Miller.

Al Hunt, normally one of the Cougars' top scorers, led the winners in assists with seven, plus eight points.

On Saturday night, the Cougars will be in Evansville, Ind., to play Indiana State University. On Monday, they'll return to the arena for game with Quincy.

State basketball pairings decided

The Granite City regional winner will meet the Alton regional victor in the Collinsville Class AA (over 750 enrollment) sectional basketball tournament, drawings held Tuesday determined.

In the same sectional, regional titlists from Belleville, Collinsville and Benton section survivors will meet March 16 in the Carbondale super-sectional, whose representative will oppose the Normal super-sectional winner in the second game of the four state quarterfinal contests March 19 at Champaign.

Class A competition a week earlier than the AA series pairs Fredburg-Triad and Litchfield-Farina LaGrove regional winners at the Vandallia and Bridgeport victors at the Charleston super-sectional.

RING IS MISSING
Kathy Kries, 211 Cleveland Blvd., told authorities at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday that a $400 diamond ring had been stolen from her jewelry box. The ring has 21 diamonds. There were no signs of forced entry to the home.

Softball meetings slated — can spring be far behind?

Organizational meetings of the Granite City Park District's spring softball program will be held at the Nameki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues, on two dates — Thursday, Feb. 5, for men's and high school boys leagues, and Thursday, Feb. 12, for women's and high school girls leagues.

Mike Jessee, park district recreation director, relates that the meetings, which start at 7:30 p.m., are for the purpose of registering returning teams from the 1975 season. Only managers of those teams should attend on the two meeting dates.

Teams wishing to compete in the program for a first time will be placed on a waiting list starting the day following each of next month's meetings.

Returning teams which fail to register within a 30-day period will be placed on the list behind new teams to await assignment.

The program has a set quota of 60 men's and high school boys teams and 30 women's and high school girls teams.

Registration fee for returning and new teams is $55 per team.

Mat Braves defeat Gators

Brad Peterson (119) on a pin in 3:28.

Coolidge's Mike Konzen and Grigsby's Bryan McCullough (126) wrestled each other to a 4-4 standstill.

Win in four out of six remaining bouts then proved decisive for the Braves.

The Coolidge put the Gators ahead on team points, but Grigsby's Robert Kirgan (140) won 10-2 to move the Gators ahead.

Brave Tom Busch and Gator Kevin Shemwell (90) then wrestled to a 2-2 deadlock, before Coolidge surged ahead with three straight weight class victories — Phil Belanski (98) 11-2, Jay Borchers (112) 9-2 and Victors for Grigsby were Ray Barker (155) 1-36 and Tracy Patton (185) in 51 seconds.

Barker's win kept his individual undefeated status intact at 8-0, all on pins.

Miss Edna Lawin dies at 80

Miss Edna Mae Lawin, 80, of 2435 Cleveland Blvd., a retired teacher in September 1914 at Emerson School and served a brief period at Niedringhaus School, but taught the majority of time at Emerson. She continued teaching continuously from the time she was 16 years old until she retired June 8, 1962, having completed 48 years of service.

Born in Calhoun County, Ill., Miss Lawin, resided here for 76 years.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Hansen of Trenton, Ill. and Mrs. Ruth Logan of Alton.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Special voter registration planned here

Two special registration periods in which deputy county clerks will register new voters eligible to ballot in the March 16 primary election will be held during the weekend, County Clerk Evelyn Bowles reported Tuesday.

Voters who have become qualified and are not yet registered, and present voters who need to make changes in their records, may apply at either of the two special registration centers.

One will be held Friday at the First Granite City National Bank from 4 to 7 p.m., and the second will be held at the A&P Store, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday.

A schedule of special registration periods to be conducted in the Quad-City area will be announced soon, Miss Bowles said.

Housing quality ruling against Madison apartment challenged

A representative of the Madison Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), acting in behalf of Mrs. Pauline Sutton, 211 Ewing Ave., Madison, on Tuesday night accused Mayor Mike Sasyk and John Dutko, building inspector, of violating constitutional rights.

John Henry Williams, vice-president of the branch, stood just prior to the closing of the City Council meeting and said, "We have something we want to talk to the council about. You know what we mean, because we already wrote and requested to speak to the council."

The issue is lack of an occupancy permit for an apartment at 211 Ewing Ave. by Mrs. Sutton. It was said she intended to rent the apartment to Miss Emma Dickson, 20, but that the city won't issue a permit.

Mayor Sasyk replied, "I and John Dutko offered to meet with you today at 4:30 p.m. to discuss the problem. When you told me that most of the people were working, I told you we could meet at 6:30 tonight; both Dutko and I were here, but no one else showed up."

"I year aldermen and Dutko will meet with you right now, discuss this problem and see if we can work it out. But it is not a matter for the entire council at this time. This meeting is adjourned."

A group of eight people with Williams stayed in the council chambers as Williams, rather than meeting with the mayor, told three newsmen, "I want the members of the press to stay. I have a press release for you and I want to tell you what is really going on."

"This is a matter for the entire council. The people work at 4:30 p.m."

Jesse Parro, 1700 Market St., accused the building inspector of not granting him an occupancy permit because of race.

Dutko said, "I inspected the house, gave him an inspection report and told him all he needed to do was take the inspection report to the comptroller's office and they would issue the occupancy report. The city offices are open five days a week."

Mayor Sasyk, Dutko and several members of the council were in the comptroller's offices after the meeting. The mayor told newsmen any questions would be answered.

"This is not a racial issue at all," Sasyk said. "We have a housing and zoning code and all we are asking is that Mrs. Sutton comply with the code."

"We want the best and safest housing we can obtain for all our citizens. She has four apartments and we have been trying to work with her, and she is not willing to do that. We have plenty of time to fix them up into livable areas."

"Look at these pictures. The kitchen is heated by a cooking stove, as the furnace is unsafe. Hot and cold water pipes simply run across the floor and over the door jambs. There is no door on the toilet."

"We try to be flexible as long as people make an attempt to adhere to the housing code. When someone moves out, the places have to meet the code before new tenant may move in," Sasyk said.

NAACP members said Mrs. Shirley Schienschian was refused a permit to open a beauty parlor in one of Mrs. Sutton's apartments on Second Street and Ewing Avenue.

City Comptroller Al Hudzik said she inquired about opening a beauty parlor and was informed she would have to apply for a special zoning permit, as the area was zoned residential.

William Gushfield, chairman of the city zoning commission reported she has never requested a hearing by the zoning board.

Mrs. Schienschian did receive a business license for a beauty parlor at Second Street and Madison Avenue, already zoned commercial, officials said.

Demos support delegate slate

A slate of uncommitted delegates from the 23rd congressional district to the Democratic National Convention is headed by State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon of Belleville, candidate for Illinois secretary of state, it was announced Wednesday. Delegates will be elected March 16.

The slate includes two Madison County delegates — Charles Hester, Granite City restaurant operator, and John Ubaldi of Collinsville, a carpenter's union official of this area.

Other delegates on the slate include Patrick Sullivan, Fairview Heights, member of the St. Clair County Board; Centerville Town Clerk Robert Bergman and Fannie G. Jones of East St. Louis.

The 23rd congressional district includes the Quad-Cities area.

George Wetzel, 74, dies today

George E. Wetzel, 74, of 920 Washington Ave., Madison, a lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, died at 4:23 a.m. today at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis. He had been admitted to the hospital Tuesday.

He was born in Belleville. Before he retired, Mr. Wetzel was employed at A. O. Smith Corp. and at the Granite City Army Installation.

Mr. Wetzel was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and belonged to the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307. He served with the U.S. Navy during World War I and is a former Madison County deputy sheriff.

His wife, Mrs. Margaret Wetzel, died six years ago. Survivors include several nieces and nephews.

Three alternate delegates are John Retkowski of Collinsville, Tom Lakin of E. Alton and Mary Jean Ring of Belleville.

Truck stolen

A 1964 beige Chevrolet pickup truck was stolen from the used car lot of Matthews Chevrolet, Madison and Niedringhaus avenues, at 4:50 p.m. Wednesday.

A salesman said the keys had been left in the truck and he saw it being driven away. A young man had been seen near the truck moments before it was taken. He is about 6 feet tall, weighing about 145 pounds and was wearing a blue coat and blue denim pants.

The stolen truck has a trailer hitch, no rear bumper and had a Buick emblem on the top of the cab.

Assen D. Kresteff, 62, of 150 Harmony Drive, Edwardsville, an associate professor of music at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, died at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

He had been in ill health for 10 months and was a patient at the hospital for one week.

Born in Tularev, Bulgaria, Mr. Kresteff resided in Toronto, Canada, before moving to Edwardsville 15 years ago.

Mr. Kresteff was a member of the American Musicological Society and belonged to the Music Educators' National Conference, National College Music Society, International Society for Music Educators, Modern Language Association and Granite City Elks Lodge 1063.

A cellist, conductor and composer, Mr. Kresteff received his doctorate degree in 1947 from the University of Munich and did post doctorate studies at the University of Chicago. He also was the guest conductor in 1966 of the Alton Civic Orchestra.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Police car payment ok'd

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors decided Monday night to pay for a police car purchased for the State Park special police unit, even though the car does not meet the specifications upon which bids were sought.

The board noticed at a special meeting Jan. 3 that the car has a two-barrel carburetor while the specifications called for a four-barrel carburetor.
The town auditors voted that time not to pay the bill to Bo Beuckman Ford, Collinsville, until the proper carburetor is installed.

Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell presented a letter from the Northeast Quarter of Section 36, a distance of 1735.5
feet to an iron rod set on the East line of the Northeast Quarter of Section 36; thence South 0 degrees 30 minutes East, along the East line of the Northeast Quarter of
Section 36, a distance of 426.7
feet to the point of beginning in Madison County, Illinois.
The hearing will be held at the Bo Beuckman in response to Whitsell's letter on the issue.

Beuckman admitted there had been an oversight in his company's bid, since Ford does not make an engine which exactly meets the bidding specifications.

He said a four-barrel carburetor could not be put on the car without other engine changes being necessary.

Beuckman said the township could either accept the car as delivered, or could seek new bids and purchase a different auto. Beuckman said if, due to his error, rebidding was necessary, he would give the State Park police unit a car to use until the new auto is ready.

After discussing the issue with a representative of the State Park police unit, the board voted to pay for the car with the two-barrel carburetor.
The auto was purchased by the township with federal revenue sharing funds to assist the volunteer policemen in State Park Place in reorganizing their department, disbanded in Insurance agents told of crime fighting plans

Citizen participation programs designed to reduce crime were explained at a meeting of the Tri-City Independent Insurance Agents last week by Chief of Police Ronald Veizer and "Officer Friendly" Glenn Wright.

The two officers discussed lock security, the crime blockers' program and "Operation Ident" during the meeting at Charlie's Restaurant.

The "Crime Blockers" program, the newest citizen participation plan, was covered in detail by Officer Friendly. Officer Wright said that the best solution to theft was the quick apprehension of the suspect, and the "Crime Blockers" program is aimed at that result.

It alerts people to look and take notice of what is going on around them and if they see something to report it to the police, he said. The Granite City

The "Crime Blocker" program is a two-hour presentation and will be presented to any group of concerned citizens, it was noted.

Officer Wright said the police would like to have at least 18 in a group for an orientation.

The program involves the definition of crime and the

The local police are present on a two-minute response time — within two minutes of a call — an officer is on his way. During that time it is important that the person reporting stay on the phone long enough for the of-

The aim of the "Crime Blocker" program is to get the citizenry involved to help the police prevent crime. Those who complete the course are given a number and they use this number in calling in. This keeps the identity of the crime blocker unknown in the event that anyone is scanning the police radio or picking up police broadcasts.

"Operation Ident is to help authorities identify stolen property in the event it is recovered. Under the operation, ident program the owner of property such as a television, marks it in an area that cannot be easily found with his Illinois driver's license number.

It is marked with a special gun that is available from the Officer Friendly also presented a display of locks used in the home and demonstrated the best type of locks—the ones which give the thief the most trouble when he attempts to enter a house or business. He recommended a “dead-latch,” and an inexpensive and attractive addition to an existing knob-set which keeps the burglar from simply slipping a door open with a credit card.

This method of entry is common in many areas but very easy to prevent, he said. In addition to the "dead latch" knob set, Wright recommended that an "auxiliary dead lock" be installed in addition.

The auxiliary deadlock is a deadbolt and double cylinders with hardened cylinder guards. It requires a key to move the deadlock from either the inside or outside.

In thanking the guest speakers, Robert Rouland, president, said the Tri-Cities Independent Insurance Agents are much in favor of the police department's educational program and urged the citizens to become involved by getting a group together to take the "Crime Blocker" course and use the police department's equipment to identify their property with their driver's license number.

CRIME PREVENTION methods are discussed by "Officer Friendly" Glenn Wright at a meeting of Tri-City Independent Insurance Agents at Charlie's Restaurant. Seated at left is M. G. "Mike" Reinhardt, secretary-treasurer of the insurance agents' organization.

Free college tuition for National Guard in state

Scholarships providing free tuition and fees at Illinois state-controlled colleges and universities will be available for all enlisted members of the Illinois National Guard and Naval Militia effective July 1.

The National Guard scholarship bill was certified by Governor Daniel Walker last month to give enlisted men and women in the Guard up to the equivalent of four years of full-time, tuition-free enrollment.

Starting July 1, all enlisted members of the Illinois National Guard and Naval Militia have served at least 12 months are eligible for the scholarship.

Individuals who have not served a full year by July 1 will be eligible immediately upon completing their first 12 months.

The National Guard scholarships will be administered by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

Individuals who are presently non members of the National Guard or Naval Militia can join any of the 140 separate military units throughout Illinois to establish their eligibility under the program.

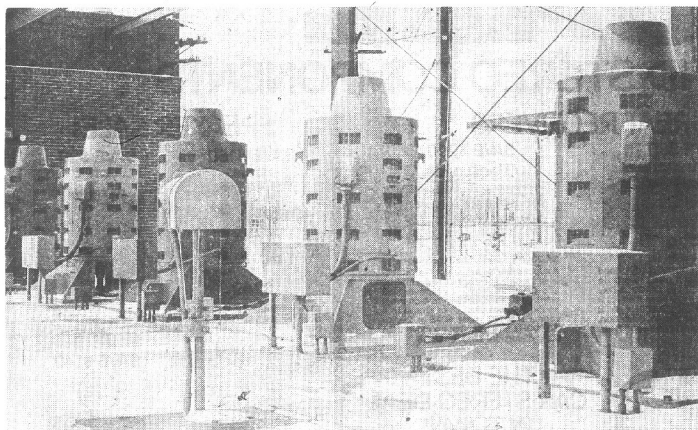

For further information, interested persons may contact any army or air base of the Illinois Army National Guard or Air National Guard. All of the state's naval units are located in Chicago.

background is an incinerator unit in which sludge is reduced to fine ash. Construction work at the plant is 99 per cent complete. The plant should be in full operation within a month, according to Robert Jackson, plant superintendent.

MASSIVE PUMP SYSTEM at Granite City's new secondary sewage treatment plant has been placed in operation to process stormwater before it is discharged into the Mississippi River. All stormwater flow now will bypass the city's primary treatment plant which in the past has not been able to handle the full volume of stormwater in rainy periods. The new plant has a capacity of 23 million gallons per day.

12,000 protest tuition hike

Over 12,000 letters protesting a proposed tuition hike were mailed during the weekend by members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Student Government. In the letter, Student Government President Robin J. Roberts urged students to attend a public hearing by the Illinois Board of Higher Education (BHE) at Belleville Area

College on Jan. 20 "to show the BHE that they really are wrong in raising tuition." Roberts' letter states that the proposals in Master Plan Phase IV (MPIV), the document prepared by the BHE in support of the tuition increase, would mean for SIUE students, a $30 per quarter increase in tuition for full-time, in-state undergraduate students; a $30 per quarter increase in tuition for full-time, in-state graduate students; a potential 60 per cent reduction in the number of institutional scholarships; and a potential $15 per-quarter increase for full-time undergraduate students in 1978, 1979 and 1980.

Roberts said if the proposal is allowed to go into effect, that by 1980 this will amount to a 58 per cent tuition increase for undergraduates and a 92 per cent increase for graduate students. Resident undergraduate tuition at SIUE is currently $143. If the BHE proposal is approved by the legislature, undergraduates will pay $103 per quarter next year. If the proposal is extended through 1980, tuition will be $206 per quarter for undergrads and $618 for grads.

Roberts also said the BHE proposal to cut institutional scholarships to an amount equal to two per cent of the full-time enrollment could affect over 1,200 students. Tuition waivers are used as incentives by colleges and universities to attract scholars and athletes, as well as helping needy students, Roberts said. "Approximately 716 students are on tuition waivers (scholarships) at SIUE," Roberts said. "The proposal will lower this amount to about 182 waivers at the full-time out-of-state tuition rate. The maximum number of people who could receive waivers under this plan is 540 Illinois students."

Currently about one-fifth of these waivers are for athletes. Approximately 352 students getting tuition breaks are involved in the Supplemental Instructional Program, a program for disadvantaged and needy students who show promise of good scholarship, according to Roberts.

Roberts stated that the Illinois Constitution guarantees every citizen shall have the right to be educated to the limits for his or her capabilities. He said MPIV will force many middle-income people out of school and thus deny them their constitutional right. "This hike will have a disastrous effect on the Metro-East area especially with the middle-income people," Roberts said. He added that most of the students from middle-income families are not eligible for state grants on scholarships and must bear the brunt of tuition increases along with other rising costs.

Roberts also charged the BHE with "sending up a trial balloon" at a time when opposition will be minimal. He said SIUE is one of only a few schools on a quarter system in the state that will be in session during the BHE's six public hearings on the tuition proposal. Most colleges and universities operate on a semester basis and will be out of classes until the middle of January.

The BHE announced it will vote on MPIV in February. Then MPIV will move to the House of Representatives for a vote. The BHE public meeting at

By RON CORNWELL
Madison County
Agricultural Extension Adviser

The 1976 Illinois Swine Seminar is scheduled Thursday, Jan. 22. The program will be held at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville, and will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m.

This program will be of interest to all Madison County swine producers. The program will feature University of Illinois specialists in agriculture, economics, agriculture engineering, animal science, and veterinary medicine. The topics to be covered include outlook of hog prices, production outlook, an update on building materials, designs and costs, a look at some causes of infertility and sterility and a summary of current health questions.

For additional information on the swine seminar, contact the Madison County Agriculture Extension office, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Full chisel plowing in Illinois is becoming more popular each year. One of the reasons is that it leaves the soil less subject to erosion than when it is moldboard plowed. The rough surface left after chiseling soybean fields in the fall reduces the hazard of wind erosion. The rough, chiseled surface is most effective if the chisel operation is carried out perpendicular to the prevailing wind.

Fall chiseling of cornstalks leaves part of the residue on the surface for wind and water erosion control. The soil is loosened so it dries earlier in the spring than if the field was untilled over the winter. However, it may not dry quite as fast as if it were moldboard plowed in the fall.

Fall chiseling is especially important where the chisel plow system is used on dark colored, poorly drained soils. Delays in operations often result if chiseling of these soils is not done until spring.

The ten highest producing herds in Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association in December were Ronald Hugen, Henry Zoelzer, Marvin Stille, Vernon Becker, Harold and Carl Baumann, Jim Beane, Elmer Schaeke and son, Vernon Warneke, Waldo Keilbach, and Mrs. Freda Linenbroker.

The herd of Ronald Hugen was high for the month with 1.67 pounds butterfat per cow per day. The Hugen herd of 103 cows averaged 44.4 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.76.

Completing 305 days lactation with a record of 650 pounds or more of butterfat was a 5-year-old cow in the herd of Jim Beane with 802 pounds butterfat and 20.531 pounds milk, a 7-year-old cow with 735 pounds butterfat and 17.007 pounds milk and a 4-year-old cow with 696 pounds butterfat and 20.641 pounds milk, a 6-year-old cow in the herd of Vernon Becker with 708 pounds butterfat and 20.754 pounds milk.

A 3-year-old cow in the herd of Mrs. Freda Linenbroker with 765 pounds butterfat and 19.007 pounds milk, a 4-year-old cow with 736 pounds butterfat and 20.320 pounds milk, and a 7-year-old cow with 683 pounds butterfat and 14.330 pounds milk, a 4-year-old cow in the herd of Harold and Carl Baumann with 731 pounds butterfat and 17.606 pounds milk, a 4-year-old cow in the herd of Ronald Hugen with 675 pounds butterfat and 16.943 pounds milk, a 6-year-old cow in the herd of George Dabber with 655 pounds butterfat with 16.727 pounds milk, and a 3-year-old cow in the herd of Henry Zoelzer with 653 pounds butterfat and 16.431 pounds milk.

Winter survival kit may ease driver's problems

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County
Extension Adviser
Home Economics

Winter is more than snowy roads and frosty windpanses. It can mean physical discomfort, even danger, if your car stalls and you're caught unprepared.

Assemble a survival kit to carry in your car during the cold winter months. Fill it with items such as the following: a first aid kit, a flashlight and fresh batteries, a small broom and window scraper, a good jack and a blanket or rug. Another handy item is an electric defroster which plugs into a car cigarette lighter. You might add a set of tire chains and jumper cables.

Make sure you too are winterized. Carry a warm coat and protection for your head, hands and feet whenever you drive. You never know when you may have to hike for help.

See that your car is tuned up and in good working condition. Make sure all lights work. Keep the gas tank full and don't forget anti-freeze. If you haven't already done so, have your car battery tested.

A battery loses power at low temperature. Also have the brakes equalized and checked for worn linings. Equal pull on all wheels is vital for skid resistance. Regular and snow tires should be checked for wear. Deep-treads tires offer better resistance to snow-covered roads.

Women should take special care in these winterizing procedures. Often they are the ones who prepare the car survival kits or become stranded in the snow.

If you do become stranded, use your emergency lights as a signal to other drivers. If you must remain inside the car with the engine running, open a window slightly for ventilation. Check that the tailpipe is clear so it is free of snow and debris.

Some pension benefits are guaranteed

An unexpectedly high number of notices of intent to terminate defined benefit pension plans was received in 1975, Steven E. Schanes, executive director of the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC), announced this week.

In the year just ended, 5,035 such notices were received by the PBGC, with 1,148 of them filed in December.

The terminations in 1975 were about four times the number anticipated when the Employee Retirement Income Security Act was adopted in 1974.

Schanes said the "rate of terminations" is highly regrettable, but participants in the terminating plans covered under the PBGC insurance program will be guaranteed their vested basic benefits provided under the plans, within certain statutory limits.

"In addition, many of the employers terminating their plans are converting to other types of pension plans, under which their employees will earn additional retirement benefits."

"In view of the record intake, PBGC has taken action to protect pensioners while case processing is under way."

"To avoid interruption of benefit payments, PBGC became trustee in 15 cases in 1975. These cases involve 1,700 retired participants who now receive $225,000 in monthly benefits."

"In an effort to expedite the processing of terminating plans, the PBGC established procedures to identify those plans whose assets are clearly sufficient to provide all guaranteed benefits."

"During 1975, in 1,221 cases, notices of sufficiency were issued and the plan administrator was authorized to distribute the plan assets to the participants."

"PBGC, as a self-financing government agency, is in a position to draw upon the $35 million in premiums collected from 100,000 covered plans in 1975 to make up the asset insufficiency in terminated plans."

Union seeks elections for state workers

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), the nation's largest public employee union, has announced that it has filed for collective bargaining representation elections among 12,000 Illinois State professional and paraprofessional employees.

Richard Wilson, AFSCME's Illinois Coordinator, predicted victory in the election.

"Institutional and clerical employees have voted overwhelmingly for AFSCME. Professionals, too, realize that the only protection they have against unprecedented attacks on public employees is unionization. AFSCME offers professional solutions to professional problems."

Since Governor Walker issued his executive order granting collective bargaining rights to Illinois state employees, AFSCME has won the right to exclusively represent 30,000 institutional and clerical workers. AFSCME recently concluded negotiations for a contract covering institutional workers which included a 7.6 per cent economic package. Contract talks for clerical employees should begin in the Department of Public Aid, Labor, Mental Health, Children and Family Services, Corrections and Conservation.

Cyprus issue will be topic

The extent to which Greece is still suffering from an internal conflict that goes back as far as World War II is one of the questions posed to Menelaos Alexandrakis, ambassador from the UN Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus, on the first program in a new "Pulse" series, airing at 10:30 p.m. tomorrow on KETC-TV, Channel 9.

Michael Witulski, chairman of the St. Louis Council on World Affairs, is the host of "Pulse," a series of interviews with foreign visitors.

The discussion will center around the apparent necessity of retaining a United Nations peacekeeping force in Cyprus since the late 1940s, when President Truman acted to help protect the Greek government by establishing an American military presence in the Eastern Mediterranean.

The ambassador will go on to consider the popular concern that the Greek government is not sufficiently stable to protect Cyprus.

Walgreen earnings rise

Walgreen Co. reported record volume during the first quarter of fiscal 1976, according to President Charles E. Walgreen III. First quarter sales for the period ending Nov. 30, 1975, rose 9.3 per cent to $269,621,542, compared to $246,761,910 for the same three months last year.

Adjusted earnings for the period, which for the first time does not include December, were off 40.3 per cent to $788,351, compared with adjusted earnings for the first quarter a year ago of $1,320,496.

Adjusted earnings per share were 12 cents, versus 20 cents in the same three months of fiscal 1975. On a fully diluted basis,

Mrs. Yakubovich, 84, dies

Mrs. Sophia (Kundrachuk) Yakubovich, 84, of 1012 Alton Ave., Madison, a native of Poland, died at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday at her home.

She resided in Fairmont City for 45 years, and moved to Madison a year ago to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Banaszak.

Mrs. Yakubovich was a member of Holy Rosary Catholic Church and also belonged to the Polish National Alliance and St. Theresa Lodge in East St. Louis.

Her husband, Alex Yakubovich, died Jan. 3, 1956. Other survivors include two other daughters, Mrs. Frank (Helen) Koszicki of Fairmont City and Mrs. George (Theresa) Siekman of St. Louis; one son, Ted Yakubovich earnings per share were still 12 cents, versus 20 cents last year, after adjustment.

Walgreen attributed the earnings decline to heavy inflationary expenses, even beyond what had been anticipated. He did say, however, that December sales were up 13 per cent ahead of last year's, and that an excellent sell-through for the Christmas season should have beneficial effect on second quarter and six-month results.

As of Nov. 30, 1975, Walgreen Co. operated 689 retail units, versus 673 at the same date in 1974.

of East St. Louis; a brother, John Kundrachuk of Detroit, Mich.; 22 grandchildren, a native of Poland, and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

No deficiency payments for wheat, barley

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has announced that it will not be necessary to make deficiency payments for 1975 on crop wheat and barley.

As provided by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, deficiency payments shall be made to producers when the national weighted average price received by farmers for the first five months of the marketing year — June-October for wheat and July-November for barley — is less than the established target price for these crops.

The national weighted average price received by producers for the first five months of the 1975 marketing year was $3.63 per bushel for wheat and $2.55 per bushel for barley. Since this is in excess of the target prices of $2.05 for wheat and $1.13 for barley, there will be no deficiency payments.

Steel scrap shortage by 1980 is foreseen

American Iron and Steel Institute President Frederick C. Langenberg said during the weekend that the nation's steel industry and scrap processing industry share "a common interest in determining where the world's scrap market is going, what problems this may create, and how we can solve them."

Speaking in Miami Beach at the annual convention of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel, he stressed the interdependence of the two industries.

"We cannot ignore the fact that competent economists are predicting a possible scrap shortage by 1980, and this should be of concern to both of us," Langenberg said.

He noted that the International Iron and Steel Institute has projected a world ferrous scrap shortage of 13 million tons by 1980.

Langenberg said some studies show that the annual domestic and export demand for U.S. ferrous scrap will total almost 81 million tons by 1980. This, he said, would require the processing of over 54 million tons of obsolete scrap, or nearly 40 per cent more than the record 30 million tons processed in 1974.

He also pointed out that many foreign countries, notably Japan and the members of the European Economic Community, routinely restrict their scrap exports.

"The result of those policies," he said, "is that the United States has become the world's only major scrap exporter."

"This raises a difficult question," he continued. "Where will the scrap come from to satisfy domestic and world demand in future years?"

"Specifically, will there be enough obsolete scrap drawn into your facilities to fill that demand?"

Analyzing the world steel situation, Langenberg said 44 per cent of world steelmaking capacity is government owned, 26 per cent of free-world capacity outside the U. S. is government owned, and 54 per cent of planned new free-world capacity outside the U. S. has been identified as government owned.

"The United States steel industry is competing with foreign governments, or foreign steel companies strongly supported by foreign governments, which tend to export their unemployment to the United States in the form of finished steel," Langenberg said.

The AISI president cited common ground shared by the two industries in the matters of capital formation and environmental regulation.

"This country needs policies designed to support capital formation and investment in industries vital to the economy, such as steel and ferrous scrap," Langenberg said.

He called for changes in federal income tax policy, specifically a more flexible capital recovery system, an increased and permanent investment tax credit, and immediate write-off of pollution control facilities.

Speaking of environmental problems faced by both industries, he said they were "due in part" to standards on environmental control which frequently are legislated with admirable idealism but with little understanding of industrial problems."

AISI is an organization of 74 iron and steel companies in the U. S., Canada and Latin America. Its domestic member companies account for about 94 per cent of the raw steel produced in the United States.

RADIO IS STOLEN

A $70 citizens' band radio was stolen from the auto of Walt Aerne, 2401 Delmar Ave., parked at his home, Aerne reported 7:35 p.m. Saturday. The radio antenna also was broken from the rear of the car.

Wood River gets grant for sewers

The city of Wood River in Madison County accepted a $32,200 Illinois Environmental Protection Agency grant offer, which is part of the agency's accelerated sewage system construction grant program.

The grant will enable the city to develop a facilities plan for the Wood River Facilities Planning Area, which includes the four sub-facility and sewer areas of Wood River, Hartford, Roxana and South Roxana.

The total eligible cost of the project is estimated to be $42,900. Based on this figure, Wood River will provide 25 per cent or $10,700, according to Dr. Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA.

"The grant program will make more than $170 million of state funds available to communities and create about 8,000 new jobs throughout the state in the next two years. The funds are from an Anti-Pollution Bond Act passed by Illinois voters in 1970," Briceland said. He continued:

"This accelerated grant program will increase by more than 65 per cent—from 230 to 389—the number of sewage treatment construction projects undertaken throughout the state this year and next year."

"We are offering this grant to Wood River in an effort to control water pollution, to improve our environment and to create jobs."

"We are working directly with city officials, consulting engineers and contractors in an effort to speed the flow of pollution control money into this construction project."

"Cleaner rivers and streams mean that our drinking water can be more easily purified. This program will ensure that we will soon see rapid improvement in the aquatic life of many of our state waters."

"To receive the grant, Wood River had to meet a number of federal and state requirements including such items as agreeing to serve the designated community and nearby areas when feasible and conforming with any regionalization requirements, official population estimates and essential financial conditions," Briceland concluded.

Michael Bakalis lists finances

Michael J. Bakalis, Democratic candidate for Comptroller, again has disclosed his personal financial statement.

Bakalis listed his total assets at $101,100 and his total liabilities at $44,000 for a net worth of $57,100. Bakalis said his income for 1975 was $44,072.

Bakalis said that it is "imperative that elected officials do everything in their power to restore public confidence in public officials." He followed a similar procedure in his 1970 campaign and urged all his fellow candidates in both parties to the same.

Howlett pledges full school funding in campaign address

As governor, Michael J. Howlett will support full funding of the state formula for aid to the common schools, he said Tuesday.

Howlett addressed a Citizens for Howlett luncheon of business, labor and civic leaders at the LeClaire Hotel in Moline, Ill.

Howlett criticized Gov. Walker for promising full funding for fiscal year 1976, then switching to a cutback. The broken promise forced school boards all over Illinois to break their own commitments, he said.

"The 1970 Constitution clearly fixes on the state the primary responsibility for financing the system of public education," said Howlett.

"When I am governor, we will meet that responsibility."

"We will support the resource equalizer formula which the legislature voted into law in 1975."

"We will meet fully the obligation of state government to our children."

Confidence in government is lower today than ever before during my 15 years as a state official.

"We can restore that confidence only if leaders of government promise only what can be done and fully carry out the promise they make."

"That is the principle I have followed and will continue to follow as governor."

"When the legislature rewrote the school aid formula to increase state funding of public schools, it contained a schedule for spreading the increased cost over four years."

"Since then, the legislature has consistently voted to meet the obligations of this law by 'full funding' of it."

"In 1974 Governor Walker said we had a fiscal crisis. He called for the 'full funding' formula to be cut $78 million for fiscal 1975."

"The claim of fiscal crisis proved to be phony. In March, 1975, the governor reversed himself and called for full funding for fiscal 1976."

"On June 12, 1975, the governor switched again and called for a cutback of $120 million."

"During these three months, school boards all over Illinois made responsible plans and locked themselves into binding contracts. They banked on the expectation that state government would live up to the promise of full funding."

"The governor's cutback in the primary source of state aid to the public schools was despite the fact that his own budget called for an overall increase of $2.4 billion — much greater than the original education increase."

"The legislature again approved full funding, but the governor cut out $81 million from the resource equalizer formula along with $64 million from other school programs."

"Attempts by the legislature to restore these funds over his veto failed in the Senate after passing the House."

"We have a constitutional, legal and moral commitment to provide these funds as early as possible."

"Illinois state government can make these funds available if we control and contain state spending in non-essential areas."

"The increase of $342 million in state government spending in the first five months of fiscal year 1976 is excessive and unnecessary."

"Much of this increased spending must be curtailed to make room for the needs of our schools."

"Don't ever believe that our schools are living in luxury."

"The schools have to pay more for what they buy, just as home owners do."

"They have spent much of their increased resources to provide special and bilingual education required by law."

"Not only the credibility of state government, but the credibility of every school board is diminished by what has happened."

"When the state fails in its commitment to the school board, the school board has to renege on its own commitment to the taxpayers."

"Under my administration as governor, the highest priority of state government will be to meet its obligations to our school children."

New airport needed if area is to grow, prosper—Price

"Unless the new airport is built quickly, the St. Louis region will lose its opportunity to compete successfully in the future," Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) told members of the U. S. Department of Transportation hearing board Tuesday.

Price's remarks were made in a statement given at the DOE public hearing on the proposed Columbia-Waterloo airport and the future of Lambert Airport.

"Some time ago, the Federal Aviation Administration identified this region as one needing a new airport. To my knowledge, this finding has not been countermanded."

"If we, however, accept Lambert Airport as sufficient to our needs in the present and future, we are in fact stating that our region will not grow and that we are unwilling to invest in our own future," Price asserted.

He then turned to numerous airport studies made in past years, commenting that studies to develop an optimal year for transfer of facilities had failed due to "a number of shaky assumptions relating to the near-term availability of microwave landing system technology, the widespread utilization of wide-bodied jets, the weighted cost and theoretical savings realized by remaining at Lambert until the year 2000."

"To compare dollar expenditures between Columbia-Waterloo and Lambert," Cong. Price continued, "is like mixing apples and oranges."

"The Columbia-Waterloo airport represents comprehensive modernization and a facility capable of handling future demands and expanding needs, particularly those associated with environmental concerns. Lambert expenditures, however, will result only in add-ons at a facility which will always be limited."

"I am confident that with careful examination of the assumptions and findings, the case of remaining at Lambert until the year 2000 will be dismissed and the proper decision of approving the application of Columbia-Waterloo will be made," Rep. Price concluded.

"Lambert Airport has served our region well but it cannot serve us in the future without a massive outlay of funds that will buy but a few years."

"Columbia-Waterloo, on the other hand, assures our future capability and should be built as quickly as possible."

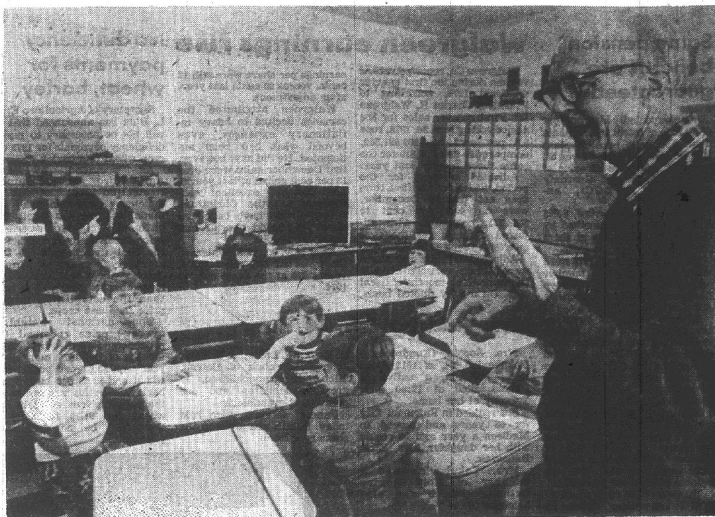

MR. MRS. JOHN BROOKS

NAME GIRL CHRISTINE

Christine Lynn is the name selected by Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks, 3280 Willow Ave., for their first child, a girl, born Jan. 7, at Christian Northwest Hospital in St. Louis County.

The infant weighed six pounds, eight-and-a-half ounces.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Guth and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brooks, all of Granite City.

LEARNING FROM CHILDREN. Hassler Whitney, a professor at the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N.J., talks with children in Helen Thatcher's room at the Glen Carbon elementary school. Opposed to "the formalism of the so-called modern mathematics," he believes much can be learned from children and from teachers, "with researchers and teachers working together to improve education." The session at Glen Carbon was sponsored by the Area Teachers' Centers Project of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

SIU coal research center to rank with other units

The new U. S. Bureau of Mines coal research center to be set up on the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale campus is expected to rank in size with the bureau's other four research units when it gets into full operation, perhaps in five years.

Joseph Yancik, research director for the federal agency, said at a press conference in Carbondale that the SIUC-based station will deal with research and development problems linked with coal mining in the Illinois basin area. He cited exploration, mine development, extraction problems, reclamation, health and safety techniques and mine technology as some of the studies that figure in long-range plans for the center.

"We'll assemble a small staff at first and they'll work out a five-year plan. There is an awful lot of work involved in setting up a center of this kind."

The center will be staffed by Bureau of Mines researchers and will be separate from a newly established Coal Extraction and Utilization Research Center being operated by SIUC. But Yancik said the two units would develop a "close working relationship."

The Bureau of Mines center got off the ground in December when President Gerald Ford signed a Department of Interior appropriations bill that included $1.5 million for its first year of operation. Illinois State Senator Vince Demuzio (D) of Carlinville, representing Walker at the press conference, said "the center is the latest in a long series of coal development projects to be brought to SIUC under Gov. Walker."

Among those, he cited the Coal Extraction and Utilization Research Center and a pilot plant set up to scrub sulfur dioxide from SIUC's steam plant smokestack.

Frank Horton, vice-president for academic affairs and research at SIUC, said the center will be set up at one of two campus sites — a building in the Small Group Housing area or a former residence on South Washington Street near the edge of the campus.

Sidney Marder, director of the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development's energy division, said the federal bureau may transfer some research projects from other stations — chiefly at one near Minneapolis, Minn. — to the new site. He said the SIUC center may also coordinate other bureau-funded research projects in Illinois.

The Bureau of Mines operates other stations and centers at Denver, Pittsburgh and Spokane. The largest of those, at Pittsburgh, employs 300 staffers, Yancik said.

Marder and Yancik said the proximity of Carbondale to major coal-producing areas in the entire Illinois basin (which includes parts of Indiana and Kentucky) was a major factor leading to the center's establishment at SIUC.

According to Marder, the $1.5 million first-year appropriation is for equipment and personnel. Permanent construction funding is expected later, he said.

Return postal chores to Uncle Sam—Simon

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Two close observers of the U. S. Postal Service—an Illinois congressman and a Washington publisher—are suggesting that the founding quasi-independent agency may yet resume its old federal role.

They are Rep. Paul Simon, D-24th Dist., a member of the House Post Office and Civil Service committee, and Arthur M. Brandel, editor of the national newsletter for mail-users, "Post-Age."

Simon and Brandel agree that the bureaucracy is better at handling the mail than big business.

The W. T. Grant bankruptcy looks like a distress action for a hole-in-the-wall haberdasher alongside the $225 million monthly deficits of the corporate U. S. Postal Service is running up. USPS has lost money ever since Congress created it in 1971, and is projecting a $2.6 billion deficit for 1976.

The U. S. Court of Appeals here upset a lower court injunction last month and allowed the first-class postal rate to increase three cents to 13 cents.

Postmaster General Benjamin Bailar said the rate could go as high as 23 cents a half-price by 1980 to keep USPS in the black.

Despite the increased rates, service continues to deteriorate. The rate hike is driving business to find ways to cut mail costs, and this could cut further into USPS revenues.

Perhaps USPS was doomed to failure in fairness, it should be noted that the fledgling USPS took off into the violent crosswinds of inflation, recession and the spiraling costs of fuel. It is caught in a vicious circle that is spinning faster and faster.

After nearly a year on the House Committee, Simon concludes that "your mail service is likely to go downhill in the near future" for three fundamental reasons:

The bloated USPS executive system impedes the flow of ideas from career postmasters, fails to perceive that service worsens as deficits increase, and is "out of touch with reality."

Simon believes that fault lies as much with Bailar as with anyone. He characterizes Bailar as a "genial fellow" who hosts "pleasant" breakfasts for committee members but provides no substantive discussion.

Simon relates instances in which he has tried to listen and learn first-hand about postal problems, but the postmaster prefers "to make his decisions in splendid isolation."

"The Postal Service is important to this nation," Simon notes, ticking off last year's figures that would seem to believe that importance: The closing of hundreds of post offices, a drop of more than a billion pieces of all classes of mail, and a three per cent reduction in residential letter drop boxes.

"The mail has to be subsidized," Simon says, "and there is no reason to pretend otherwise. But that subsidy from your tax dollars will continue to increase so long as service continues to worsen and the top management of the system remains remote from the real problems."

"Post-Age" editor Brandel believes "the ills of the country are, peculiarly, reflected in USPS" and that 1976 bids for both USPS and its customers.

"Rates mount. Lawsuits pile up. Cutbacks in service are inevitable."

"USPS is entering its fifth year. One is hard pressed to find improvements which have been promised."

Brandel says USPS was "oversold and overstocked" from the outset and "the businessmen who were brought in to turn it around failed."

"What has been learned is that carrier people do a fairly sound job," he adds, saying that while institutions may be renovated or restructured, "it is terribly difficult to turn institutions over."

SIUE faculty in program to extend teaching expertise

A faculty development program has been launched at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale through the cooperative effort of the president's office, the vice-president and provost, and the Graduate School.

Faculty who wish to participate may do so by preparing a proposal describing their plans for self-improvement. Completed proposals will be reviewed on a competitive basis by the University Commission of Teaching and Research Scholars. Proposals should be submitted to the Graduate School by Monday, Jan. 26, according to Bob Russo, associate dean.

Russo said faculty will be supported for activities that include "the extension of teaching skills, the development of additional scholarly expertise across disciplines, and the field testing of theoretical principles."

Assistance to faculty for proposal development is available from Russo and from Fritz Brecke, instructional designer, who is acting director of the Instructional Development Center.

Members of the Commission of Teaching and Research Scholars include Robert Campbell, professor of sociology; John Ellsworth, professor of government and public affairs; Ik-Ju Kang, professor of physics; Robert Malone, professor of art and design; John Oldani, associate professor of English, American studies, and history; Robert Schultheis, professor of business education; and Suzi Nall, assistant professor of elementary education.

"The Commission members have distinguished themselves academically and are recognized as outstanding teachers," Russo said. "They will serve on the Commission for terms ranging from one to three years. In addition to acting as a review panel, the Commission will act in a consultant role to the faculty whose projects are selected for support."

Russo said financial support to fully fund the program is expected from external agencies. Until support is received, limited funds have been made available by the president's office and the Graduate School.

Revise Poplar Bridge routing

The Illinois Department of Transportation advises that additional roadway segments of the interchange and approach complex to the Poplar Street Bridge will be closed effective this week.

"The closures are necessary in order for repair of the complex to proceed in a sequential manner."

The repair work, being done under a contract with H. H. Hall Construction Co. and Illinois Ben Hur Co. for $3.4 million, was deemed necessary, as it has been determined through the department's bridge inspection program that 342 expansion bearings were not functioning properly, damaging steel girders and steel supporting pier.

This week, the 13th Street Avenue connection to the complex will be closed to all traffic. Motorists will be unable to exit or gain access from 13th-Tudor connection.

The roadway ramp providing access to Illinois Route Three southbound from westbound Interstate 55-70 will remain closed.

All other roadways for I-55-70 and access-exit connections within the complex will be open to traffic.

It is anticipated that the roadway providing an exit to 13th and Tudor from eastbound 55-70 will be reopened to traffic in the near future, as the repair work is progressing rapidly.

STEAL PICKUP TRUCK

The pickup truck of Joseph W. Bolt, 427 Breckenridge Lane, was stolen from his home early this week. The white over green 1973 Chevrolet truck has a brown camper shell on the back and contains a large quantity of tools, sleeping bags, camping equipment and other items.

Veterans' families should know survivor benefits

Deaths of $52,000 veterans during fiscal year 1975-1976, with World War II service—has prompted the Veterans Administration to encourage 29 million living veterans and their families to become familiar with survivor benefits to which they may be entitled.

The 1975 death total was 61,000 higher than the total of veterans' deaths recorded in fiscal year 1974. The World War I veteran population fell below the million figure to 963,000 in fiscal year 1975 with the deaths of 108,000 veterans of that era.

Veterans should make dependents aware of survivors' benefits, such as dependency and indemnity compensation for service-connected death or non-service-connected death of a widow and certain children, a VA spokesman said.

Burial benefits for wartime and certain peacetime veterans include a maximum $250 burial or cremation allowance, plus a plot allowance not exceeding $150 for veterans buried outside national cemeteries. In lieu of these benefits, an $800 burial allowance is authorized if the veteran's death is service-connected. Claims must be filed within two years after burial or cremation, the spokesman noted.

Burial flags and headstones or grave markers also are available for many deceased veterans. The VA processes about 800 applications daily for headstones and grave markers, the spokesman said.

Veterans' service organizations and local VA offices should be contacted for complete information and assistance in applying for burial benefits.

Such documents as military separation papers, divorce decrees, guardianship or child custody evidence, birth, marriage and death certificates should be accessible to validate claims.

MRS. SHIRLEY ADAMS
BPW Speaker

"Individual Development" will serve as the program theme for the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club dinner Wednesday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Genevieve Haddix, dinner chairman, said Mrs. Shirley Adams, public relations chairman for the club and a member of the BPW board of directors, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Adams was recipient of first place honors in both Phase I and II of the club's Individual Development speakoff contest three years ago and represented District 14, Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (IFBPWC), at the state convention in St. Louis.

Individual Development classes for BPW members started this week under Mrs. Haddix's direction at her home. Through a series of weekly programs, club members learn all aspects of the business and Professional Women's objectives, realize leadership potential and take part in formal and extemporaneous speaking contests, the chairman explained.

The 1974 local speakoff winner, Mrs. Lois Wetton of Granite City, won the state speakoff contest at Chicago and represented the Illinois Federation at the national BPW convention in Las Vegas.

At next week's dinner meeting, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Adams will use the topic, "Individual Development: How It Can Work For You," as the subject of her remarks.

The speaker is employed by Radio Station WGN as sales manager and public relations representative. She co-hosts a talk show, "Party Line," from 10 a.m. to noon each Saturday with Bob Baker. The show features "live" interviews with listeners in the bi-state metropolitan area.

A member of the WGN staff for many years, Mrs. Adams has interviewed such dignitaries as former President Harry S. Truman and for the past four years as produced and conducted live, remote broadcasts of the Shriners' parade and circus in this area, the first time for such programs. She also provides coverage each year of the Granite City police and firemen's charity basketball contest.

An active member of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Adams has served as membership chairman and for three terms as public relations officer. Along with her PR committee she has helped to raise over $12,000 in subscriptions in three telethon appearances for the educational television station, Channel 9.

In addition to her club activities, she is a member of the newly formed public relations committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Adams has studied voice for 12 years and has sung at many civic and social functions. She is a former Miss Granite City and was first runnerup in the Miss Illinois contest. Her hobbies include reading, music and charity projects, with a special interest in working for senior citizens' and children's agencies.

MRS. DONALD L. DAVINROY, the former Miss Janet Sue Ronk, who was married at the First United Presbyterian Church. She is a daughter of Omar Ronk, 1637 Moro Ave., and the late Mrs. Margaret Ronk.

Davinroy-Ronk wedding at First Presbyterian

The wedding of Miss Janet Sue Ronk and Donald Leo Davinroy was solemnized on Dec. 20 at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue. Red poinsettias adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. David Bruce Maxton. The bride is a daughter of Omar Ronk, 1637 Moro Ave., and the late Mrs. Margaret Ronk. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Davinroy, reside at 1229 Klein St., Venice. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown fashioned of antique satin, featuring an Alencon lace yoke and fitted midriff. The long slender skirt was accented with a cathedral length train, created with wide lace insets. Lace insets enhanced the long tapered sleeves. She wore a Juliet cap trimmed in pearls to secure a full-length veil of bridal illusion. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations, holly and roses encircled with greenery. Miss Judy Ronk, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Dorothy Ronk, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Janet Davinroy, the groom's sister. They chose identical empire

Huffaker-Welty engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave., are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Miss Frances L. Welty, to Airman First Class, Michael L. Huffaker.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huffaker, 24 Bradley St. Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a wedding on April 24 at Grace Baptist Church.

Miss Welty is a graduate of Granite City High School South. She is now employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital as a certified operating room technician.

Airman Huffaker graduated from North High School. He presently is stationed at Peterson Field AFB in Colorado.

Shower fetes Abby Cotter

Miss Abby Cotter was complimented at a bridal shower given last week at Hope Lutheran Church fellowship hall. Decorations were in a red and white theme.

Crystal vases holding brushed yarn red flowers centered the guest tables. Several games were played and prizes were awarded, including a special prize to Miss Jeanie Wiedel.

Refreshments were served by the honoree's aunts, Mesdames Shirley Norris, Abby Cotter, Jean Meyer, Judy Brokaw and Carol Denny.

Misses Diane Marcus, Susan Province, Kathy Wiedel, Linda and Laura Dyer, Susan Parizon, Ruth Ann Christian, Sandy Batey, Annette Neimeyer, Robin Fitzhugh, Becky Brokaw, Alice Cotter, Colleen Gray, Lauri Webb, Patty Pyalka, Rhonda Painter, Robin Painter, Mavis Vaughn, Karen Hatt, Carrie Cotter, Cathy Messina, Linda McCrone, Lynne Krystopa, Deann Myers and Connie Baugh.

Miss Cotter will be married to Darrol Lee Daugherty on Jan. 24 at the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church.

TV STOLEN Mary Johnson, 1300 Madison Ave., reported to police that between 6:30 p.m. and 9:35 p.m. Sunday, thieves forced her apartment door and took a 19-inch black and white television set.

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Callender, who were married at Trinity Tabernacle in Madison. The bride is the former Miss Diana Lee Pickett, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Pickett, 1838 Spruce St.

Diana Pickett weds Keith E. Callender

Miss Diana Lee Pickett and Keith Edward Callender exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony on Dec. 31 at the Trinity Tabernacle in Madison. The Rev. Carl M. O'Guin, pastor, officiated at the service at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Pickett, reside at 1838 Spruce St. The groom is a son of Mrs. Realeene Callender, 4013 Kaseberg Lane, and Raymond Callender, 2617 W. 22nd St.

Attending the couple as best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Billy (Barbara) Valencia.

The former Miss Pickett will graduate from Granite City High School South this year. The groom was graduated in 1975 from South High School and presently is serving with the U. S. Navy at San Diego, Calif.

RETROTHED. Miss Frances L. Welty and Airman First Class Michael L. Huffaker, whose engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Welty, 2240 Lincoln Ave. An April 24 wedding is planned.

Pythian Sisters install

The Pythian Sisters of Cascade Temple 216 held an installation of newly elected officers this week at the Knights of Pythias Home.

Those who will serve in the ensuing year, are: Mrs. Olivia Lehman, most excellent chief; Nettie Conary, past chief; Mrs. Lillian Chepley, excellent senior; Pearl Thomas, excellent junior; Fern Johnson, manager; Nell Hutchinson, secretary with Mrs. Fannie Epstein as pro tem officer; Ella McKittick, treasurer; Thelma Gillis, protector and Kathryn Tudor, guard.

Installing officers included Bessie Longstrom, grand chief; Hazel Piper, grand senior; Carrie Baker, grand manager and Mrs. Chepley, pianist.

Gifts were presented to each of the officers from the temple officers and Mrs. Lehman.

Local dignitaries and representatives from the Marvina, East St. Louis, Caseyville, Edwardsville and Wood River chapters were introduced by Fern Johnson, manager.

Chancellor Commander George Gruenfelder of the Knights of Pythias gave a talk on the Pythian bylaws and their aims and also on bicentennial plans.

Luncheon was served after the meeting. Table decorations were made by Mrs. Chepley.

Jaycee-Ettes plan events

Mrs. Nancy Krause was hostess to the Jaycee-Ettes Club last week. Plans were discussed for two future events.

The group will host a progressive dinner in February and agreed to assist the Jaycees with the Miss Granite City pageant, tentatively set for February or March.

After the business session refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames Peggy Hoffman, Marlene Ross, Linda Weible, Carolyn Jones, Linda Vaughn and Pat Aleman.

Coordinated Youth office in Pontoon Beach working

Since the Coordinated Youth Services satellite office opened officially last month, it has handled more than 50 referrals ranging from food and clothing assistance to personal and family counseling, according to Greg Schmeis, deputy director of the new program.

A new sign was put up last week designating the special parking area and private entrance in the rear of the office, located on the second floor of the Pontoon Beach Village Hall, 3939 Lake Drive.

The office space has been donated to Coordinated Youth Services by the Pontoon Beach Village Board and village president until a more permanent location can be established.

A review of the cases handled so far indicates nearly 40 per cent are cases involving residents of the outlying Nameoki township area, another five per cent from the Mitchell area and 55 per cent from Pontoon Beach.

Donald D. Patrick who serves as counselor emphasized, "I want the people to be fully aware of the private entrance located in the rear of the building. It is also important for the youth and parents alike to know that all cases are held in strict confidence."

"Coordinated Youth Services has been operating in Granite City since the 1940's with an outstanding reputation for public service, a reputation which we hope to establish here."

in Pontoon Beach.

"We have been working with the local high school (GCIS North) and the local junior high (Grigby) along with our local grade schools in working out some of the problems youth may be having at the school."

"The Pontoon Beach office and the Madison County Sheriff's department also will refer youth with problems and potential problems to us."

"Our services are open without charge to any youth or family having a problem, want help but just don't know where to turn. If we can't handle the problem we will find someone who can," Patrick emphasized.

The office is open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Mondays through Fridays with emergency service available 24 hours a day and weekends. The phone number is 831-2700 and the phone is equipped with around the clock answering service.

Staff members at the Pontoon Beach office are Patrick, youth counselor; Mrs. Shirley Gaudette, referral specialist; and Miss Kathy Wilson, secretary.

A similar satellite office is located at 409 Madison Ave., Madison, phone 876-8430.

Gym program for SIUE faculty

The Bubble Gym at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville offers all students, faculty and staff a wide range of activities for the winter and spring quarters.

Scheduled activities at the Bubble Gym began this week with basketball tournaments for both men and women, followed by two days of hocky and a volleyball tournament.

League play in basketball, volleyball, ice hocky, bowling, and hocky will open Jan. 16 and will be scheduled as one-day-a-week events.

Table tennis, billiards and bowling will be conducted in the recreational area of the University Center, while the ice hocky league will compete at the ice skating rink in Wilson Park, Granite City.

Beginning this week, the co-recreation and intramural sports facility will supply a towel service at a rate of 50¢ per towel. Towels are laundered on site. Students, faculty and staff purchasing a towel service card from the Intramural Office will be able to present the card at the equipment office of the Bubble Gym and receive one laundered towel per punch during the open hours of the gym facilities.

New Lutheran choral program

"Joy," a 30-minute radio program of choral music and comment, has been added to the mass media outreach of the International Lutheran Laymen's League, sponsor for more than 40 years of The Lutheran Hour.

Tommy P. Thompson, manager of the League's Mass Media Department, reported that 20 stations have initially agreed to carry the program, which is being offered on a public basis.

In addition to the choral music the program also features Scripture readings and short commentaries. The host for the program is the Rev. Alvin Rueter, pastor of Bethlehem Lutheran Church in St. Paul, Minn.

Pastor Rueter said the purpose of the program is "quite simple—to proclaim the Gospel through radio. It is through the union of music and commentary that we announce the Good News."

Thompson said "Joy" is the first LLL program to be regularly produced in stereo. The program is primarily designed for use by "easy listening" and "good music" stations.

"We are all excited about 'Joy,'" Thompson added. "It is a very good program and the prospects for its success seem great. We are indeed fortunate to have a man like Pastor Rueter available to us."

"He is not a newcomer to radio," Thompson said. "He began his broadcasting career in 1955 in Tulsa, Okla. For 20 years he was host of 'Music on High,' a Gospel program using music."

Commenting on the program's title, Thompson said the single word, "Joy," seems to "express rather graphically what a life in Jesus Christ gives to a person."

The theme for the program is Johann Sebastian Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." The International LLL is an auxiliary organization of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod. Besides sponsoring The Lutheran Hour, which is carried by some 1,800 radio stations around the world, the League sponsors Preaching Through the Press, an evangelism program utilizing advertisements in major newspapers and magazines; and is co-sponsor with the LCMS of "This Is The Life," television program.

First Aid class for instructors

The St. Louis BiState Red Cross Chapter will conduct an instructor's course in Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care on Saturday, Feb. 7 and Saturday, Feb. 14, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the office headquarters in St. Louis.

Mrs. Mildred Meehan, executive secretary of the Tri-City Red Cross Chapter, said area residents interested in taking the course, or who want further information, are invited to call the St. Louis chapter at 314-658-2094.

Program to acquaint all candidates with state campaign financing act

State Board of Elections Chairman Franklin J. Lundberg Jr. has announced that the Illinois State Board of Elections is beginning a major program relating to the Illinois Campaign Financing Act.

Ultimate goal of the program is to insure that every candidate familiarized with the act and state basis thoroughly understands the Illinois Campaign Financing Act and how to comply with the act.

Lundberg said that the board, in conjunction with county clerks, will hold a series of workshops at 10 locations throughout the state. Lundberg said interested candidates, committees, and citizens should contact their local county clerk, or the State Board of Elections, for the location of the workshop nearest them.

Lundberg added, it is a primary goal of the State Board of Elections to help bring about greater understanding of and participation in the electoral process. In addition, he said that he hoped to obtain full voluntary compliance with the Campaign Financing Act by those seeking election to public office and by political committees and other persons supporting those candidates.

Lundberg, however, said he will vigorously exercise the board's enforcement authority whenever there is a violation of the Act.

Publisher on State Fair Board

A Central Illinois newspaper publisher has been named to the new Illinois State Fair Board by Senate Minority Leader William C. Harris, R-Pontiac.

Robert E. Best, publisher of the Moultrie County News, Sullivan, is one of three appointments to the board made by Sen. Harris. The new board was established by the State Fair Reform Act by the legislature during the last session over Gov. Dan Walker's veto. The governor is challenging the act in court.

Best has been publisher of the Moultrie County News since 1961. Before that he was assistant to the Pennsylvania Director of Agriculture, responsible for publicity for the Pennsylvania State Farm Show, the equivalent of the Illinois State Fair. He also was involved in publicity for the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

After graduating from the University of Missouri with a B.S. degree in Agriculture, Best served in the U.S. Navy. His college work was concentrated in agriculture, agronomy and agricultural journalism. After military service he was editor of Lancaster Farming, a farm newspaper in Lancaster, Pa., the county with the highest gross agriculture sales of any county in the nation.

Best is first vice-president of the Illinois Press Association, having served as treasurer and third and second vice-presidents. He and his wife Marian have two children, a daughter in college and a son in high school. They also publish the Bethany Echo and the Findlay Enterprise.

Sen. Harris also appointed Charles S. Potter, Chicago, president of the Union Stockyard and Transit Co., Chicago, and Ronald Schaeffberger, Greenville, 1975 Illinois Farm Bureau Outstanding Young Farmer.

Jan. 31 deadline for W-2 tax forms

Many Central and Southern Illinois taxpayers will not be able to receive early refunds this year unless they receive their W-2 forms from their employers soon.

Sen. Harris announced Service District Director Ira S. Loeb today reminded employees Saturday, Jan. 31, is the last day to have completed W-2 forms in the hands of their employees.

IRS Publication 15, "Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide," available free from IRS District offices, contains additional information on the proper handling of W-2 forms.

New equipment in use to televise sanitary sewers

Televising of the interior of Nameoki area sanitary sewer lines has been initiated on a daily basis by the Granite City street and engineering departments as the first phase of a long-range program to rehabilitate the sanitary sewer system where more than 40 breaks have plagued that area over the past several years.

At the same time, grouting equipment which is used to insert a sealing compound under air pressure between sewer tiles that are not properly joined, or to fill in cracks, also is in use and proving highly successful, according to City Engineer Monroe Brewer.

The television and grouting equipment were purchased by Granite City early in November at a cost of $42,000 on the recommendation of the street and sewer departments after investigating prices of four different systems and the work each system would handle. The equipment was purchased from the Cues Co.

Brewer said the televising equipment permits a thorough interior inspection of the sewer lines by a camera which is pulled by cables through the line from one manhole to another. The pictures are transmitted to tape on which a coded record of date, time and location of the lines are recorded constantly for reference when the tapes are studied later.

The grouting equipment also is pulled through the sewer lines by cables from equipment at the manhole. When disjointed tiles or cracks are located, compressed air is forced into a balloon-type unit that presses against the sewer opening and forces grouting material into the joint or crack.

The televising and grouting system was recommended as the first step in solving the city's sewer problems in the Nameoki area where a high water table causes sewer lines to "float" and break. A total of 43 sewer breaks has occurred since the spring of 1973 when interior flooding resulted from heavy rains.

The recommendation was made in a survey completed by Sverdrup & Parcel, St. Louis planning engineers, and Dr. Robert Koepke, geologist at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The survey recommended priorities for rehabilitation of different sections of the Nameoki area. Brewer said the televising and grouting equipment now is being used on sewer lines in the Lynch Avenue and adjoining areas which were listed in the engineering survey as priority one for attention in rehabilitation work. The equipment now in use was purchased without bidding because of the various types of systems for televising and grouting that are available.

Brewer and Street Superintendent Lionel Portell reported to the City Council that it had obtained prices from four firms, along with the performance capabilities of the different systems.

PAVING OF UNDERPASS has started in Venice, County Road 151, Main Street and the McKinley Bridge. The segment will carry Broadway traffic in the future to Federal Aid Route 151, Main Street and the McKinley Bridge.

'Piccadilly' TV series

A contemporary potpourri of the best British comedy, light diversion, serious drama and docudrama, "Piccadilly Circus," debuts at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 19 on KETC-TV, Channel 9. Airing once each month, "Piccadilly Circus" will introduce modern classics of British entertainment to American audiences. The series opens with the biting wit of "Dave Allen at Large."

"Piccadilly Circus" introduces a variety of British comedy, from the Scottish impersonator, Stanley Baxter, to "The Goodies," the adventures of three Cambridge alumni interspersed with imaginative graphics.

High-quality drama is also included. A much-acclaimed version of "Alice Through the Looking Glass" will be shown. Other "Piccadilly Circus" presentations are a docudrama on the life of a traveling circus family, "The Circus Moves On," "The General's Day," starring Alistair Sims and Annette Crosby; and insights into two popular forms of entertainment for the British, the horse show and the variety show.

Jeremy Brett, a Shakespearean actor and variety show idol, will host the series.

Glik's open 12th store

Brewer said the Cues equipment was recommended primarily because it was considered the best system due to the codification of data on the tape, an advantage which other systems did not have. Cost of the Cues equipment was $6,000 less than the highest cost offer, and $5,000 more than the lowest price offer, but included a number of advantages not offered by the company with the lowest offer, Brewer said. Brewer explained that the city hopes to acquire 75 per cent of the cost of the televising equipment and grouting machines in U.S. funds. Under permission granted by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the acquisition of the system was made under the contract held by the city with the G. L. Tarlton Contracting Co. of St. Louis as part of the cost of building the secondary sewage treatment plant.

Brewer said application for the grant to cover 75 per cent of the cost of the television and grouting equipment is now being considered by EPA.

Purchase of the Cues Co. equipment was approved by the City Council after it was recommended by Brewer and Portell, it was noted.

Impressive approach to a difficult regional airport decision by head of U. S. Transportation Department

The many presentations of fact and opinion at this week's regional airport hearing will take weeks for citizens and U. S. Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. to fully sort out and evaluate. But a preliminary conclusion already apparent is that the secretary is making a considerable effort to find and weigh all the factors and to reach a sound decision despite gargantuan political pressures.

His cross-examination technique before a large audience may have upset some of the witnesses, many of whom lacked massive supporting statistics for their assertions. But

Mr. Coleman tempered this approach with humorous banter to keep the proceedings at low key. And he was quick to intervene before any of the "pro" or "con" witnesses could question the motives of other participants.

It would take a "Philadelphia lawyer" with airline experience to analyze all of the data. But, fortunately, that is an exact description of Secretary Coleman.

It was a virtuoso performance—one that all parties hope will be matched by an equally impressive decision in February or March.

Confidence in staff reflected by GC Steel promotions

Appointment of Robert D. McBride as president of the Granite City Steel Division reflects National Steel Corporation's confidence in the staff of the local plant. The new division president has been associated with Granite City Steel for the past 20 years, advancing through the ranks to shoulder steadily increasing responsibilities.

James V. Stack, who served at the local division for a short period of time in the 1970s, is the new president of Midwest Steel Division at Portage, Ind., in the Chicago area.

Both succeeded Howard M. Love, who headed the two divisions before being elected in December as the new president of National Steel.

George Pulianias, who was vice president-administration and accounting for both Granite City Steel and Midwest Steel, has been named assistant vice president and assistant to the president of National Steel.

Love and Pulianias will be based at the new National Steel headquarters in the Mercantile Tower in St. Louis; McBride will continue to be based at the division headquarters in Granite City. The personnel changes—involving young but highly experienced leaders—indicate that both the corporation and its many divisions will be in the best position to meet the diverse challenges of the late 1970s and beyond.

Steel capital needs are awesome

By FREDERICK C. LANGENBERT
President
American Iron and Steel Institute

I am generally optimistic about the domestic steel industry's prospects for 1976.

Assuming the overall economy continues to improve at its present pace, the steel industry is expected to ship between 95 million and 97 million tons of steel to its customers. That would be the third highest annual total in the industry's history.

After the two best years in its history—1973 and 1974—the recession dragged domestic steel production down to an estimated 116 million tons for 1975 and shipments to an estimated 90 million tons, the lowest levels since 1963.

Steel industry profits were battered in 1975, after a two-year improvement during which the industry's return on stockholders' equity climbed to the average for all manufacturing.

Throughout 1975, the environment, international trade, energy, and meeting capital requirements were matters of deep concern to the industry. They still are.

In 1975, Arthur D. Little, Inc., a highly respected engineering and consulting firm, concluded the most thorough study ever made of the cost impact of environmental requirements on the steel industry.

It shows that mandated regulations will require steel companies to invest $12 billion to $14 billion in environmental control equipment by 1983.

The industry has already committed close to $3 billion to environmental control. Through its efforts to date, the industry has eliminated or is controlling well over 90 per cent of its emissions.

Breaking-down the costs, Arthur D. Little found that controlling "fugitive emissions" may require the spending of almost $3 billion. Fugitive emissions are those emissions lost in concentration that escape capture by the principal control devices.

They constitute an extremely small percentage of the potential pollution at steel mills.

It is possible, in many cases, that generating the energy to run the equipment to clean up fugitive emissions will produce more pollution at a different source than is removed at the mill.

These are disturbing findings. They point up problems posed by "overkill" in the imposition of environmental standards.

Wasting capital and other resources, overkill can adversely affect efforts to curb inflation and increase employment. And it actually can have a counterproductive effect on the environment.

We must as a nation achieve a reasonable balance between the goal of enhancing air and water quality and other equally desirable goals.

The ability of the steel industry to meet its capital requirements was called "a critical national concern" by the Arthur D. Little study.

Those requirements add up to an estimated $5 billion per year, an amount currently beyond the ability of the industry to finance.

Included among those requirements are $2 billion per year for modernization and replacement of existing steelmaking facilities—and $3 billion per year to expand capacity enough to meet the long-term growth of steel demand in the U. S. and avoid the kind of steel shortages that occurred in 1973 and 1974.

These were the years in which Americans were forced to pay huge premiums for foreign steel.

The industry is doing its best to meet future national requirements for steel. Expansion projects were announced in 1974 and 1975 that would add about 21.5 million tons to annual steel-making capability.

The low level of business, however, has put a strain on the funds available for these projects.

And industry leaders have warned that a substantial increase in operations and profitability will be needed to complete the projects announced and to undertake the additional projects required to increase capacity by the total of 30 million tons needed by the 1980s.

Although less steel was imported in 1975 than in 1974—due to the low level of domestic consumption—imports' share of the market actually increased about the same. In some specialty steel product lines, imports took up to 50 per cent or more of the market.

Industry leaders are concerned about unfair trade advantages being used by foreign steel producers to increase their penetration of our market. These include such practices by overseas governments as paying subsidies to their steel producers on shipments to the United States.

We have an instrument for dealing with those practices. It is the Trade Act of 1974. All that needs to be done is for the government to carry out the intent of the Congress in the implementation of the Act.

It is clear. In passing the Act, Congress said it wanted a better worldwide deal for America's industries and for America's workers.

We urge the government to recognize and follow through on that intent of the Act.

For the long run, we hope that—through international negotiations—fair trade to the present and procedures can be developed for avoiding unemployment and other damaging consequences of market disruption.

Steel is an energy-intensive industry, and close to 70 per cent of the industry's energy needs are met by coal, the nation's most abundant energy source.

Nonetheless, the industry has been engaged in an all-out voluntary energy conservation program.

Using 1972 energy consumption as a base, the industry's 1980 goal is to reduce its energy consumption eight per cent per net ton of steel shipments.

The success of the program depends heavily upon a level of production high enough to allow optimum utilization of facilities, and upon being able to replace old facilities with more efficient ones.

There are some steel operations in which there is no substitute for natural gas. So, the industry is very much concerned about its availability.

It believes that the best way to stimulate natural gas exploration and production is to deregulate the well-head price of the fuel.

In general, the industry believes that market conditions—government controls—should determine the price of energy forms so that there will be maximum incentive to provide the nation with the fuels it needs.

From 1975 and the making of canons for the Continental Army up to the present, iron and steelmakers have played an important part in the growth and development of the nation.

Today, out of every 2,000 pounds of all metal used in the United States, over 1,600 pounds are iron and steel. As the nation enters its third century, I see no evidence that the role of the iron and steel industry and its products will diminish.

SP sees '76 victory in Illinois

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD Illinois
Republicans are alive and well, thank you.

For weeks Illinois Democrats have dominated the news with all the furor over slatemaking and the emergence of the Gov. Dan Walker versus Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett gubernatorial primary battle.

With virtually every Statehouse Democrat of consequence scrambling for a spot on that 1976 ticket, there has been a tendency in state political circles to write off the GOP as a serious contender in 1976.

Fortunately, for the continued health of the two-party system in this state, the Republican leadership does not look at the situation this way. And what is perhaps more important, that is the private as well as public view.

Surprisingly, the Republicans are looking to the 1976 state campaign with a degree of optimism. This despite the fact that President Ford's popularity is questionable and the country is still in a business recession and the Democrats' state ticket appears likely to be headed by one of the best vote-getters in Illinois history.

Why, one might ask, in the face of all this and with all the nightmare memories of the 1974 debacle still fresh, would any Republican with the brains, knowledge and experience to advance to a position of leadership in the party, look to the coming year with anything but the deepest foreboding?

But an objective look at the current hand realities of politics in this state does provide some solid reasons for growing GOP encouragement.

First and foremost it is now obvious that Illinois Democrats face their most bitter primary fight in 40 years. Whether Howlett wins, as most people in politics expect, or whether Walker scores another upset, the wounds are going to be deep and cannot be expected to heal completely from March to November.

Tendency to kiss and make-up after primary differences far more effectively than has Republicans. But this year is likely to be different.

Probably never before has public interest focused so intensely on the traditions of Democratic slatemaking process and the dominant role played by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

More often than ever before the question is raised: Why should one man, or at best a handful of men, wield such

Given the current mood of America, such questioning could become political dynamite.

The question invariably arises as to whether the Republicans have the political acumen to take advantage of the Democrats' troubles. The GOP is known to be rent with factions, jealousies and divisions.

However, the Republican rifts smolder beneath the surface, while the current Democratic blood-letting is clearly out in the open for all to see.

It is true that a good many Republicans must be disappointed by the failure of Attorney General William J. Scott to come out early for the party's front-runner for governor, James R. Thompson. But some say the continued GOP primary neutrality may pay returns in the future by contrasting the Republicans' traditional open primary with the Democratic slatemaking charade.

In any event, Republicans, most of whom wanted Scott to run for governor himself, are pleased to have him come over on the ticket and say that his presence there rules out any possibility of a Democratic sweep.

With a sweep blocked, Republicans are genuinely hopeful of winning at least two statewide offices.

Comptroller George Lindberg is considered a good bet for re-election and Republicans suddenly are looking at the secretary of state's office with renewed interest.

Q. I recently moved to a State which taxes personal property. How do I determine which of these items are deductible personal property taxes?

A. First, a deductible personal property tax must be an ad valorem tax, that is, one based on the value of the personal property. It must also be imposed on a personal basis, even if it is collected more or less frequently.

The tax may be considered to be imposed on personal property even if it is imposed on the exercise of a privilege. For example, an ad valorem tax called a registration fee, imposed on a car for the privilege of using the highways, is still considered a property tax.

Cultural change factor in prohibition struggle

(Sangamon State University)

The eventual ratification of the federal prohibition amendment by the Illinois legislature in January, 1919, ended one battle in a much broader and longer cultural struggle between the state's old-stock, traditionally Protestant population and its new-stock, largely non-Protestant citizens.

By 1910, 33 per cent of the state's people were second-generation Americans, mostly of Irish, German, Scandinavian, or Eastern European origin—groups unknown in Illinois when it became a state in 1818.

Differences in customs and religion between "old" and "new" Illinoisans were profound as illustrated by the clash over the use of alcoholic beverages.

The elder natives viewed them as a source of evil that threatened the American system, while the newer immigrants found them critical to important segments of their culture.

Among the groups in the state which felt threatened by the growing influence of the new arrivals and which demanded various degrees of Americanization were the Anti-Saloon League, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and the Protestant churches.

Thus, immigrants and natives split on the issue of Sunday drinking, the latter arguing that imbibing on the Sabbath encouraged socialism and anarchism.

decline of the Anglo-Saxon race in America and provide a means of control over the "racial impurity" they saw entering the state with the new population.

In each instance, new stock Illinoisans opposed the arguments for prohibition, the most effective lobby being the United Societies composed of ethnic minority groups and founded by Anton Cermak, leader of Chicago's Czechoslovakian element and a future mayor of the city.

Also advocating personal temperance rather than prohibition were the Roman Catholic, Jewish, and Lutheran churches.

In determining individual positions, ethnic and religious factors overshadowed both the issue in Chicago and downstate and political affiliation, as Democratic legislators from Chicago voted dry while Protestant and downstate Republican legislators voted wet if they were Catholic or a whole series of pre-amendment prohibition measures.

The modern political struggle for prohibition in Illinois began in 1907 when the Rev. Clay Daumer of Danville introduced an abortive constitutional amendment providing for statewide prohibition.

While the amendment was defeated, the wets were forced to accept a township-option bill which remained in effect until the federal amendment was passed.

The two most important legislative votes, however, came on a proposal for statewide prohibition in 1917 and on the federal amendment two years later.

The legislature split along the religious and ethnic lines which had divided the state for years. Statewide prohibition passed the Senate 31 to 18 but failed in the House 67 to 80.

An analysis of the vote shows that in Urge removal of gas price controls

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A concerted deadline drive to ask people to urge their U.S. Congressmen to deregulate the price of natural gas included the Quad-City area late last week as a representative of Energy Research Associates, Dallas, Texas, came here for meetings with news media representatives.

Charles Rosenthal, director of industry affairs for Schlumberger Well Services, Houston, Texas, a company which provides technical and engineering services to the petroleum industry, outlined the Energy Research Associates position during a visit to the Press-Record.

He said he was in this area as a volunteer, to speak on the energy problems in this country and that he receives no fees and pays his own expenses for trips booked by Energy Research Associates.

He explained Energy Research Associates was formed by a small group of energy-oriented small businessmen "who are convinced that the voting public holds the key to energy independence."

He said when Congress resumes sessions Jan. 19, a bill to deregulate the price of natural gas is expected to be one of the first discussed.

Rosenthal contended that three of five southern Illinois congressmen are in favor of deregulating the price of natural gas and the other two, Melvin Price and Paul Simon, are undecided and seeking opinions from the voters.

Rosenthal, who contends four of five voters in Southern Illinois are for deregulating the price of natural gas, is urging everyone to write Price and Simon urging them to help remove the price ceilings.

Many of the facts cited by Rosenthal are undisputed, including statements that one-third of all energy used in the U.S. is natural gas and one-half of all industrial fuel is natural gas, connecting the gas supply very closely with employment and unemployment.

It also is generally accepted that natural gas drilling companies are not going to drill new wells if the cost of the gas is so low that the drilling company can not make a profit, although there are some who believe the prices now in effect, are high enough to assure a profit to new wells.

The Energy Research Associates position is that the government-set price of 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas from "old" wells and the 52 cents per 1,000 cubic feet from new wells — prices imposed upon all natural gas shipped across state lines — are too low to encourage new drilling.

Rosenthal cited Texas, where there is a surplus of natural gas, as an example of the effect of no regulations.

Since much gas is produced in Texas and sold in the same state, it is not subject to the Interstate Commerce Commission's price ceilings and the price has been allowed to "float" or seek its own level on the open market.

He said Texas was experiencing a shortage of natural gas which had reached crisis proportions in 1974 when schools were forced to close, as well as much industry being shut down due to the shortage. Natural gas was selling for $1.52 per 1,000 cubic feet at that time.

CHARLES ROSENTHAL

The price was allowed to float and increased to $2.07 in the beginning of 1975, when it peaked and began to drop. It settled at $1.75 for a time and since has dropped to about $1.35 per 1,000 cubic feet, Rosenthal indicated.

The present price in Texas is very close to the price paid in the Quad-City area which averages about $1.31 per 1,000 cubic inches, or 13.1 cents per therm.

Rosenthal indicated that, if price controls on natural gas are lifted, the price may increase for a time, but may be expected to settle close to the present price.

He said the reason the price normally increases and then drops is the result of unnatural governmental interference in the free market system, as the price works its way toward where it would have been without the interference.

He contended as the price is allowed to rise, more companies will use the surplus capital to drill more natural gas wells and the amount of gas available will increase.

Under the law of supply and demand, when the natural gas supply is sufficient to meet the demand, or exceeds the demand, the price will drop, probably to near its present level, he contended.

Rosenthal said another factor which affects the cost is that consumers presently are paying $4.4 billion per year for unused capacity in underground storage facilities and other natural gas handling equipment, even though natural gas is passing through it.

There is an estimated 15 percent shortage of natural gas in America, but much of the equipment necessary to handle that amount of gas is "on the service line" and is being paid for by the natural gas user, even though it is not being used.

This means that the price of new natural gas to consumers can be decreased by $4.4 billion over the cost if new equipment had to be used, Rosenthal explained.

He said Congress presently is considering two bills dealing with natural gas prices. One, House Resolution 960, eases controls on gas prices, but has no long-term provisions which would give incentives for new wells to be drilled.

The Energy Research Associates group called this resolution a sugar pill for the public to indicate that Congress is doing something about the problem, but is about as effective as a band-aid on a cancer.

It is suggested by Rosenthal that voters ask their Congressmen to amend the legislation to provide long-term lifting of price controls.

The second piece of legislation being watched is Senate Bill 5310, passed on a 58 to 32 vote of the U.S. Senate, which removes controls on new natural gas produced on land it does not affect off-shore wells, as controls there will be phased out over a six-year period, if the bill becomes law.

The bill further provides that the bulk of any price raises caused by lifting the controls will be paid by industrial users, not by residential customers, Rosenthal noted.

He said the Senate bill, thought to be the best approach to the problem by supporters of lifting price controls on gas, has been ignored by the House Energy Committee, which is attempting to support HR 9464. The House is yet to act on SB 2310.

The Energy Research Associates' position is stated in the following paragraph, Rosenthal said.

"The hope that every Congressman in Washington will receive a clear signal from the voters that the American people are ahead of the Congress.

"The public recognizes that the natural gas problem, and this area could end much of the winter shortage and allow more natural gas to be received, controls will only perpetuate and worsen the shortage.

"Those in Congress who continue to protect the public with price controls are only causing consumers to pay more and more for less and less natural gas.

"They are selling us down the river into Arab bondage, because high-priced OPEC (Oil Producing and Exporting Countries) fuel is the only place we have to turn if Congress continues to fail to permit Americans to buy American fuel. We are today sending more than $3 million per hour to OPEC, which is a major factor in inflation," the statement concludes.

Rosenthal said, "The days of cheap energy are gone. We must expect to pay more for fuel than we once did. We, in America, have six per cent of the world's population, but consume more than 30 per cent of the world's energy. Yet we pay only one-half to one-third of the cost paid in other countries for energy."

He said two studies on the effect of deregulating natural gas prices have been made. One estimates the price to a residential customer would increase $10 this year, another $8 in 1977 and another $5 in 1978, if the increased cost is distributed evenly between homeowners and industry.

Another study estimates the cost would increase only about $1.25 to $2.50 this year per residential customer.

An Illinois Power Co. spokesman here reviewed Rosenthal's figures and agreed that an increased supply of natural gas would have some effect in this area, but not as much as Rosenthal indicated.

The spokesman said nearly all industries here have adequate supplies of "alternate fuels" and have not laid off workers due to a natural gas shortage.

The gas service to many industries was interrupted twice last week, but all turned to alternate fuels.

The Illinois Power spokesman said he did not know if in the future gas supplies would have much effect, since the company's storage fields are being filled to capacity each summer, and the gas is used each winter. Only natural gas which could be transported here during the winter could aid the shortage, he said.

This area has been under a priority system for new natural gas service since 1970, when the natural gas supplier to Illinois Power Co., notified IP that it could no longer fulfill all of its contracts.

Persons wishing new natural gas service for new homes or other uses must enter their name on a waiting list, from which new services are approved only as IP determined its natural gas supply is adequate.

Rosenthal touched upon the use of alternate fuels in industry, noting they cost up to three times as much as natural gas, they produce more pollution, and they are less efficient than natural gas.

Industries agreeing to pay more for an adequate supply of natural gas still would save money, time and labor by avoiding the use of alternate fuels, he contended.

He also said increased winter shipments of natural gas into this area could end much of the winter shortage and allow more natural gas to be received, controls will only perpetuate and worsen the shortage.

He emphasized that discussion of the issue in Congress could begin as early as next week, and that persons having opinions on the issue should write their congressmen immediately.

Explorer president hired as new Pontoon Beach police dispatcher

James A. Laughlin, 19, president of Explorer Post 255, has been hired by the Pontoon Beach Village Board as a radio dispatcher. Post 255 is sponsored by the Pontoon Beach police department and specializes in the study of law enforcement.

Laughlin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry (Camilla) Laughlin, 5140 Lakeview Drive. A senior at Granite City High School North he plans to attend Belleville Area College and enter a law enforcement program.

Laughlin first was screened by the police committee after being approved by the village board in November. He started working officially last week.

He is a charter member of Explorer Post 255 which was organized in January 1975 and was elected the first treasurer of the post.

In June, Laughlin became the Post's second president and was re-elected to a second six-month term in December.

"I want to thank Exploring for all it has done for me. It has given me something to get involved in to help other people, and has helped lead me into a career I am most interested in, and that's law enforcement. I think Exploring is about the greatest thing going for kids of high school and college age," Laughlin said.

"I think this is a case of what Exploring is all about," Donald D. Patrick, adviser to Post 255 and counselor for the Pontoon Beach Coordinated Youth Services, said. "Exploring is supposed to get youths near a work field and help them in that work if the opportunity arises."

"The hiring of Laughlin is a great credit to the Explorer program in the Cahokia Mound Council. I want to thank the Village Board President Floyd David Moss, the police committee and Chief of Police Roswell Bennett Jr. for making this possible, Patrick said.

This is the second instance in which local police departments have hired Explorers to work for them.

In August 1974, the Madison police department hired Bill Weidner who is a past president of Explorer Post 10-4, sponsored by that department, as a radio dispatcher.

"The training these young men receive in leadership, good citizenship and general police work in police sponsored Explorer posts has proven not only an asset to various departments, but helps assure our citizens of first rate police service in the future," Chief of Police Frank Dutko said.

"Weidner has worked out exceptionally well for our department and I know Chief Bennett will be well pleased with real professionalism I am certain young Laughlin will demonstrate," he concluded.

HONORING DR. KING

As a tribute to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., all Bi-State Transit System bus drivers are keeping their bus headlights turned on all day today, the anniversary of the birthday of Dr. King.

Robert J. Baer, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, made the announcement Tuesday.

EXPLORER HIRED as police dispatcher at Pontoon Beach, James A. Laughlin, president of Explorer Post 255, seated at desk, is being trained by Mrs. Linda Wade, police dispatcher and associate adviser of Explorer Post 255, a law enforcement specialty post sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Police department.

SPRING BRIDE-ELECT. Miss Jody L. Warmack, whose engagement to James L. Warren is being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Six, 2904 Buxton Ave. A May 1 wedding is being planned.

Warren-Warmack betrothal told

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Jody L. Warmack and James L. Warren are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Six, 2904 Buxton Ave.

Miss Warmack was graduated Monday at Granite City High School South. She is employed at the AAA Credit

Service in Granite City. Her fiancé, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Warren, 2705 Marshall Ave., is a 1974 graduate of South High School. He is employed at Granite City Steel.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple and their families for a May 1 wedding.

Room for more in Parents Chapter

Granite City Chapter 470 of Parents Without Partners is looking for new faces.

"Are you single, divorced, widowed or separated? For those who don't know what PWP is," a chapter spokesman says, "it's an international non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children."

"It was started in 1958 and now has chapters in every state of the Union, in Canada and in Australia."

"In one sense, it is a halfway house—a place where people in similar circumstances can fit in. It is a comfortable environment in which to talk with people who are also struggling with lawyers, finances and general emotional debris."

"For instance, after a divorce, few of our married friends can understand what has happened to us, except for a few, some of whom have what appears to be a morbid interest. But in PWP you get genuine sharing of your sorrow and your mixed feelings."

"Instead of having friends who can't relate to you as a single, you have friends who are also in the single parent role. You realize that you're not alone."

"These friends help you to deal with your problems and help you to function in modern-day society in a more meaningful and acceptable way."

"The wholesome group discussions and informative and beneficial messages are invaluable to necessary adjustments in our daily lives. PWP also offers an opportunity to meet eligible men and women via the social activities, and it offers your children social activities with people to whom they can relate. It is an opportunity for parents and children to socialize in a meaningful and happy way," the spokesman summarized.

"In PWP, we pride ourselves on being caring, friendly, helping people. We like to see new people come to our door, and we like to make them feel welcome and to help them find a place in our organization and life in general."

"So, if you're lonely, sick of doing things by yourself, tired of the bar scene or just plain curious, give some thought to Parents Without Partners. Attend one of our meetings, held every fourth Wednesday at the Jaycee Hall, 1855 Poplar St., or call 877-0243."

"To join and participate is to know the difference between being a 'third wheel' and being an important part of the human scene."

Madison Seniors install

Mrs. Dorothy Bridick, president of the Madison Senior Citizen's Club, presided over a meeting held last week at the Madison Recreation Center. The pledge of allegiance was recited, led by Mrs. Grace Horman.

The following officers for the new year were seated: Mrs. Bridick, who remains as president; Mrs. Alice Price representing Mrs. Cora Barr, vice president; Mrs. Josephine Knezevich, secretary; and Mrs. Frances Baker, treasurer.

Clarence Green installed the new executives. Each retiring officer thanked the various committees for their assistance during the year. Mrs. Grace Horman served as secretary for the past five years and Mrs. Verma VanOver was treasurer for three-and-one-half years.

Frank Shifter, Green and Harry Hornberger will serve as trustees in 1976.

Mrs. Green reported on cards sent to members who have been hospitalized during the past year, as well as anniversary and sympathy cards. She said 96 get well cards were mailed to members and friends. Mrs. Green and her husband have agreed to continue sending cards for the club, it was announced.

The Senior Citizen Bell Ringers were discussed by Mrs. Dorothy Lionberger, who said many cards were received from different groups expressing appreciation for the Bell Ringers' appearances.

Mrs. Mildred Shifter, who is in charge of the Madison Senior Citizen's Kitchen Band, reported that you notes also were received from various organizations for which the band has performed in the past year. The last two appearances were at the Colonades Nursing Home and for the housekeeping department at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Devotions, entitled "Whither Bound," were presented by Mrs. Ethel Stone at a meeting of the Bethany Class of the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Mrs. Mary Lassens, 1822 Fourth St., Madison, entertained class members and Mrs. Mary Link offered the opening prayer.

President Mrs. Gerlie Ashford was in charge of the session. She announced cards had been sent to those who are ill and closed the meeting with prayer.

Also present were Mesdames Hilda Jackson, Lillian Stemmer, Bernice Whitten, Vasta Williams and a guest, Lucille Veach.

recognized by Mrs. Green. About 60 attended the business meeting, followed by a social hour. During the afternoon, several selections were played by the band in preparation of future concerts.
